Mondrian and Neo-plasticism in America Nancy J. Troy, Piet Mondrian, Yale University. Art Gallery, 1979-01-01
Between Mondrian and Minimalism, 1991 Beyond Neo-plasticism Emily A. Schuchardt, 2007 Between Mondrian and Minimalism, 1991 Mondrian Piet Mondrian, Yve-Alain Bois, National Gallery of Art (U.S.), 1995 An emphasis on Mondrian's pictorial development also involves an emphasis on his working process While this volume stresses the modernity of Mondrian's work it demonstrates especially in its presentation of his unfinished works that Mondrian's abstract art was far from mathematical either in its origins or in its expression rather it was the product of a highly intuitive mind and hand gradually working toward carefully modulated but far from measurable compositional solutions In the present volume the texture and autograph surface of each work are taken into account and Mondrian's original framing decisions have been recorded and reproduced often for the first time Mondrian and Neo-plasticism in America Piet Mondrian, Yale University (New Haven, Conn.). Art Gallery, 1979 Mondrian and Neo-Plasticism in America Nancy J. Troy, 1979 Frederick Kiesler: Face to Face with the Avant-Garde Peter Bogner, Gerd Zillner, Frederick Kiesler Foundation, 2019-07-08 Network of superlatives Frederick Kiesler was a committed networker and communicated regularly with the who's who of the avant garde He was an important intermediary between the visionary ideas of the European Moderne movement and the up and coming New York art scene About 20 contributions portray his colorful life and his multifaceted oeuvre in various contexts and place Kiesler in a dialog with the most important artists and architects of his time The publication on the occasion of the 20 year anniversary of the Friedrich Kiesler Foundation deals with his relationship with the Bauhaus surrealism and the New York School as well as with personalities such as Richard Buckminster Fuller Marcel Duchamp Arshile Gorky Theo van Doesburg Piet Mondrian Hans Arp Sigfried Giedion and others An interwoven analysis of his life and work Contributions on individual and case studies Kiesler and Bauhaus Mondrian Buckminster Fuller Duchamp and many others The Culture and Art of Death in 19th Century America D. Tulla Lightfoot, 2019-03-11 Nineteenth century Victorian era mourning rituals long and elaborate public funerals the wearing of lavishly somber mourning clothes and families posing for portraits with deceased loved ones are often depicted as bizarre or scary But behind many such customs were rational or spiritual meanings This book offers an in depth explanation at how death affected American society and the creative ways in which people responded to it The author discusses such topics as mediums as performance artists and postmortem painters and photographers and draws a connection between death and the emergence of three dimensional media Noise Orders David Brown, 2006 In this lively book David Brown locates jazz music within the broad aesthetic political and theoretical upheavals of our time asserting that modern architecture and urbanism in particular can be strongly influenced and defined by the ways that improvisation is facilitated in jazz Improvised music consists of diverse properties that fail to register in the object oriented understanding of composition As a result it is often dismissed as noise an interfering signal However Brown

asserts such interference can bear meaning and stimulate change Noise Orders identifies how architecture can respond to the inclusive dynamics of extemporaneous movements variable conceptions of composition multiple durations and wide manipulation of resources found in jazz to enable outcomes that far exceed a design's seeming potential By exploring overlapping moments between modernism and the cultural dimensions of jazz Noise Orders suggests that the discipline of improvisation continues to open and redefine architectural theory and practice creating a world where designers contribute to emerging environments rather than make predetermined ones Comparing modern and avant garde artists and architects with individuals and groups in jazz including Piet Mondrian and boogie woogie John Cage and Rahsaan Roland Kirk Le Corbusier and Louis Armstrong and Ludwig Mies van der Rohe and the Association for the Advancement of Creative Musicians AACM Brown examines how jazz can offer alternative design ideas and directions be incorporated in contemporary architectural practices and provide insight on how to develop dynamic metropolitan environments Interdisciplinary in its approach innovative in its methodology and unexpected in its conclusions Noise Orders argues for a deeper understanding of the infinite potential inherent in both music and architecture David P Brown is associate professor of architecture at the University of Illinois at Chicago Painting as Model Yve-Alain Bois,1993-05-04 Informed by both structuralism and poststructuralism these essays by art critic and historian Yve Alain Bois seek to redefine the status of theory in modernist critical discourse Warning against the uncritical adoption of theoretical fashions and equally against the a priori rejection of all theory Bois argues that theory is best employed in response to the specific demands of a critical problem The essays lucidly demonstrate the uses of various theoretical approaches in conjunction with close reading of both paintings and texts
