The Madonna in Art Estelle M. Hurll, 2018-07-30 The Madonna in Art Estelle M Hurll Estelle May Hurll a student of aesthetics wrote a series of popular aesthetic analyses of art in the early twentieth century Hurll was born 25 July 1863 in New Bedford Massachusetts daughter of Charles W and Sarah Hurll We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades and therefore have not been accessible to the general public The aim of our publishing program is to facilitate rapid access to this vast reservoir of literature and our view is that this is a significant literary work which deserves to be brought back into print after many decades The contents of the vast majority of titles in the Classic Library have been scanned from the original works To ensure a high quality product each title has been meticulously hand curated by our staff Our philosophy has been guided by a desire to provide the reader with a book that is as close as possible to ownership of the original work We hope that you will enjoy this wonderful classic work and that for you it becomes an enriching experience The Madonna in Art

Estelle May Hurll, 1898 The Madonna in Art Estelle M. (Estelle May) Hurll, 2012-08-01 Unlike some other reproductions of classic texts 1 We have not used OCR Optical Character Recognition as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos 2 In books where there are images such as portraits maps sketches etc We have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images so they represent accurately the original artefact Although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy MADONNA IN ART., 1957

The Madonna in Art Estelle Hurl, 2014-09-16 It is now about fifteen centuries since the Madonna with her Babe was first introduced into art and it is safe to say that throughout all this time the subject has been unrivalled in popularity It requires no very profound philosophy to discover the reason for this The Madonna is the universal type of motherhood a subject which in its very nature appeals to all classes and conditions of people No one is too ignorant to understand it and none too wise to be superior to its charm The little child appreciates it as readily as the old man and both alike are drawn to it by an irresistible attraction Thus century after century the artist has poured out his soul in this all prevailing theme of mother love until we have an accumulation of Madonna pictures so great that no one would dare to estimate their number It would seem that every conceivable type was long since exhausted but the end is not yet So long as we have mothers art will continue to produce Madonnas
