Patterns of Cancer in Five Continents, 1990 Cancer Risk Assessment Peter G. Shields, 2005-05-24 The assessment of cancer risk is a complex process that requires the examination of etiological agents real world environments and individual rates of exposure This reference offers practical approaches to determine cancer risk in individuals groups of exposed persons and the general public in relation to individual genetic and acquired suscep National Cancer Institute Monograph National Cancer Institute (U.S.), 1979 Pattern Recognition Receptors and Cancer Anton G. Kutikhin, Arseniy E. Yuzhalin, 2015-10-08 The group of pattern recognition receptors PRRs includes families of Toll like receptors TLRs NOD like receptors NLRs C type lectin receptors CLRs RIG I like receptors RLRs and AIM 2 like receptors ALRs Conceptually receptors constituting these families are united by two general features Firstly they directly recognize common antigen determinants of virtually all classes of pathogens so called pathogen associated molecular patterns or simply PAMPs and initiate immune response against them via specific intracellular signaling pathways Secondly they recognize endogenous ligands since they are usually released during cell stress they are called damage associated molecular patterns DAMPs and hence PRR mediated immune response can be activated without an influence of infectious agents So pattern recognition receptors play the key role performing the innate and adaptive immune response In addition many PRRs have a number of other vital functions apart from participation in immune response realization The fundamental character and diversity of PRR functions have led to amazingly rapid research in this field Such investigations are very promising for medicine as immune system plays a key role in vast majority if not all human diseases and the process of discovering the new aspects of the immune system functioning is rapidly ongoing The role of Toll like receptors in cancer was analyzed in certain reviews but the data are still scattered This collection of reviews systematizes the key information in the field Cancer Epidemiology and Prevention Michael Thun, Martha S. Haiman, David Schottenfeld, 2017-11-07 The definitive reference for budding and experienced cancer epidemiologists alike American Journal of Epidemiology Practitioners in epidemiology and oncology will find immense value in this JAMA Since its initial publication in 1982 CANCER EPIDEMIOLOGY AND PREVENTION has served as the premier reference work for students and professionals working to understand the causes and prevention of cancer in humans Now revised for the first time in more than a decade this fourth edition provides a comprehensive summary of the global patterns of cancer incidence and mortality current understanding of the major causal determinants and a rationale for preventive interventions Special attention is paid to molecular epidemiologic approaches that address the wider role of genetic predisposition and gene environment interactions in cancer etiology and pathogenesis New and timely chapters on environmental and social epidemiologic factors include The role of social class disparities The role of obesity and physical inactivity The potential effects of electromagnetic fields and radiofrequency radiation The principles of cancer chemoprevention For both seasoned professionals and newer generations of students and researchers this fourth edition of CANCER EPIDEMIOLOGY AND PREVENTION remains the
