Islamic Banking in Pakistan Feisal Khan, 2015-12-22 Islamic Banking and Finance IBF has become a growing force over the past three decades with Pakistan being one of the IBF pioneers by converting to an interest free banking system in 1985. However since independence in 1947 there has been continual tension over Pakistan's essential character between Islamic Minimalists who favour a Modernist interpretation of Islam and those who favour an Islamic Maximalist interpretation that sees Pakistan as a model Islamic state. This book analyses the push to Islamize Pakistan and its financial system by Islamic revivalists following the early 1947 debates in the original Constituent Assembly to the final 2002 ruling on IBF of the Shariat Appellate Bench of the Pakistan Supreme Court. It examines the practice and theory behind contemporary Islamic Shariah compliant banking. It offers extensive interviews with Pakistani Islamic bankers on the state of their industry and how they see it developing and provides analysis on how the Islamic banks customers differ from those of conventional ones. Presenting a critical analysis of

Pakistan's IBF experience and offering a new insight into Pakistan's banking industry that illustrates broader political and social trends in the country this book will be of interest to specialists on Islam South Asia and International Economics

Money and Banking in Islam Ziauddin Ahmed, Munawar Iqbal, M. Fahim Khan, 1983 Risk and the Rupee in Pakistan's New Economy Antonia Settle, 2020-10-29 In a world of open markets and global trade development thinking seeks stability and prosperity for the world's poor by expanding access to financial products This book challenges the development sector's embrace of financial inclusion by exploring how the new risks and instabilities that accompany the pivot towards the global economy undermining the functioning of money itself Cast against fundamental change in the monetary environment accompanying the globalisation of markets the book examines the rapid liberalisation of money and markets in Pakistan It argues that liberalisation has generated substantive problems not only for the central bank as guardian of national currency but for ordinary households By pinpointing how globalisation generates new risks for households in the everyday economy the book reveals jarring contradictions between free markets and financial inclusion whilst challenging money theory by positing substantive and empirically grounded monetary contestation that demonstrates a burden of risk imposed on ordinary people that is only exacerbated by financial inclusion The Economics of Money and Banking Mosad Zineldin, 1990 This study deals with one of the most remarkable phenomena in the Middle East financial world the absolute prohibition of interest charges or payments a system which distinguishes it from their Western counterparts Islamic economics and finance which has been apparent during the last four decades What has been missing up to now is a comprehensive empirical investigation that analyzes the performance of Islamic banks and evaluates their successes and failure in the light of their conformity to Islamic ideologies and principles on Islamic banking in order to narrow the gap between Muslim economists and scholars and Western economists alike The book should also be of interest to anyone wishing to build their background knowledge of Islamic and Western banking services financial services generally and the historical development of money and banking Hawala and Underground Terrorist Financing Mechanisms United States.
