Disguising Disease in Italian Political and Visual Culture Sharon Hecker, Arianna Arisi Rota, 2024-08-30 Although considered an isolated event the Italian government's initial resistant response to COVID 19 has deep historical roots This is the first interdisciplinary book to critically examine the ongoing phenomenon of disguising contagious disease in Italy from Unification to the present The book explores how governments public opinion social entities and cultural production have avoided or sublimated contagion during cholera typhoid syphilis malaria HIV and COVID 19 to impose narratives of the nation's healthy body in Italy and its colonies Examples range from a tuberculosis sanatorium in Capri that masked as a luxury hotel and hideaway for queer couples to an obscure but talented professor who found a new cure for syphilis from denial of disease in governmental actions to sublimated representations in Italian art literature and films such as Luchino Visconti's cinematic adaptation of Thomas Mann's Death in Venice to a sociological study of the need to include fragile figures based on the lessons of COVID 19 Intended for scholars students and general readers interested in the history of medicine political and cultural history and Italian studies this volume shows how contagious diseases clash with the official narrative of emerging modernized urban settings and challenge the desire for political and economic stability

Beholding Violence in Medieval and Early Modern Europe Allie Terry-Fritsch, 2017-07-05 Interested in the ways in which medieval and early modern communities have acted as participants observers and interpreters of events and how they ascribed meaning to them the essays in this interdisciplinary collection explore the concept of beholding and the experiences of individual and collective beholders of violence during the period Addressing a range of medieval and early modern art forms including visual images material objects literary texts and performances the contributors examine the complexities of viewing and the production of knowledge within cultural political and theological contexts In considering new methods to examine the process of beholding violence and the beholder's perspective this volume addresses such questions as How does the process of beholding function in different aesthetic conditions Can we speak of such a thing as the period eye or an acculturated gaze of the viewer If so does this particularize the gaze or does it risk universalizing perception How do violence and pleasure intersect within the visual and literary arts How can an understanding of violence in cultural representation serve as means of knowing the past and as means of understanding and potentially altering the present Music, Liturgy, and Confraternity Devotions in Paris and Tournai, 1300-1550 Sarah Ann Long, 2021 The first study focusing on the composition of new plainchant in northern French confraternities for masses and offices in honor of saints thought to have healing powers The Body in Early Modern Italy Julia L. Hairston, Walter Stephens, 2010-04 Human bodies have been represented and defined in various ways across different cultures and historical periods As an object of interpretation and site of social interaction the body has throughout history attracted more attention than perhaps any other element of human experience The essays in this volume explore the manifestations of the body in Italian society from the fourteenth through the seventeenth centuries Adopting a variety of interdisciplinary approaches these fresh and thought provoking essays offer original perspectives on corporeality as understood in the early modern literature art architecture science and politics of Italy An impressively diverse group of contributors comment on a broad range and variety of conceptualizations of the body creating a rich dialogue among scholars of early modern Italy Contributors Albert R Ascoli University of California Berkeley Douglas Biow The University of Texas at Austin Margaret Brose University of California Santa Cruz Anthony Colantuono University of Maryland College Park Elizabeth Horodowich New Mexico State University Sergius Koderka New Design University St P lten Austria Jeanette Kohl University of California Riverside D Medina Lasansky Cornell University Luca Marcozzi Roma Tre University Ronald L Martinez Brown University Katharine Park Harvard University Sandra Schmidt Free University of Berlin Bette Talvacchia University of Connecticut The Altars of Republican Rome and Latium Claudia Moser, 2019-01-17 This book reorients the study of sacrifice examining the locus of ritual action the altars of Republican Rome and Latium Anna Zieglerin and the Lion's Blood Tara Nummedal, 2019-04-19 In 1573 the alchemist Anna Zieglerin gave her patron the Duke of Braunschweig Wolfenb ttel the recipe for an extraordinary substance she called the lion s blood She claimed that this golden oil could stimulate the growth of plants create gemstones transform lead into the coveted philosophers stone and would serve a critical role in preparing for the Last Days Boldly envisioning herself as a Protestant Virgin Mary Anna proposed that the lion s blood paired with her own body could even generate life repopulating and redeeming the corrupt world in its final moments In Anna Zieglerin and the Lion s Blood Tara Nummedal reconstructs the extraordinary career and historical afterlife of alchemist courtier and prophet Anna Zieglerin She situates Anna s story within the wider frameworks of Reformation Germany s religious political and military battles the rising influence of alchemy the role of apocalyptic eschatology and the position of women within these contexts Together with her husband the jester Heinrich Schombach and their companion and fellow alchemist Philipp Sommering Anna promised her patrons at the court of Wolfenb ttel spiritual

Death, Disease and Mystical Experience in Early Modern Art

Michael Hill, Jennifer Milam, 2025-10-01 Fear of death and disease preoccupied the European consciousness throughout the early modern era becoming most acute at times of plague and epidemics In these times of heightened anxieties images of saints and protectors served to reassure the faithful of their religious protection against infection Modes of visual engagement and devotional subject matter were coupled in new ways to reinforce the emotive impact of art works and to reaffirm the perceived reality of the afterlife In this context a visual language of mystical devotion which overcame the limits of the body and even eroticised its suffering could serve the needs of the desolate and the pained In this series of essays focused on spiritual sensibilities in Renaissance art and its legacies authors present original ideas about the themes of death disease and mystical experience based primarily on the study of objects and their documented historical contexts Methodologically wide ranging in approach the resulting volume provides novel insights into the interplay between suffering and art making in the Western world
