Monsoon Season An Autobiography:

Monsoon Season William Q. Wu, 1996      Mircea Eliade: Autobiography Mircea Eliade, 2024-05-31 Here finally are Eliade's memoirs of the first thirty years of his life in Mac Linscott Rickett's crisp and lucid English translation. They present a fascinating account of the early development of a Renaissance talent expressed in everything from daily and periodical journalism, realistic and fantastic fiction, and general nonfiction works to distinguished contributions to the history of religions. Autobiography follows an apparently amazingly candid report of this remarkable man's progression from a mischievous street urchin and literary prodigy through his various love affairs, a decisive and traumatic Indian sojourn, and active brilliant participation in pre-World War II Romanian cultural life. Seymour Cain Religious Studies Review      Eurasian Emma Teng, 2013-07-13 In the second half of the nineteenth century, global labor migration, trade, and overseas study brought China and the United States into close contact, leading to new cross-cultural encounters that brought mixed-race families into being. Yet the stories of these families remain largely unknown. How did interracial families negotiate their identities within these societies when mixed-race marriage was taboo and Eurasian often a derisive term? In Eurasian, Emma Jinhua Teng compares Chinese-Western mixed-race families in the United States, China, and Hong Kong, examining both the range of ideas that shaped the formation of Eurasian identities in these diverse contexts and the claims set forth by individual Eurasians concerning their own identities. Teng argues that Eurasians were not universally marginalized during this era, as is often asserted. Rather, Eurasians often found themselves facing contradictions between exclusionary and inclusive ideologies of race and nationality, and between overt racism and more subtle forms of prejudice that were counterbalanced by partial acceptance and privilege. By tracing the stories of mixed and transnational families during an earlier era of globalization, Eurasian also demonstrates to students, faculty, scholars, and researchers how changes in interracial ideology have allowed the descendants of some of these families to reclaim their dual heritage with pride.      Autobiographies, 1827      The autobiography of Thomas Anthony Methuen [ed.] with a memoir by T.P. Methuen Thomas Anthony Methuen, 1870      A Voyage to the South Sea (Autobiography) William Bligh, 2020-12-17 A Voyage to the South Sea is an interesting and thrilling autobiographical account by the Royal Navy Vice Admiral William Bligh of the naval expedition of HMS Bounty under his command, including the mutiny against him that happened in 1789. In order to win a premium offered by the Royal Society, Bligh first sailed to Tahiti to obtain breadfruit trees, then set course east across the South Pacific for South America and the Cape Horn, and eventually to the Caribbean Sea, where breadfruit was wanted for experiments to see whether it would be a successful food crop for African slaves there on British colonial plantations in the West Indies islands. However, the Bounty never reached the Caribbean as mutiny broke out on board shortly after the ship left Tahiti. The reasons behind the mutiny are still debated. After being set adrift in the Bounty's launch by the mutineers, Bligh and his loyal men were forced to start a completely new and an adventurous journey of their own.      An Autobiographical Memoir Petrus Borchardus book particularly attractive for students teachers and researchers of Conrad Contrary to the prevalent achievement and decline paradigm that implies a decline in quality of Conrad s works in his later period this volume contends that Conrad s later works continue to engage with the complex questions of memory identity and culture demonstrating a sustained commitment to exploring the intricacies of the human experiences Essential reading for Conrad enthusiasts but also for those who seek to explore how memory studies in literature intersect with psychology philosophy and cultural studies Rudyard Kipling: Something of Myself and Other Autobiographical Writings Rudyard Kipling,1991-06-28 Rudyard Kipling s autobiography Something of Myself was the author s last work but it has not received the serious attention it deserves Thomas Pinney s edition of the work supplemented by other autobiographical pieces aims to change that Professor Pinney a leading textual editor currently engaged on Kipling s letters has consulted the available source material relating to Something of Myself He has constructed an outline of the book s composition described the history of its publication established a text and a set of variants and given a critical account of the book s design and its main themes His annotations to the work and to the supplementary pieces identify references and allusions and provide a biographical context against which Kipling s selections omissions and distortions may clearly be seen The extent to which Kipling s description of his life failed to match what actually happened is extraordinary Two of the additional items presented here Kipling s Indian diary of 1885 and the illustrations he made for his autobiographical story Baa Baa Black Sheep are previously unpublished Pinney shows how they and other forms of autobiographical writing reflect upon or complicate the narrative of Something of Myself This carefully prepared edition sheds new light on Kipling as a man and writer The Autobiographical Impulse in America Essays on The Crisis of Humanism in Contemporary Culture Howard Wolf,1993 Ninian Smart on World Religions: Religious experience and philosophical analysis.
