Madison Avenue In Asia Politics Transnational Advertising:

Madison Avenue in Asia Michael H. Anderson, 1984 Dependency theory is used to analyze the significance of the rapidly expanding transnational advertising agencies as they operate in Singapore China Indonesia and Malaysia The American hegemony over international advertising is discussed as is the general question of the effectiveness of foreign influenced advertising

The Transnational Media Corporation Richard A. Gershon, 2013-10-18 The combination of international privatization trends coupled with advancements in computer and communication technology have transformed the conduct of international business The result has been a consolidation of players in all aspects of business including banking aviation insurance and mass media This book discusses one such player the Transnational Media Corporation TNMC Long remembered as a time of rapid growth and expansion for international business the decades of the 80s and 90s were a period characterized by major mergers and acquisitions Good examples of this include Time Inc s 1989 merger with Warner Communication for 11 2 billion and Walt Disney s 1996 purchase of Cap Cities ABC for 19 5 billion According to the late Steven Ross former co chief executive officer of Time Warner In order to succeed in business today you must be in all the major markets of the world TNMCs have indeed become salient features of today s global economic landscape This volume asks the most basic of questions What makes a global corporation global And to what extent do TNMCs affect the marketplace of ideas This book then is intended for the business professional or student who is interested in understanding the business and operations of transnational media Part I examines the regulatory and economic reasons prompting the formation of a TNMC It seeks to explain why such companies engage in direct foreign investment and further considers how transnational operations affect the development of new media products in terms of cost quality and availability The TNMC is unique among global corporations given the fact that its primary business is the creation of information and entertainment products This book also examines the highly complex relationship between TNMCs and the host nations in which they operate It further considers such specific issues as cultural trespass transborder data flow and the effects of transnational media on the marketplace of ideas Part II of this volume provides a series of case study analyses of five leading TNMCs including Time Warner Inc Sony Inc Bertelsmann AG the Walt Disney Company and News Corporation Ltd Specific attention is given to the history business philosophy and economic performance of each of these companies

Chinese Cigarette Manufacturing in Critical Historical Perspectives Matthew Kohrman, Gan Quan, Liu Wennan, Robert N. Proctor, 2018-04-24 Please note that this is a Chinese language edition A favorite icon for cigarette manufacturers across China since the mid twentieth century has been the panda with factories from Shanghai to Sichuan using cuddly cliché to market tobacco products The proliferation of panda branded cigarettes coincides with profound yet poorly appreciated shifts in the worldwide tobacco trade Over the last fifty years transnational tobacco companies and their allies have fueled a tripling of the world's annual consumption of cigarettes At the forefront is the China National Tobacco Corporation now producing forty percent of cigarettes sold globally What's enabled the manufacturing of cigarettes in China to flourish since the time of Mao and to prosper even amidst public health condemnation of smoking In this book an interdisciplinary group of scholars comes together to tell that story They offer novel portraits of people within the Chinese polity government leaders scientists tax officials artists museum curators and soldiers who have experimentally revamped the country's pre Communist cigarette supply chain and fitfully expanded its political economic and cultural influence These portraits cut against the grain of what contemporary tobacco control experts typically study opening a vital new window on tobacco the single largest cause of preventable death worldwide today

The Press in New Order Indonesia David T. Hill, 2006-12 The Press in New Order Indonesia is the most comprehensive book available in English on the print media during the Suharto presidency Based on detailed and investigative research it provides a succinct introduction to the political and economic forces shaping this dominant sector of the Indonesian media at a pivotal time in its development The study documents the history of the press prior to the rise of President Suharto surveys the changing New Order policies to the media and analyses the various modes of control exercised through powerful government agencies and industry bodies Throughout this critical historical period of political tension and economic transition The Press in New Order Indonesia traces the development of huge media conglomerates which began to rival military muscle in shaping the media landscape of Indonesia This study explains how the student press spilled off the campuses to play a unique political role By contrast a distinctly Islamic press achieved only very modest success Focusing on Indonesian language national daily newspapers it also discusses news weeklies periodicals and magazines as well as publications in regional languages English and Chinese Brought back to life in Equinox Publishing's Classic Indonesia series The Press in New Order Indonesia is required reading for students of Indonesian languages and cultures Asian studies Southeast Asian studies media studies journalism and contemporary politics David T Hill is Professor of Southeast Asian Studies and Fellow of the Asia Research Centre Murdoch University Perth Western Australia

Persuasive Signs Ron Beasley, Marcel Danesi, 2010-12-14 Using both verbal and nonverbal techniques to make its messages as persuasive as possible advertising has become an integral component of modern day social discourse designed to influence attitudes and lifestyle behaviors by covertly suggesting how we can best satisfy our innermost urges and aspirations through consumption This book looks at the categories of this form of discourse from the standpoint of semiotic analysis It deals with the signifying processes that underlie advertising messages in print electronic and digital form

