thread running through many local efforts a perspective and politics that emphasizes regional equity Manuel Pastor Jr Chris Benner and Martha Matsuoka offer their analysis with an eye toward evaluating what has and has not worked in various campaigns to achieve regional equity The authors show how momentum is building as new policies addressing regional infrastructure housing and workforce development bring together business and community groups who share a common desire to see their city and region succeed Drawing on a wealth of case studies as well as their own experience in the field Pastor Benner and Matsuoka point out the promise and pitfalls of this new approach concluding that what they term social movement regionalism might offer an important contribution to the revitalization of progressive politics in America
