The Asian Monsoon Bin Wang, 2006-08-31 Satellite observations and computing technology have advanced our understanding of the monsoon climate enormously in the last two decades. The author provides an update of the knowledge gained over this period presenting the modern morphology and the physical principles of monsoon climate variation on all time scales ranging from intraseasonal to tectonic time scales. He brings new ideas that can be expected to markedly improve the prediction of monsoon climate and includes contributions by experts who expand our understanding of the monsoon environment by their study of paleoclimate records who present evidence of human influences on monsoon climate and who describe the links of the monsoon to the economy and to human health. This is a comprehensive interdisciplinary text book summarizing new knowledge of Asian monsoon climate variability dynamics modeling and prediction from intraseasonal to geological time scales and human influence and its links to environmental economic issues.

The Global Monsoon System Chih-Pei Chang, 2011 This book presents a current review of the science of monsoon research and forecasting. The contents are based on the invited reviews presented at the World Meteorological Organization's Fourth International Workshop on Monsoons in late 2008 with subsequent manuscripts revised from 2009 to early 2010. The book builds on the concept that the monsoons in various parts of the globe can be viewed as components of an integrated global monsoon system while emphasizing that significant region specific characteristics are present in individual monsoon regions. The topics covered include all major monsoon regions and time scales mesoscale synoptic intraseasonal interannual decadal and climate change. It is intended to provide an updated comprehensive review of the current status of knowledge modeling capability and future directions in the research of monsoon systems around the world.
