Patriarchy and Socialist Revolution in China Judith Stacey, Professor of Contemporary Studies Judith Stacey, 1983

The Roots of Patriarchy Ilenia Ruggiu, 2024-10-28 By combining legal and genealogical methodologies this book describes the origin decline resurgence and metamorphosis of patriarchy in the West The book provides the reader with a unified tool for understanding what patriarchy is its dynamics and its main features The reader will find a guide with which to navigate the dozens of definitions and theories of patriarchy and will better understand why despite the proclamations of formal Constitutions of the equality of the sexes the gender gap in the West is still high Approaching patriarchy both as a concept and as a social fact the book shows how patriarchy lay at the Jewish Greek Roman roots of Western civilization how for millennia it was perceived as a benevolent function for social and political life and how feminism reversed this benevolent narrative By reconstructing how patriarchy has been theorized in several disciplines and historical times the book reflects on what has been done and remains to be done to de patriarchalize the West It will be a valuable resource for academics researchers and students in Women s Studies Gender Studies Constitutional Law Cultural Studies Religious Studies and Anthropology

Handbook on the Family and Marriage in China Xiaowei Zang, Lucy Xia Zhao, 2017-12-29 This Handbook advances research on the family and marriage in China by providing readers with a multidisciplinary and multifaceted coverage of major issues in one single volume It addresses the major conceptual theoretical and methodological issues of marriage and family in China and offers critical reflections on both the history and likely progression of the field

Feminisms Robyn R. Warhol, Diane Price Herndl, 1997 In the landmark 1991 edition of Feminisms Robyn Warhol and Diane Price Herndl assembled the most comprehensive collection of American and British feminist literary criticism ever to be published In this revised edition the editors have updated the volume in keeping with the expanded parameters of feminist literary discourse With the inclusion of more than two dozen new essays along with a major reorganization of the sections in which they appear Warhol and Price Herndl have again established the measure for representing the latest developments in the field of feminist literary theory Believing that the feminist movement can only move forward where difference commands attention not dismissal or negativism they have continued the original collection s mission of providing a multiplicity of perspectives and approaches This anthology contains three new sections Conflict Gaze and Practice and includes more selections by and about women of color and lesbians Aimed at academics and the general public alike this collection is an indispensable guide to the range of practice on campus today in the field of feminist literary criticism

Chinese Families in the Post-Mao Era Deborah Davis, Stevan Harrell, 1993-10-02 This collection of essays concerns both urban and rural Chinese communities ranging from professional to working class families The contributors attempt to determine whether and to what extent the policy shifts that followed Mao Zedong s death affected Chinese families

Marriage, Law and Gender in Revolutionary China Xiaoping Cong, 2016-08-22 Explores the social and cultural significance of Chinese communist legal practice in constructing marriage and gender relations in the turbulent period from 1940 to 1960      Shifting Traditions of Childrearing in China Xin Guo, 2021-07-11 Unique in its intergenerational approach to understanding motherhood in China this book sets out to study Chinese mothers experiences of childrearing emphasising that gender is not immutable and that motherhood is not isolated from other social domains The author adopts an historical and sociological design with a case study approach to investigate three living generations of women from 12 families of varied social economic backgrounds in China By comparing three aspects of these mothers lives namely the growing up experiences mothering experiences and intergenerational transmission between mothers and daughters this research provides an invaluable opportunity to observe how changing structural elements shaped mothers varied subjectivities similarly or differently It also addresses the continuities of the women s experiences highlighting the gendered and devalued roles in childcare that existed across three generations reflecting the complex dynamic relationship between women s agency and China s social structures This is an essential read for researchers students professionals and practitioners in the fields of sociology of families childhood and education gender studies motherhood parenthood studies narrative studies social policy and development studies

Women, the Family, and Policy Esther Ngan-ling Chow, Catherine White Berheide, 1994-06-07 The authors highlight how structural circumstances in countries with various degrees of industrialization are associated with specific policies The analyses of women s experiences reveal the variety of ways in which private patriarchy in families combines with public patriarchy in economies and states to create a system of domination which subordinates women The authors detail how gender is constructed under specific political economic and cultural circumstances and seek to understand how state policies with differing sensitivities to women s issues have produced mixed outcomes for women and their families in the process of economic development      The Routledge Encyclopedia of Films Sabine Haenni, Sarah Barrow, John White, 2014-09-15

The Routledge Encyclopedia of Films comprises 200 essays by leading film scholars analysing the most important influential innovative and interesting films of all time Arranged alphabetically each entry explores why each film is significant for those who study film and explores the social historical and political contexts in which the film was produced Ranging from Hollywood classics to international bestsellers to lesser known representations of national cinema this collection is deliberately broad in scope crossing decades boundaries and genres The encyclopedia thus provides an introduction to the historical range and scope of cinema produced throughout the world      New Chinese Cinemas Nick Browne, 1994 New Chinese Cinemas analyses the changing forms and significance of filmmaking in the People s Republic of China Taiwan and Hong Kong since the end of the Cultural Revolution with a particular emphasis on how film comments on the profound social changes that have occurred in East Asia over the past two decades Considering in detail both conservative and progressive stances on economic modernisation it also demonstrates how film has been an important formal structure and social document in the interpretation of these changes The essays collected here which were specially commissioned for this volume also offer extended analyses of the important trends styles and work that define Chinese filmmaking in the 1980s

