Canadian Literature, 1981 Literature and Painting In Quebec William J. Berg, 2013-02-04 This unique study explores how Quebec's landscapes have been represented in both literature and visual art throughout the centuries from the writing of early explorers such as Cartier and Champlain to work by prominent contemporary authors and artists from the province William J Berg traces recurrent images and themes within these creations through the most significant periods in the development of a Quebecois identity that was threatened initially by the wilderness and indigenous populations and later by the dominance of British and American influences Focusing on the interplay between nature and culture in landscape representation Literature and Painting in Quebec contends that both have reflected and fashioned the meaning of French Canadian nationhood As such Literature and Painting in Quebec presents a new perspective to approach the notion of national identity a quest that few groups have engaged in more persistently than the Quebecois Image et récit Jean-Michel Lacroix, Simone Vauthier, Héliane Ventura, Centre interdisciplinaire d'études canadiennes de Strasbourg, Université de Paris III. Centre d'études canadiennes de la Sorbonne nouvelle, 1993 Les trois rubriques introduites dans ce recueil tentent de refléter les divers champs d'investigation qui s'entrelacent Sans doute l'interaction entre les mots et la peinture il y a bien discours sur le tableau et ou tableau dans le discours donne lieu un ensemble de communications très homogène tout en faisant appel un corpus d'œuvres très large La section l'image et récit touche en fait plusieurs types de discours le discours photographique y est certainement privilégié puis apparaissent le discours filmique et enfin le discours figuratif de la bande dessinée. Il a paru important de regrouper dans la dernière partie ce que nous avons appelé l'image métaphore Peinture et critique image et parole que la peinture soit enrichissement du langage ou que le texte soit illusion fondée posent le problème de la représentation de l'indicible ou de l'invisible et visent transcender le réel. Tous ces textes s'interrogent en fin de compte sur la présentation de deux modes d'expression différents qui semblent impuissants à parer à rendre la perception du réel dans sa complexité et sa totalité mais dont le croisement permet d'atteindre le but impossible la limite toujours repoussée qui désormais ne chappent plus au créateur.

History of the State of New York John Romeyn Brodhead, 1871

A History of Canadian Literature William H. New, William Herbert New, 2003

New offers an unconventionally structured overview of Canadian literature from Native American mythologies to contemporary texts. Publishers Weekly. A History of Canadian Literature looks at the work of writers and the social and cultural contexts that helped shape their preoccupations and direct their choice of literary form. W. H. New explains how from early records of oral tales to the writing strategies of the early twenty-first century writer reader literature and society are interrelated. New discusses both Aboriginal and European mythologies looking at pre-Contact narratives and also at the way Contact experience altered hierarchies of literary value. He then considers representations of the real whether in documentary fantasy or satire historical romance and the social construction of Nature and State and ironic subversions of power the politics of cultural form and the relevance of the media to a representation of community standard and individual voice. New suggests some ways in which writers of the later twentieth century codified such issues as history gender ethnicity and literary technique itself. In this second edition he adds a lengthy chapter that considers how writers at the turn of the twenty-first century have reimagined their society and their roles within it and an expanded chronology and bibliography. Some of these writers have spoken from and about various social margins dealing with issues of race status ethnicity and sexuality some have sought emotional understanding through strategies of history and memory some have addressed environmental concerns and some have reconstructed the world by writing across genres and across different media. All genres are represented with examples chosen primarily but not exclusively from anglophone and francophone texts. A chronology plates and a series of tables supplement the commentary.

Character Parts Brian Busby, 2010-11-05

Ever wondered where novelists get the inspiration for their characters? Why the hero or villain of your favourite book seems oddly familiar? Who inspired Mordecai Richler to create Bernard Gursky? Margaret Atwood to create Zenia in The Robber Bride? In which novel does Northrop Frye appear as a character named Morton Hyland? The answers can be found in Character Parts. Brian Busby's irreverent yet authoritative guide to who's really who in Canadian literature. The most original and entertaining reference book to be published in years. Character Parts is the behind-the-scenes look at CanLit we have all been waiting for. Brian Busby settles the suspicions that arise when a fictional character reminds you of a real life one listing the sources for characters from the whole of Canadian literature His canvas stretches from the settlers who inspired 1852's Roughing It in the Bush to Glenn Gould's appearance as Nathaniel Orlando Gow in Tim Wynne Jones' The Maestro and beyond But Character Parts is also chock full of fascinating less famous people who have been immortalized in Canadian books seductive Alberta politicians British army generals anarchists models aristocrats and of course parents siblings and ex spouses Authoritative but presented with a light touch Character Parts is as at home in a university library as on a bathroom shelf It's that rare find an exemplary reference book that is also an absolutely entertaining read in its own right
