Pathways To Discovery Exploring Americas:

Pathways to Discovery: Exploring America's National Trails. , Forest and Garden Melanie Louise Simo, 2003 How wild and managed or artificially arranged environments coexist has long been a matter of intense debate among foresters and landscape professionals Forest Trails Library Bibliography Jim Schmid, 1993 Pathways to Exploration National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Space Studies Board, Aeronautics and Space Engineering Board, Committee on Human Spaceflight, 2014-09-30 The United States has publicly funded its human spaceflight program on a continuous basis for more than a half century through three wars and a half dozen recessions from the early Mercury and Gemini suborbital and Earth orbital missions to the lunar landings and thence to the first reusable winged crewed spaceplane that the United States operated for three decades Today the United States is the major partner in a massive orbital facility the International Space Station that is becoming the focal point for the first tentative steps in commercial cargo and crewed orbital space flights And yet the long term future of human spaceflight beyond this project is unclear Pronouncements by multiple presidents of bold new ventures by Americans to the Moon to Mars and to an asteroid in its native orbit have not been matched by the same commitment that accompanied President Kennedy's now fabled 1961 speech namely the substantial increase in NASA funding needed to make it happen Are we still committed to advancing human spaceflight What should a long term goal be and what does the United States need to do to achieve it Pathways to Exploration explores the case for advancing this endeavor drawing on the history of rationales for human spaceflight examining the attitudes of stakeholders and the public and carefully assessing the technical and fiscal realities This report recommends maintaining the long term focus on Mars as the horizon goal for human space exploration With this goal in mind the report considers funding levels necessary to maintain a robust tempo of execution current research and exploration projects and the time resources needed to continue them and international cooperation that could contribute to the achievement of spaceflight to Mars According to Pathways to Exploration a successful U S program would require sustained national commitment and a budget that increases by more than the rate of inflation In reviving a U S human exploration program capable of answering the enduring questions about humanity's destiny beyond our tiny blue planet the nation will need to grapple with the attitudinal and fiscal realities of the nation today while staying true to a small but crucial set of fundamental principles for the conduct of exploration of the endless frontier The recommendations of Pathways to Exploration provide a clear map toward a human spaceflight program that inspires students and citizens by furthering human exploration and discovery while taking into account the long term commitment necessary to achieve this goal The Royal Roads Kathy Pelta, 1997 Describes the development and use of many of the major trails established by Spanish soldiers traders and priests in Mexico the Southwest and Florida between the 1500s and the 1800s Archaeological Pathways to Historic Site Development Stanley South, 2012-12-06 In this book I walk with the reader along the bothered me that some of my colleagues in their archaeological pathways traveled by many reports of archaeological activity on documented researchers in the process of historic site historic sites never mention finding evidence of previous American Indian occupation Sites development The sponsors historians archaeologists and administrators who have selected by Europeans usually on high ground bordering the deep water channel of navigatable traveled those pathways may find familiar much of what I say here The pathways exploring the past streams are those also once preferred by Native Americans for the access to environmental involve research in documents and the archaeological record using the best methods of resources they afford How could Native both in an attempt to understand the material American material culture not be present on such culture remains left behind not only by explorers sites and colonists from Europe and Africa but also by I once asked a well known archaeological Native Americans who lived in the environment for colleague why it was that such evidence did not appear in his reports from such sites and the reply millenia before those strangers appeared on the scene In explaining the archaeological record of was Gh I find all kinds of Indian things on the American Indians I lean on not only archaeological historic sites I dig but that s not why I m there

Eastern Trails Kathy Pelta,1998 Traces the building of roads in the eastern part of the United States from the time of the earliest colonists to the 1850s

North American Exploration John Logan Allen,1997-01-01 The third volume of North American Exploration covering 1784 to 1914 charts a dramatic shift in the purpose priorities and results of the exploration of North America As the nineteenth century opened exploration was still fostered by the growth of empire but by the 1830s commercial interests came to drive most exploratory ventures particularly through the fur trade By midcentury however as imperial rivalries lessened and the fur trade declined exploration was driven by the growing scientific spirit of the age although the science was often conducted in the service of a search for railroad routes or natural resources linked to military concerns A clear transition took place as the spirit of the Enlightenment gave way to economic imperatives and to the science of the post Darwinian age and exploration passed beyond discovery and geographical definition This volume explores the resultant beginnings of an understanding of the continent and its native peoples The United States Catalog ,1928