Women in China from Earliest Times to the Present Robin Yates, 2009-07-31 This essential reference work provides an alphabetic listing with an extensive index of studies on women in China from earliest times to the present day written in Western languages primarily English French German and Italian Containing more than 2500 citations of books chapters in books and articles especially those published in the last thirty years and more than 100 titles of doctoral dissertations and Masters theses it covers works written in the disciplines of anthropology and sociology art and archaeology demography economics education fashion film and media studies history interdisciplinary studies law literature music medicine science and technology political science and religion and philosophy It also contains many citations of studies of women in Hong Kong and Taiwan

Chinese Marriages in Transition Xiaoling Shu, Jingjing Chen, 2023-09-15 Outdated models of Chinese gender roles marriage and family transitions portray these changes as streamlined and unidirectional from traditional to modern public to private collective to individual Chinese Marriages in Transition documents the complex nuanced and multidirectional nature of these cultural transformations Using complex and large scale historical national data as well as comprehensive data from multiple countries Xiaoling Shu and Jingjing Chen demonstrate that while the second demographic transition is unfolding in many advanced Western societies it is not necessarily a normative form of societal transition Working instead from a framework of new familism Shu and Chen show that Chinese new familism consists of both old and new values including the persistence of some traditional beliefs and practices accompanied by a transition to modern perceptions of gender and adaption to some modern forms of family formation This book is freely available in an open access edition thanks to TOME Toward an Open Monograph Ecosystem a collaboration of the Association of American Universities the Association of University Presses and the Association of Research Libraries and the generous support of the University of California Davis Learn more at the TOME website available at openmonographs.org Download the open access book here

Critical Readings on the Communist Party of China (4 Vols. Set) Kjeld Erik Brodsgaard, 2016-12-12 The Chinese Communist Party CCP with nearly 90 million members is the largest ruling political party in the world Its power and influence reach into every corner of state society and economy in China Given the CCP s omnipresence in depth knowledge of how the CCP is organised and managed and how it will likely evolve is of paramount importance and is a basic prerequisite for understanding China's rise. By bringing together the best scholarship on the CCP covering areas such as organisation, cadre management, recruitment and training, ideology and propaganda, factions and elites, reform and adaptation, corruption and law, this collection provides a key to open the black box of Chinese politics.

Reproductive Realities in Modern China Sarah Mellors Rodriguez, 2023-01-19. Lasting from 1979 to 2015, China's One Child Policy is often remembered as one of the most ambitious social engineering projects to date and considered emblematic of global efforts to regulate population growth during the twentieth century. Drawing on a rich combination of archival research and oral history, Sarah Mellors Rodriguez analyses how ordinary people, particularly women, navigated China's shifting fertility policies before and during the One Child Policy era. She examines the implementation and reception of these policies and reveals that they were often contradictory and unevenly enforced, as men and women challenged, reworked and co-opted state policies to suit their own needs. By situating the One Child Policy within the longer history of birth control and abortion in China, Reproductive Realities in Modern China exposes important historical continuities such as the enduring reliance on abortion as contraception and the precariousness of state control over reproduction.

Asian Cinemas Dimitris Eleftheriotis, Gary Needham, 2006-03-31. The West's current fascination with Asian cinema must be viewed in the context of a complex and often problematic relationship between Western scholars, students, viewers and Asian films. This book examines a number of detailed case studies such as the films of Ozu, Bruce Lee, Hong Kong and Turkish cinema, Hindi melodramas, Godzilla films, Taiwanese directors and Fifth Generation Chinese cinema, and uses them to investigate the limitations of Anglo-US theoretical models and critical paradigms. By engaging readers with familiar areas of critical discourse such as postcolonial criticism, national cinema, genre, authorship and stardom, the book aims to introduce within such contexts the unfamiliar case studies that will be explored in depth and detail.

Revisiting Women's Cinema Lingzhen Wang, 2020-12-14. In Revisiting Women's Cinema, Lingzhen Wang ponders the roots of contemporary feminist stagnation and the limits of both commercial mainstream and elite minor cultures by turning to socialist women filmmakers in modern China. She foregrounds their sociopolitical engagements, critical interventions and popular artistic experiments, offering a new conception of socialist and postsocialist feminisms, mainstream culture and women's cinema. Wang highlights the films of Wang Ping and Dong Kena in the 1950s and 1960s, and Zhang Nuanxin and Huang Shuqin in the 1980s and 1990s, to unveil how they have been profoundly misread through extant research paradigms entrenched in Western Cold War ideology, post-second wave cultural feminism and post-Mao intellectual discourses. Challenging received interpretations, she elucidates how socialist feminism and culture were conceptualized and practiced in relation to China's search not only for national independence and economic development but also for social emancipation, proletarian culture and socialist internationalism. Wang calls for a critical reevaluation of historical materialism, socialist feminism and popular culture to forge an integrated emancipatory vision for future transnational feminist and cultural practices      International Handbook of Human Rights Jack Donnelley, Rhoda E. Howard-Hassmann, 1987-11-06 This collection of essays on the current human rights climate in 19 countries includes Canada Chile China Cuba Israel Poland the USA and USSR and represents a variety of regimes cultural traditions and geographical areas For analysis of the facts this volume excels A well crafted introduction describes current debate about human rights theory and practice traces the development of human rights instruments and discusses problems of implementation Strongly recommended Library Journal The bulk of the scholarly literature on human rights deals with international law and politics In contrast this volume offers nineteen case studies of national human rights practices Although international factors cannot be ignored most human rights violations are perpetrated by states against their own citizens the principal causes of the respect for and violation of human rights lie in national social and political structures
