Spiraling Webs of Relation Joanne DiNova, 2005-09-16 This work builds on indigenous theory as evident in the writing of Willie Ermine Gregory Cajete Craig Womack Jace Weaver Laurie Anne Whitt Linda Tuhiwai Smith Voila Cordova Dennis McPherson and others It works towards a criticism that in accordance with the precepts of such theory is community oriented It argues for an examination of literature in terms of its function for or against the community in the expansive sense of the term

Ethnic Positioning in Southwestern Mixed Heritage Writing Judit Ágnes Kádár, 2022-04-04 Ethnic Positioning in Southwestern Mixed Heritage Writing explores how Southwestern writers and visual artists provide an opportunity to turn a stigmatized identity into a self conscious holder of valuable assets cultural attitudes and memories The problem of mixed ethno cultural heritage is a relevant feature of North American populations faced by millions. Narratives on blended heritage show how mixed race authors utilize their multiple ethnic experiences, knowledge, archives, and sensibilities. They explore how individuals attempt to cope with the cognitive anxiety, stigmas, and perceptions that are intertwined in their blended ethnic heritage, family, and social dynamics, and the renegotiation of their ethnic identity. The Southwest is a region riddled by Eurocentric and Colonial concepts of identity yet at the same time highly treasured in the Frontier experiences of physical mobility and mental and spiritual journeys and transformations. Judith Kessler argues that the process of ethnic positioning is a choice made by mixed heritage people that results in renegotiated identities leading to more complex and engaging concepts of themselves.

Feminist Readings of Native American Literature Kathleen M. Donovan, 1998-02. Who in a society can speak and under what circumstances? These questions are at the heart of both Native American literature and feminist literary and cultural theory. Despite the recent explosion of publication in each of these fields, almost nothing has been written to date that explores the links between the two. With Feminist Readings of Native American Literature, Kathleen Donovan takes an important first step in examining how studies in these two fields inform and influence one another. Focusing on the works of N. Scott Momaday, Joy Harjo, Paula Gunn Allen, and others, Donovan analyzes the texts of these well-known writers, weaving a supporting web of feminist criticism throughout. With careful and gracefully offered insights, the book explores the reciprocally illuminating nature of culture and gender issues. The author demonstrates how Canadian women of mixed blood ancestry achieve a voice through autobiographies and autobiographical novels. Using a framework of feminist reader response theory, she considers an underlying misogyny in the writings of N. Scott Momaday. And in examining commonalities between specific cultures, she discusses how two women of color, Paula Gunn Allen and Toni Morrison, explore representations of femaleness in their respective cultures. By synthesizing a broad spectrum of critical writing that overlaps women's voices and Native American literature, Donovan expands on the frame of dialogue within feminist literary and cultural theory. Drawing on the related fields of ethnography, ethno-poetics, ecofeminism, and post-colonialism, Feminist Readings of Native American Literature offers the first systematic study of the intersection between two dynamic arenas in literary studies today.

The Strategic Poet Diane Lockward, 2021. The Strategic Poet: Honing the Craft focuses on the craft of poetry and is based on the belief that craft can be taught and the best teacher of craft is a good poem. This book assumes a knowledgeable reader that is one who already knows the language of poetry and already practices the craft. This book is organized into thirteen sections, each one devoted to a specific poetic strategy. While only thirteen strategies are used for organizational purposes, the reader will find many additional strategies referred to and discussed within the sections. There is a progression from one section to the next, but each section also stands alone so the reader or teacher can follow the order of the Contents or move about freely among the sections. Each section begins with a Craft Talk solicited from a well-known poet with a clear mastery of craft. Each Craft Talk is followed by Model Poems and Prompts. Each Model Poem is followed by an analysis of its craft elements, especially its use of the section's strategy One Model Poem in each section is followed by a Commentary from the poet who wrote the poem and is focused on a particular strategy used in the poem Each of the thirty six Prompts is followed by two Sample Poems written to the prompts These seventy two poems demonstrate that the prompts are not mere exercises and can produce terrific poems Each section ends with three Bonus Prompts There thirty nine additional prompts were contributed by thirteen contemporary poets These short prompts provide additional practice with the strategies can be used multiple times and should lead to some good poems Contributors include 114 of our best contemporary poets This book is suitable for use by poets working independently by poets in writing groups and by teachers in the classroom A practical grammar of the

