Patterns Of Economic Restructuring For Eastern Europe:

Patterns of Economic Restructuring for Eastern Europe S. I. Cohen, 1993 The economies of Eastern European countries under communist rule for the last four decades or more are presently faced with a number of interdependent but yet distinct policy issues The issues concern the normal structural patterns for Eastern Europe the size of transitional gaps the choice between steady and shock approaches the scale and scope of privatization and the form and pace of external re integration in the world economy The present volume is devoted to an exposition of these policy issues and the propagation of several analytical devices which are found useful The volume reports on the construction and analysis of six Social Accounting Matrices for Eastern and Western European countries Corresponding models featuring general equilibrium and structural restrictions for Eastern Europe are found relevant in this context The research underlying the contributions to this volume was supported by a generous grant from the Commission of the European Communities in the context of the Community Action for Cooperation in the field of Economics ACE

Global Trends in Eastern Europe Nikolai Genov, 2016-04-22 Eastern Europe was once clearly defined by the centralized political and economic organization of the societies in the region They shared the same official ideology and were members of the same alliances After 1989 the region collapsed in an economic political and cultural implosion What were the moving forces of this profound change What are its consequences Could we try to reasonably foresee any future developments In this thought provoking book Nikolai Genov presents a systematic description and explanation of Eastern European societal transformations after 1989 They are interpreted as adaptations to four global trends upgrading the rationality of organizations individualization spreading of instrumental activism and universalization of value normative systems Adaptations to these trends have generally been successful However Genov notes that the process is marked by many failures as well They are mostly caused by path dependency in the societal development and by the varying quality of relevant decisions other destructive developments are due to contradictions in the global trends themselves Guided by the assumption that the societal and supranational integration mechanisms in Eastern Europe before 1989 could not resist the overwhelming power of global trends Genov s controversial findings question visions about the end of history and simultaneously strengthen the confidence that most complex macro social processes can be rationally managed A timely book allowing for a much needed engagement in contemporary debates on the controversial processes in Eastern European transitions

Transformation of Cities in Central and Eastern Europe F. E. Ian Hamilton, Kaliopa Dimitrovska Andrews, Nataša Pichler-Milanović, 2005 Annotation This volume is one in a series initiated by the United Nations University Institute of Advanced Studies on the inter relationship between globalisation and urban transformation It identifies and describes the inter and intra urban transformations of Central and Eastern European cities and considers their pre 1945 historic legacies the socialist period and their contemporary transition towards market oriented and democratic systems The dramatic changes since 1989 including the collapse of Communist ideology the break up of the Soviet Union Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia the end of the Cold War and the impact of globalisation and European integration have reconfigured this region and affected their re integration into European and global networks This book first examines the similarities and differences between significant Central and Eastern European cities comparing the differing patterns of historical context and socialist legacies before 1990 and the impacts of internal and external forces on re shaping these cities and their paths of transformation since 1990 It also examines the role of contemporary planning within the overall development of Central and Eastern European cities The conclusion demonstrates the similarities and differences between Central and Eastern European cities and their re integration into global networks

The Routledge Handbook to Regional Development in Central and Eastern Europe Gábor Lux, Gyula Horváth, 2017-07-06 Twenty five years into transformation Central and Eastern European regions have undergone substantial socio economic restructuring integrating into European and global networks and producing new patterns of regional differentiation and development Yet post socialist modernisation has not been without its contradictions manifesting in increasing social and territorial inequalities Recent studies also suggest there are apparent limits to post socialist growth models accompanying a new set of challenges within an increasingly uncertain world Aiming to deliver a new synthesis of regional development issues at the crossroads between post socialism and post transition this book identifies the main driving forces of spatial restructuring in Central and Eastern Europe and charts the different regional development paths which take shape against the backdrop of post crisis Europe A comparative approach is used to highlight common development challenges and the underlying patterns of socio economic differentiation alike The issues investigated within the Handbook extend to a discussion of the varied economic consequences of transition the social structures and institutional systems which underpin development processes and the broadly understood sustainability of Central and Eastern Europe s current development model This book will be of interest to academics and policymakers working in the fields of regional studies economic geography development studies and policy

Transition in Eastern Europe Herbert Wilkens, Wolfgang Maennig, 2016 This publication contains a selection of papers presented at a conference discussing fundamental issues in the economics of transition aspects of liberalization privatization stabilization and the experience of selected countries The sessions lead to a number of hypotheses There is a need to analyze historical and economic aspects of phases of relative success of the socialist system of central planning Next to the important role of distribution of personal incomes and wealth for the success of the transformation process the question of optimal change of personal income and wealth distribution during the process of transformation has to be raised In assessing the costs and benefits of reform policies any methodological approach should take into account an intertemporal perspective How much does the EU continue protectionism against countries which will not become its members in the near future The role of the institutional environment shall not be neglected when analyzing the process of transition financial markets e g are of great relevance for sound development An early status of independence for the central bank from public finance obligations appears to help to eliminate the monetary overhang A quick almost instant liberalization strategy countries of Central and Eastern Europe seems to be more successful than gradual liberalization Russia Ukraine Belarus along with interventionism of trade policy InhaltsverzeichnisInhalt B Huber F L Sell Introduction U Blum Greed and Grief in East Germany the Socialist System s Crisis Collapse and Transformation K D Schmidt Transition in Eastern Europe The Integration of Goods and Factor Markets into the World Economy B van Aarle Currency Substitution and Currency Controls the Polish Big Bang of 1990 N Budina S van Wijnbergen Debt Management and Inflation Stabilization in Bulgaria C Fuest B Huber Government Deficits Inflation and Economic Transition J Br cker B Raffelh schen Fiscal aspects of German unification Who is stuck with the bill A Rusek Transition to Markets in CEFTA Countries A Comparative Overview D Gros A Gonciarz Stabilization and Economic Reform in Russia Ukraine and Belarus

