Adams, 2023-05-11 This book explores ways in which common metaphors can play a detrimental role in everyday life how they can grow in outsized importance to dominate their respective terrains and push out alternative perspectives and how forms of resistance might act to contain their dominance The volume begins by unpacking the dynamics of metaphors their power and influence and the ways in which they are bolstered by other rhetorical devices Adams draws on four case studies to illustrate their destructive impact when they eclipse other points of view the metaphor of mental illness the metaphor of free flowing markets the metaphor of the mind as a mirror and the metaphor of men as naturally superior Taken together these examples prompt further reflection on the beneficiaries of these monster metaphors and how they promote such metaphors to serve their own interests but also on ways forward for challenging their dominance strategies for preventing their rise and ways of creating space for alternatives This book will be of interest to scholars interested in the study of metaphor across such fields as linguistics rhetoric and media studies The Monster Under the Bed Kevin

Barta-Smith, Danette DiMarco, 2012-11-30 Intertextuality has signaled change appropriation adaptation and derivation It has focused readers on irresolvable questions of influence and origination progressive or regressive movement across continents periods and media Inhabited by Stories Critical Essays on Tales Retold takes a different approach What would a model of literary study look like that steps out of time's river and embraces not only the presence and proximity of the world to the senses but also of the past and the future to the present here and now When stories inhabit us imagination and memory extend our ability to see and feel Phenomenological experience is lived not just thought Such a perspective suggests that the past and future inhabit the present increase the depth of sensory perception itself and enrich the range of our affective and ethical responses Grounded in the lived experience of reading this perspective offers an alternative to an idea of intertextuality as simply following lines of influence and appropriation It focuses on the expansion of experience created by telling and retelling stories Ironically for literary theorists and critics perhaps the highest form of both praise and critique is a tale retold since such retellings attest to literature's instructive power and its perennial regeneration
