Magic Religion:

Religion, Science, and Magic Jacob Neusner, Ernest S. Frerichs, Paul Virgil McCracken Flesher, 1989 Every culture makes the distinction between true religion and magic regarding one action and its result as miraculous while rejecting another as the work of the devil Surveying such topics as Babylonian witchcraft Jesus the magician magic in Hasidism and Kabbalah and magic in Anglo Saxon England these ten essays provide a rigorous examination of the history of this distinction in Christianity and Judaism Written by such distinguished scholars as Jacob Neusner Hans Penner Howard Kee Tzvi Abusch Susan R Garrett and Moshe Idel the essays explore a broad range of topics including how certain social groups sort out approved practices and beliefs from those that are disapproved providing fresh insight into how groups define themselves magic as an insider's term for the outsider's religion and the tendency of religious traditions to exclude the magical In addition the collection provides illuminating social cultural and anthropological explanations for the prominence of the magical in certain periods and literatures

Making Magic Randall Styers, 2004 Randall Styers seeks to account for the vitality of scholarly discourse purporting to define and explain magic despite its failure to do just that He argues that it can best be explained in light of the European and Euro American drive to establish and secure their own identity as normative

Magika Hiera Christopher A. Faraone, Dirk Obbink, 1997 This collection challenges the tendency among scholars of ancient Greece to see magical and religious ritual as mutually exclusive and to ignore magical practices in Greek religion The contributors survey specific bodies of archaeological epigraphical and papyrological evidence for magical practices in the Greek world and in each case determine whether the traditional dichotomy between magic and religion helps in any way to conceptualize the objective features of the evidence examined Contributors include Christopher A Faraone J H M Strubbe H S Versnel Roy Kotansky John Scarborough Samuel Eitrem Fritz Graf John J Winkler Hans Dieter Betz and C R Phillips

Dubuisson,2016-04-08 In the history of Western culture theology and science a strict dichotomy exists between religion and magic religion as the intellectually and morally superior one magic as the primitive superstitious demonic other The present work aims to break with this tradition and traces the origin of this dichotomy as well as its many purposes Whose powers does it serve Which interests and ideological stakes does it conceal Moreover the author proposes a new epistemological framework for the study of magisms as well as their rehumanisation and argues for a rehabilitation of their studies Magic

Talmon-Kaminski,2014-10-20 Religion as Magical Ideology examines the relationship between rationality and supernatural beliefs arguing that such beliefs are products of evolution cognition and culture The book does not offer a false rapprochement between reason and religion instead it explores their interrelationship as a series of complex adaptations between cognitive and cultural processes Exploring the nature of the tension between religious traditions and reason Religion as Magical Ideology develops a dual inheritance theory of religion which combines the cognitive byproduct and prosocial adaptation accounts and analyses the connection between the function of a belief and the degree of protection it gets from potential counter evidence With discussion ranging from individual cognitive mechanisms general functional considerations to the limits of evolutionary and cognitive processes the book offers readers a systematic account of how cognition shapes religious beliefs and practices Religion, Science, and Magic : In Concert and in Conflict Jacob Neusner Professor of Religion University of South Florida, Ernest S. Frerichs Director Brown University Program in Judaic Studies, Paul Virgil McCracken Flesher Assistant Professor of the History and Literature of Religion Northwestern University, 1989-06-01 Every culture makes the distinction between true religion and magic regarding one action and its result as miraculous while rejecting another as the work of the devil Surveying such topics as Babylonian witchcraft Jesus the magician magic in Hasidism and Kabbalah and magic in Anglo Saxon England these ten essays provide a rigorous examination of the history of this distinction in Christianity and Judaism Written by such distinguished scholars as Jacob Neusner Hans Penner Howard Kee Tzvi Abusch Susan R Garrett and Moshe Idel the essays explore a broad range of topics including how certain social groups sort out approved practices and beliefs from those that are disapproved providing fresh insight into how groups define themselves magic as an insider's term for the outsider's religion and the tendency of religious traditions to exclude the magical In addition the collection provides illuminating social cultural and anthropological explanations for the prominence of the magical in certain periods and literature Ritual Catherine Bell, 2009-12-29 From handshakes and toasts to chant and genuflection ritual pervades our social interactions and religious practices Still few of us could identify all of our daily and festal ritual behaviors much less explain them to an outsider Similarly because of the variety of activities that qualify as ritual and their many contradictory yet in many ways equally legitimate interpretations ritual seems to elude any systematic historical and comparative scrutiny In this book Catherine Bell offers a practical introduction to ritual practice and its study she surveys the most influential theories of religion and ritual the major categories of ritual activity and the key debates that have shaped our understanding of ritualism Bell refuses to nail down ritual with any one definition or understanding Instead her purpose is to reveal how definitions emerge and evolve and to help us become more familiar with the interplay of tradition exigency and self expression that goes into constructing this complex social medium New Age Religion and Western Culture Wouter J. Hanegraaff, 1998-01-01 Presents the first systematic analysis of the structure and beliefs of the New Age movement and the historical emergence of New Age as a secularized version of Western esoteric traditions Witchcraft and Magic in Europe, Volume 3 Karen Louise Jolly, Edward Peters, Catharina Raudvere, 2002-03-12 Covers the rise of white magic Christian persecution of sorcery Magic, Witchcraft, and Religion: A

Alfred Loisy and the Making of History of Religions Annelies Lannoy, 2020-08-10 This monograph studies the professionalization of History of religions as an academic discipline in late 19th and early 20th century France and Europe Its common thread is the work of the French Modernist priest and later Professor of History of religions at the Collège de France Alfred Loisy 1857 1940 who participated in many of the most topical debates among French and international historians of religions Unlike his well studied Modernist theology Loisy's writings on comparative religion and his rich interactions with famous scholars like F Cumont M Mauss or J G Frazer remain largely unknown This monograph is the first to paint a comprehensive picture of his career as a historian of religions before and after his excommunication in 1908 Through a contextual analysis of publications by Loisy and contemporaries and a large corpus of private correspondence it illuminates the scientification of the discipline between 1890 1920 and its deep entanglement with religion politics and society Particular attention is also given to the role of national and transnational scholarly networks and the way they controlled the theoretical and institutional frameworks for studying the history of religions

Naturalism and Protectionism in the Study of Religions Juraj Franek,2020-02-06 How should we study religion Must we be religious ourselves to truly understand it Do we study religion to advance our knowledge or should the study of religions help to reintroduce the sacred into our increasingly secularized world Juraj Franek argues that the study of religion has long been split into two competing paradigms reductive naturalist and non reductive protectionist While the naturalistic approach seems to run the risk of explaining religious phenomena away the protectionist approach appears to risk falling short of the methodological standards of modern science Franek uses primary source material from Greek and Latin sources to show that both competing paradigms are traceable to Presocratic philosophy and early Christian literature He presents the idea that naturalists are distant heirs not only of the French Enlightenment but also of the Ionian one Likewise he argues that protectionists owe much of their arguments and strategies not only to Luther and the Reformation but to the earliest Christian literature This book analyses the conflict between reductive and non reductive approach in the modern study of religions and positions the Cognitive Science of Religion against a background of previous theories ancient and modern to demonstrate its importance for the revindication of the naturalist paradigm
