are distinguished for the depth of coverage and the types of data considered Nostalgia in Anglophone Arab Literature Tasnim Qutait, 2021-04-22 This book offers an in depth engagement with the growing body of Anglophone Arab fiction in the context of theoretical debates around memory and identity Against the critical tendency to dismiss nostalgia as a sentimental trope of immigrant narratives Qutait sheds light on the creative uses to which it is put in the works of Rabi Alameddine Ahdaf Soueif Hisham Matar Leila Aboulela Randa Jarrar Rawi Hage and others Arguing for the necessity of theorising cultural memory beyond Eurocentric frameworks the book demonstrates how Arab novelists writing in English draw on nostalgia as a touchstone of Arabic literary tradition from pre Islamic poetry to the present Qutait situates Anglophone Arab fiction within contentious debates about the place of the past in the Arab world tracing how writers have deployed nostalgia as an aesthetic strategy to deal with subject matter ranging from the Islamic golden age the era of anti colonial struggle the failures of the postcolonial state and of pan Arabism and the perennial issue of the diaspora's relationship to the homeland Making a contribution to the transnational turn in memory studies while focusing on a region underrepresented in this field this book will be of interest for researchers interested in cultural memory postcolonial studies and the literatures of the Middle East Arab and Arab American Feminisms Rabab Abdulhadi, Evelyn Alsultany, Nadine Naber, 2011-04-05 In this collection Arab and Arab American feminists enlist their intimate experiences to challenge simplistic and long held assumptions about gender sexuality and commitments to feminism and justice centered struggles among Arab communities Contributors hail from multiple geographical sites spiritualities occupations sexualities class backgrounds and generations Poets creative writers artists scholars and activists employ a mix of genres to express feminist issues and highlight how Arab and Arab American feminist perspectives simultaneously inhabit multiple overlapping and intersecting spaces within families and communities in anticolonial and antiracist struggles in debates over spirituality and the divine within radical feminist and queer spaces in academia and on the street and among each other Contributors explore themes as diverse as the intersections between gender sexuality Orientalism racism Islamophobia and Zionism and the restoration of Arab Jews to Arab American histories This book asks how members of diasporic communities navigate their sense of belonging when the country in which they live wages wars in the lands of their ancestors Arab and Arab American Feminisms opens up new possibilities for placing grounded Arab and Arab American feminist perspectives at the center of gender studies Middle East studies American studies and ethnic studies Word Order, Agreement and Pronominalization in Standard and Palestinian Arabic Mohammad A. Mohammad, 2000-04-15 The two related issues of word order and subject verb agreement have occupied center stage in the study of Arabic syntax since the time of Sibawayhi in the eighth century This book is a contribution to both of these areas It is grounded within the generative grammar framework in one of its most recent versions namely Minimalism as expounded in Chomsky 1995 In this volume a detailed description is given of word order options in Modern Standard Arabic MSA and Palestinian Arabic PA It is shown that perhaps surprisingly the two varieties allow almost the same range of word orders The important question of whether Arabic has a VP is addressed the author argues extensively that Arabic has a VP category The evidence derives from examining superiority effects ECP effects binding variable interpretations etc Also discussed is the content of Spec TP in VSO sentences It is argued that the position is occupied by an expletive pronoun The author defends the Expletive Hypothesis which states that in VSO sentences the expletive may take part in checking some features of the verb A typology of the expletive pronoun in Modern Standard Arabic Palestinian Arabic Lebanese Arabic and Moroccan Arabic is provided A particularly interesting problem involving pronominal co reference is the following if the subject is the antecedent of a pronominal clitic word order is free if a pronominal is cliticized onto the subject then the antecedent must precede An account that derives these restrictions without recourse to linear order is proposed
