They continue their tradition with the latest edition of Moon Montana. The Paradise Suite David Brooks, 2011-10-25 Originally published as Bobos in Paradise, the new upper class and how they got there, 2000, and On Paradise Drive, how we live now and always have in the future tense, 2004

Talking Up a Storm Gregory Lynn Morris, 2016-07 In interviews with fifteen contemporary writers of the American West, Gregory L. Morris demonstrates what these widely divergent talents have in common: they all redefine what it is to be a western writer. No longer enthralled though sometimes inspired by the literary traditions of openness, place, and rugged individualism, each of the writers has remained true to the demand for clarity, strength, and honesty. Virtues sustained in their conversations, Morris talks with Ralph Beer, Mary Clearman Blew, Elizabeth Cook, Lynn James Crumley, Ivan Doig, Gretel Ehrlich, Richard Ford, Molly Gloss, Ron Hansen, John Keeble, William Kittredge, David Long, Thomas McGuane, Amy Tan, and Douglas Unger. Their lives and fiction stretch from Montana to Texas, from ranches to universities, from sea level to mountain slopes. Bobos in Paradise David Brooks, 2010-05-11 In his bestselling work of comic sociology, David Brooks coins a new word, Bobo, to describe today's upper class: those who have wed the bourgeois world of capitalist enterprise to the hippie values of the bohemian counterculture. Their hybrid lifestyle is the atmosphere we breathe, and in this witty and serious look at the cultural consequences of the information age, Brooks has defined a new generation. Do you believe that spending 15,000 on a media center is vulgar, but that spending 15,000 on a slate shower stall is a sign that you are at one with the Zenlike rhythms of nature? Do you work for one of those visionary software companies where people come to work wearing hiking boots and glacier glasses as if a wall of ice were about to come sliding through the parking lot? If so, you might be a Bobo.

Space and Collections Earning their Keep Joseph Hafner, Diane Koen, 2016-07-11 Traditionally, libraries have served as storage spaces, offering access to diverse physical collections. Today, following numerous social and technological changes, libraries are retooling their services, rethinking storage, and reimagining their spaces. The transformation in information technology has had an enormous impact on users' research behaviour, which in turn demands new discovery environments. A conference of the IFLA Library Buildings and Equipment and the Acquisition and Collection Development Sections spotlighted libraries from around the world who are providing quality, adaptable, and innovative library spaces and services meeting the changing needs of their users, their collections, their staff, and their communities. Recent advances in cognitive linguistics provide new avenues for reading and interpreting Biblical Hebrew prophetic text This volume utilises a multi layered cognitive linguistics approach to explore Jeremiah 1 1 6 30 incorporating insights from cognitive grammar cognitive science and conceptual blending theory While the modern reader is separated from the originators of these texts by time space and culture this analysis rests on the theory that both the originators and the modern reader share common features of embodied experience This opens the way for utilising cognitive models conceptual metaphor and mental spaces theory when reading and interpreting ancient texts This volume provides an introduction to cognitive theory and method Initially short examples from Jeremiah 1 1 6 30 are used to introduce the theory and method This is followed by a detailed comparison of traditional and cognitive approaches to Biblical Hebrew grammar These insights are then applied to further examples taken from Jeremiah 1 1 6 30 in order to test and refine the approach These findings show that Jeremiah 1 1 1 3 establishes perspective for the text as a whole and that subsequent shifts in perspective may be tracked using aspects of mental spaces theory Much of the textual content yields to concepts derived from conceptual metaphor studies and from conceptual blending theory which are introduced and explained using examples taken from Jeremiah 1 1 6 30 The entire analysis demonstrates some of the strengths and weaknesses of using recent cognitive theories and methods for analysing and interpreting ancient texts While such theories and methods do not obviate the need for traditional interpretive methods they do provide a more nuanced understanding of the ancient text Stanislaus National