Soul Talk, Song Language Joy Harjo,Tanaya Winder,Laura Coltelli,2013-09-24 Intimate and illuminating conversations with one of America's foremost Native artists Joy Harjo is a poet healer philosopher saxophonist and one of the most powerful Native American voices of her generation She has spent the past two decades exploring her place in poetry music dance performance and art Soul Talk Song Language gathers together in one complete collection many of these explorations and conversations Through an eclectic assortment of media including personal essays interviews and newspaper columns Harjo reflects upon the nuances and development of her art the importance of her origins and the arduous reconstructions of the tribal past as well as the dramatic confrontation between Native American and Anglo civilizations Harjo takes us on a journey into her identity as a woman and an artist poised between poetry and music encompassing tribal heritage and reassessments and comparisons with the American cultural patrimony She presents herself in an exquisitely literary context that is rooted in ritual and ceremony and veers over the edge where language becomes music Black Indian Shonda Buchanan,2019-08-26 A moving memoir exploring one family's legacy of African Americans with American Indian roots Finalist 2024 American Legacy Book Awards Autobiography Memoir Black Indian searing and raw is Amy Tan's The Joy Luck Club and Alice Walker's The Color Purple meets Leslie Marmon Silko's Ceremony only this isn't fiction Beautifully rendered and rippling with family dysfunction secrets deaths alcoholism and old resentments Shonda Buchanan's memoir is an inspiring story that explores her family's legacy of being African Americans with American Indian roots and how they dealt with not just society's ostracization but the consequences of this dual inheritance Buchanan was raised as a Black woman who grew up hearing cherished stories of her multi racial heritage while simultaneously suffering from everything she and the rest of her family didn't know Tracing the arduous migration of Mixed Bloods or Free People of Color from the Southeast to the Midwest Buchanan tells the story of her Michigan tribe a comedic yet manically depressed family of fierce women who were everything from caretakers and cornbread makers to poets and witches and men who were either ignored protected imprisoned or maimed and how their lives collided over love failure fights and prayer despite a stacked deck of challenges including addiction and abuse

Ultimately Buchanan's nomadic people endured a collective identity crisis after years of constantly straddling two then three races. The physical, spiritual, and emotional displacement of American Indians who met and married Mixed or Black slaves and indentured servants at America's early crossroads is where this powerful journey begins. Black Indian doesn't have answers nor does it aim to represent every American's multi-ethnic experience. Instead, it digs as far down into this one family's history as it can go, sometimes with a bit of discomfort. But every family has its own truth, and Buchanan's search for hers will resonate with anyone who has wondered maybe there's more than what I'm being told. Analele Universității București, 1995

The Routledge Companion to Native American Literature Deborah L. Madsen, 2015-10-05. The Routledge Companion to Native American Literature engages the multiple scenes of tension, historical, political, cultural, and aesthetic that constitutes a problematic legacy in terms of community, identity, ethnicity, gender, and sexuality, language, and sovereignty in the study of Native American literature. This important and timely addition to the field provides context for issues that enter into Native American literary texts through allusions, references, and language use. The volume presents over forty essays by leading and emerging international scholars and analyses regional, cultural, racial, and sexual identities in Native American literature, key historical moments from the earliest period of colonial contact to the present, worldviews in relation to issues such as health, spirituality, animals, and physical environments, traditions of cultural creation that are key to understanding the styles, allusions, and language of Native American Literature, the impact of differing literary forms of Native American literature. This collection provides a map of the critical issues central to the discipline as well as uncovering new perspectives and new directions for the development of the field. It supports academic study and also assists general readers who require a comprehensive yet manageable introduction to the contexts essential to approaching Native American Literature. It is essential reading for anyone interested in the past, present, and future of this literary culture.
