Regional Economic Issues--Special Report 25 Years of Transition Mr. James Roaf, Mr. Ruben Atoyan, Mr. Bikas Joshi, Mr. Krzysztof Krogulski, 2014-10-17 The past 25 years have seen a dramatic transformation in Europe's former communist countries resulting in their reintegration with the global economy and in most cases major improvements in living standards But the task of building full market economies has been difficult and protracted Liberalization of trade and prices came quickly but institutional reforms such as governance reform competition policy privatization and enterprise restructuring often faced opposition from vested interests The results of the first years of transition were uneven All countries suffered high inflation and major recessions as prices were freed and old economic linkages broke down But the scale of output losses and the time taken for growth to return and inflation to be brought under control varied widely Initial conditions and external factors played a role but policies were critical too Countries that undertook more front loaded and bold reforms were rewarded with faster recovery and income convergence Others were more vulnerable to the crises that swept the region in the wake of the 1997 Asia crisis The Balkans: Foreign Direct Investment and EU Accession Aristidis Bitzenis, 2016-03-23 The fall of communism and subsequent developments have put a renewed spotlight on the potential of the Balkan economies Bulgaria Albania Serbia Montenegro Romania and the Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia are countries which have attracted low levels of investment and poor political leadership in most of the countries has delayed much needed reforms However there are now signs of improvement and this timely book fills a significant gap in the available literature Demonstrating that these countries must engage as fully as possible with the world economy via EU accession this book explores the implications of the specific characteristics of these countries which have made the transition process more difficult This exciting new volume is valuable reading for students academics and business professionals interested in international development in the Balkans Handbook of Research on Challenges in Public Economics in the Era of Globalization Akkaya, Şahin, Ergüder, Başak, 2022-03-18 Over time public goods services and policies have been developed for the welfare of people all over the world and public finance in particular focuses on challenging issues that are significantly important for the common good of humanity It is a plausible argument that public economics should be focused on dealing with new challenging issues such as global health crises global warming and internet architecture The Handbook of Research on Challenges in Public Economics in the Era of Globalization evaluates a variety of new challenging issues that have directly affected the world economy in terms of the economic units institutions and social life Covering topics such as democratic decentralization economic instability and global health issues this major reference work is a valuable resource for economists international business leaders government officials sociologists libraries researchers academicians educators and students

Economic Opening Up and Growth in Russia Evgeny Gavrilentov,Paul J.J. Welfens,Ralf Wiegert,2013-03-19 After a decade of sharp economic decline Russia switched to an impressive period of economic growth Yet the economic record is still mixed and many key problems remain unresolved both in the economic sphere and the political system The focus is on economic dynamics in Russia reasons for its hesitant opening up process as well as the special role of the natural resources sector which is expected to continue to grow This analysis highlights the existing deficiencies of the Russian economic system and raises doubts about the sustainability of growth Twin focus is on required reforms and endogenous forces that impair liberalizing trade and investment in an orderly way Russian discussions on WTO and other international topics are reflected

International Trade and Restructuring in Eastern Europe János Gács,2013-11-11 János Gács and Georg Winekler In recognition of the key position of international trade in the transition and the need for concentrated discussions of topical trade issues the International Institute for Applied Systems Analysis IIASA organized an international conference on International Trade and Restructuring in Eastern Europe which took place in Laxenburg Austria on 19 and 21 November 1992 The Austrian National Bank joined IIASA to co sponsor the event Participants of the conference were experts of international economics and trade policy from East and West policy makers and representatives of international organizations like the IMF the Commission of the European Communities the OECD and the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development EBRD The papers prepared for the event and the lively discussions during the conference itself prove that the topics are intellectually challenging and timely for policy makers It has widely been recognized that international economic relations play a crucial role in the transition of countries of Central and Eastern Europe The scope speed and success of the efforts to transform the formerly centrally planned economies to market economies have increasingly become dependent on the pattern these countries have in their relation to the rest of the world Transition comprises three major processes macro stabilization marketization and restructuring The success of these three hinges to a large extent on the response of these economies to the new conditions set by international trade and exchange regimes

Challenges at the Bank for International Settlements Elmar B. Koch,2007-10-20 For a number of reasons I am pleased that Elmar has asked me to write a foreword to this volume which assembles together a number of pieces that he wrote over the course of the decade between 1997 and 2007 The first reason is that it gives me the opportunity to thank him for the work he has carried out so conscientiously and ably in his role as an economist working for the BIS I would however be remiss if I did not also thank him for his earlier efforts contributing in particular to the statistical output of the MED and also the broader contribution he made as president of the Sports Club from 2004 to 2007 A second reason for being pleased is that the research contained in this volume was drawn from the period when I was chief of the MED and very much involved in discussions of the portant issues to which these papers are directed Time goes fast when one is busy and it is all too easy to forget what was yesterday s central ques on This volume constitutes a kind of reintroduction to old friends and that is always a pleasure The papers in this volume are grouped into four time periods during each of which Elmar had been given different responsibilities The in resting point is that taken together they imply an interest in essentially all the important topics of interest to the BIS

Belarus International Monetary Fund,2000-01-04 In pursuing their economic policy the authorities have taken advantage of the existence of excess industrial capacity and have relied on price and exchange controls in an attempt to contain inflation pressures In spite of strong financial support agriculture performed poorly during 1998 as a result of inclement weather conditions lack of financial incentives to producers and aging harvesting equipment Industrial production expanded at an annual rate of 10 percent and investment at a rate of 51.2 percent