Cross-Cultural Consumption David Howes, 2002-11-01 Goods are imbued with meanings and uses by their producers When they are exported they can act as a means of communication or domination However there is no guarantee that the intentions of the producer will be recognized much less respected by the consumer from another culture Cross Cultural Consumption is a fascinating guide to the cultural implications of the globalization of a consumer society The chapters address topics ranging from the clothing of colonial subjects in South Africa and the rise of the hypermarket in Argentina to the presentation of culture in international tourist hotels Through their examination of cultural imperialism and cultural appropriation of the representation of otherness and identity Howes and his contributors show how the increasingly global flow of goods and images challenges the very idea of the cultural border and creates new spaces for cultural invention Marian Bredin Concordia University Constance Classen Jean Comaroff University of Chicago Mary Crain University of Barcelona Carol Handrickson Marlboro Colleg

Marketing Modernity Adam Arvidsson, 2003-12-08 In Marketing Modernity Adam Arvidsson traces the development of Italy's postmodern consumer culture from the 1920s to the present day In so doing Arvidsson argues that the culture of consumption we see in Italy today has its direct roots in the social vision articulated by the advertising industry in the years following the First World War He then goes on to discuss how that vision was further elaborated by advertising's interaction with subsequent big discourses in

Twentieth Century Italy fascism post war mass political parties and the counter culture of the 1960s and 1970s Based on a wide range of primary sources this fascinating book takes an innovative historical approach to the study of consumption

Owners of the Map Claudio Sopranzetti, 2018 On May 19 2010 the Royal Thai Army deployed tanks snipers and war weapons to disperse the thousands of Red Shirts protesters who had taken over the commercial center of Bangkok to demand democratic elections and an end to inequality Key to this mobilization were motorcycle taxi drivers who slowed down filtered and severed mobility in the area claiming a prominent role in national politics and ownership over the city and challenging state hegemony Four years later on May 20 2014 the same army general who directed the dispersal staged a military coup unopposed by protesters How could state power have been so fragile and open to challenge in 2010 and yet so seemingly sturdy only four years later How could protesters who had once fearlessly resisted military attacks now remain silent Owners of the Map provides answers to these questions central to contemporary political mobilizations around the globe through an ethnographic study of motorcycle taxi drivers in Bangkok Claudio Sopranzetti explores the unresolved tensions in the drivers everyday lives their migration trajectories consumer desires and political demands amidst the restructuring of Thai capitalism after the 1997 economic crisis Reconstructing the entanglements between their everyday mobility and political mobilization Sopranzetti reveals mobility not just as a strength of contemporary capitalism but also as one of its fragile spots always prone to disruption by the people who sustain its channels but remain excluded from their benefits In so doing Owners of the Map advances an analysis of power that focuses not on the sturdiness of hegemony or the ubiquity of everyday resistance but on its potential fragility as well as the work needed for its maintenance

Communication And The Transformation Of Economics Robert E Babe, 2018-10-08 This book proposes that infusing mainline economics with more expansive and realistic conceptions of information communication transforms static neoclassicism into evolutionary political economy It results in modes of analysis that when applied through policy can lead to a sustainable future

The Changing Landscape of China's

Consumerism Alison Hulme, 2014-07-02 Consumerism in China has developed rapidly The Changing Landscape of China's Consumerism looks at the growth of consumerism in China from both a socio economic and a political cultural angle It examines changing trends in consumption in China as well as the impact of these trends on society and the politics and culture surrounding them It examines the ways in which despite needing to unlock the spending power of the rural provinces the Chinese authorities are also keen to maintain certain attitudes towards the Communist Party and socialism with Chinese Characteristics Overall it aims to show that consumerism in China today is both an economic and political phenomenon and one which requires both surrounding political culture and economic trends for its continued establishment The ways in which this dual relationship both supports and battles with itself are explored through apposite case studies including the use of New Confucianism in the market context the commodification of Lei Feng the new Chinese tourist as a diplomatic tool in consumption the popularity of Shanzhai fake product culture and the conspicuous consumption of China's new middle class Provides innovative interdisciplinary research useful to cultural studies sociology Chinese studies and politics Examines changes in consumerism from multiple perspectives Allows both micro and macro insights into consumerism in China by providing specific case studies while placing these within the context of geo politics and grand theory Service

Industries and Asia Pacific Cities Peter W. Daniels, Kong Chong Ho, Thomas A. Hutton, Tom Hutton, 2005-04 During the second half of the twentieth century development in the Asia Pacific region has been dominated by industrialization However at the beginning of the twenty first century services in particular finance information and creative services have become deeply embedded in the processes of urban growth In Asia Pacific the rise of service industries has led to national modernization programmes and globalization strategies Services are also driving change in the internal form of city regions and are being actively deployed as instruments of metropolitan reconfiguration and land use changes These changes have created problems such as social polarization and the displacement of traditional industries and residential districts Also there are tensions between local and global processes in the development of service industries and between the imperatives of competitive advantage and sustainable development Service Industries and Asia Pacific Cities brings together a multi disciplinary team of experts to explore and illustrate the theoretical conceptual and practical issues arising from the transformation of Asia Pacific cities by service industries Media Asia, 1996
