Possessing the Past Lisa Hinrichsen, 2015-06-15 Employing recent theories of memory from multiple areas of study Possessing the Past illuminates the tangled relationships among trauma fantasy and the public sphere and their impact on the South in imagination and in reality Focusing on the roles that narrative and fantasy play in creating a sense of regional distinctiveness Lisa Hinrichsen brings a wealth of critical scholarship to her consideration of memory and southern literature Hinrichsen's nuanced readings of a diverse group of southern authors including William Faulkner Roberto Fernandez Erna Brodber Monique Truong and Katharine Du Pre Lumpkin offer new ways of conceptualizing memory place and history She unravels southern literature's critical confrontation with the region's history through complex systems of remembrance and erasure and she traces how fantasy mediates trauma and adjudicates identity Expansive in its psychoanalytical approach her work explores issues of law testimony and social justice the role of nostalgic fantasies of gentility at midcentury the relationship between white empathy and social fantasy the resemblance of regional patterns of disavowal to national ideologies of forgetting in Vietnam era fiction and the impact of contemporary multicultural literature on memory and community Possessing the Past broadens the theoretical framework used to conceptualize memory and trauma while grounding traumatic testimony in the specifics of time and place amply offered by southern literature It provides new readings of an array of southern writers and deepens our understanding of the continuing importance of history memory and fantasy in the literature of the U S South

Cold War Friendships Josephine Nock-Hee Park, 2016-05-02 Cold War Friendships explores the plight of the Asian ally of the American wars in Korea and Vietnam Enlisted into proxy warfare this figure is not a friend but a friendly a wartime convenience enlisted to serve a superpower It is through this deeply unequal relation however that the Cold War friendly secures her own integrity and insists upon her place in the neocolonial imperium This study reads a set of highly enterprising wartime subjects who make their way to the US via difficult attachments American forces ventured into newly postcolonial Korea and Vietnam both plunged into civil wars to draw the dividing line of the Cold War The strange success of containment and militarization in Korea unraveled in Vietnam but the friendly marks the significant continuity between these hot wars In both cases the friendly justified the fight she was also a political necessity who redeployed cold war alliances and remarkably made her way to America As subjects in process and indeed proto Americans these figures are prime literary subjects whose processes of becoming are on full display in Asian American novels and testimonies of these wars Literary writings on both of these conflicts are presently burgeoning and Cold War Friendships performs close analyses of key texts whose stylistic constraints and contradictions shot through with political and historical nuance present complex gestures of alliance

Beverage Museum food themed issues of Oxford American and Southern Cultures and a spate of new scholarly and popular books demonstrate this interest Writing in the Kitchen explores the relationship between food and literature and makes a major contribution to the study of both southern literature and of southern foodways and culture more widely This collection examines food writing in a range of literary expressions including cookbooks agricultural journals novels stories and poems Contributors interpret how authors use food to explore the changing South considering the ways race ethnicity class gender and region affect how and what people eat They describe foods from specific southern places such as New Orleans and Appalachia engage both the historical and contemporary South and study the food traditions of ethnicities as they manifest through the written word

Family in Six Tones Lan Cao, Harlan Margaret Van Cao, 2021-09-14 A dual first person memoir by the acclaimed Vietnamese American novelist and her thoroughly American teenage daughter In 1975 thirteen year old Lan Cao boarded an airplane in Saigon and got off in a world where she faced hosts she had not met before a language she didn't speak and food she didn't recognize with the faint hope that she would be able to go home soon Lan fought her way through confusion and racism to become a successful lawyer and novelist Four decades later she faced the biggest challenge in her life raising her daughter Harlan half Vietnamese by birth and 100 percent American teenager by inclination In their lyrical joint memoir told in alternating voices mother and daughter cross ages and ethnicities to tackle the hardest questions about assimilation aspiration and family Lan wrestles with her identities as not merely an immigrant but a refugee from an unpopular war She has bigoted teachers who undermine her in the classroom and tormenting inner demons but she does achieve either despite or because of the work ethic and tight support of a traditional Vietnamese family struggling to get by in a small American town Lan has ambitions for herself and for her daughter but even as an adult feels tentative about her place in her adoptive country and ventures through motherhood as if it is a foreign landscape Reflecting and refracting her mother's narrative

Harlan fiercely describes the rites of passage of childhood and adolescence filtered through the aftereffects of her family's history of war tragedy and migration Harlan's struggle to make friends in high school challenges her mother to step back and let her daughter find her own way Family in Six Tones speaks both to the unique struggles of refugees and to the universal tug of war between mothers and daughters The journey of an immigrant away from war and loss toward peace and a new life and the journey of a mother raising a child to be secure and happy are both steep paths filled with detours and stumbling blocks Through explosive fights and painful setbacks mother and daughter search for a way to accept the past and face the future together     Glenburn; or, In country and town, by F.W.I. F.
