Finfish Diseases is a diverse practical reference on finfish diseases impacting aquaculture. It is intended for the veterinarian, fish health biologist or extensionist, fish pathologist and fish health diagnostician supporting the management of major and emerging infectious and non infectious health risks for the key temperate, subtropical and tropical finfish species of commercial and fisheries importance. This volume should be read in partnership with volume 2 on shellfish diseases as the principles and approach to the diagnosis and management of aquacultured animal species are similar and typically researchers, teachers, students, diagnostic laboratory scientists, aquaculture technicians and farmers need to be competent across both finfish and shellfish health issues. A focus on the disease process of major or emerging viral, bacterial, fungal and parasitic infections affecting aquacultured finfish species e.g. salmonids, carp, tilapia, eel, barramundi. A focus on important or emerging environmental, nutritional, genetic deformity, toxicological, endocrine disruption and neoplastic diseases in finfish. A review of the immunology of finfish relevant to a practical understanding of disease diagnosis and management. An overview of laboratory diagnostic methods relevant to detection of finfish diseases. Concise discussion on the diverse risk factors of finfish diseases and options for their control.

Plant Pathogenesis and Resistance Jeng-Sheng Huang, 2013-03-09. Each plant pathogen interaction involves a two-way molecular communication. On one hand, the pathogen perceives signals from the plant, secretes chemical arsenals to establish infection, courts and produces metabolites that disrupt structural integrity, alter cellular function and circumvent host defenses. On the other hand, the plant senses the signals from the pathogen, reinforces its cell walls and accumulates phytoalexins and pathogenesis-related proteins in an attempt to defend itself. The production of pathogenicity and virulence factors by the pathogen, the elicitation of defense mechanisms by the plant and the dynamic interaction of the two are the focal points of this book. The book will be of interest to researchers and advanced undergraduate and graduate students in the areas of plant pathology, plant physiology and plant biochemistry.