Bibliographic Guide to Slavic, Baltic and Eurasian Studies 1994 Nypl,1995      Theory and Practice of the Triple Helix Model in Developing Countries Mohammed Saad,Girma Zawdie,2011-02-25 Theory and Practice of Triple Helix Model in Developing Countries contributes to the expanding literature on triple helix innovation focusing on developing countries The book is based on practical cases and experiences from Africa Latin America and Asia Relevant experiences and best practices from developed countries are also examined The book is presented as a response to the growing awareness about the need for policy shift from the traditional technology transfer practice to a policy position that is capable of providing a sustainable basis for innovation and technological progress in developing countries The book explores the triple helix system of innovation based on the dynamics of the interactive relationships between government industry and universities in the creation dissemination and sharing of knowledge in developing countries A major point addressed by the book is the extent to which the triple helix system of relationships between university industry and government can enhance the effectiveness of universities in developing countries as agents of innovation industrialization and sustainable development

The EU and the Economies of the Eastern European Enlargement Alberto Quadrio Curzio,Marco Fortis,2008-07-19 The enlargement of the European Union towards the East from May 2004 has generated an increase of about 100 million inhabitants in the EU population and has especially brought along major challenges and important opportunities both for the new countries and for the old member states That is the main focus of this volume which is divided into three sections The first analyses the effects of the enlargement on the functioning of Community institutions on the relations with the other Eastern European countries and finally on regional and global economic dynamics the second section analyses in detail the role of the monetary politics of the European Central Bank and the activities of the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development and the third deals with the importance of the entrepreneurial class in ensuring the success of the transition process of the Eastern European economies

The Regional Dimension of Transformation in Central Europe Grzegorz Gorzelak, 2012-10-12 Providing a new picture of the socio economic map of central Europe after several years of transformation and focusing in particular on Poland this book gives an account of the major problems of regional restructuring The author identifies the opportunities and problems faced by particular regions by relating the Polish experience to the experience of other central European countries This in turn provides a general picture of spatial patterns of transformation in this specific part of Europe and will interest those concerned with the transformation of Eastern Europe

Exotic No More Jeremy MacClancy, 2010-04-08 Since its founding in the nineteenth century social anthropology has been seen as the study of exotic peoples in faraway places But today more and more anthropologists are dedicating themselves not just to observing but to understanding and helping solve social problems wherever they occur in international aid organizations British TV studios American hospitals or racist enclaves in Eastern Europe for example In Exotic No More an initiative of the Royal Anthropological Institute some of today's most respected anthropologists demonstrate in clear unpretentious prose the tremendous contributions that anthropology can make to contemporary society They cover issues ranging from fundamentalism to forced migration child labor to crack dealing human rights to hunger ethnicity to environmentalism intellectual property rights to international capitalisms But Exotic No More is more than a litany of gloom and doom the essays also explore topics usually associated with leisure or high culture including the media visual arts tourism and music Each author uses specific examples from their fieldwork to illustrate their discussions and 62 photographs enliven the text Throughout the book the contributors highlight anthropology's commitment to taking people seriously on their own terms paying close attention to what they are saying and doing and trying to understand how they see the world and why Sometimes this bottom up perspective makes the strange familiar but it can also make the familiar strange exposing the cultural basis of seemingly natural behaviors and challenging us to rethink some of our most cherished ideas about gender free markets race and refugees among many others Contributors William O Beeman Philippe Bourgois John Chernoff E Valentine Daniel Alex de Waal Judith Ennew James Fairhead Sarah Franklin Michael Gilson Faye Ginsburg Alma Gottlieb Christopher Hann Faye V Harrison Richard Jenkins Melissa Leach Margaret Lock Jeremy MacClancy Jonathan Mazower Ellen Messer A David Napier Nancy Scheper Hughes Jane Schneider Parker Shipton Christopher B Steiner

Crude Power Øystein Noreng, 2005-12-20 Many people in the world today believe Bush's war against Saddam Hussein is only about oil Iraq has the second biggest petroleum reserves in the Middle East and America's relations with its prime supplier Saudi Arabia have turned sour in the wake of 9 11 Invading Iraq so many argue is merely colonising an oil field Oil has transformed the world and remains the most important resource of our age It has made the wealth of millions of people from Venezuela to Norway via the Persian Gulf and holds their futures in its fortunes The Middle East is the earth's greatest petroleum depot It is also the most explosive region in the world today Now more than ever with the global economy under severe threat oil is of prime geopolitical concern Crude Power provides a comprehensive analysis both of the world's dependency on Middle Eastern oil and of the very dangerous way politics and economics play themselves out in the oil game as producers and consumers tug at each others interests It is a tug of war Oystein Noreng explains what all concerned are fighting for Placing OPEC the Organisation of Petroleum Exporting Countries into its wider world context he examines in detail how shifting oil prices affect everything from international trade balances to inflation rates In the current political climate of the Middle East and Central Asia with anti Americanism and the threat of terrorism in such countries as Saudi Arabia running high oil holds the future of the world economy as well as thousands of lives in its hands Crude Power is an indispensable book for anyone concerned with the fate of the world today and that most important of issues the interplay of power and money in the Middle East and beyond

Industrial Productivity in Europe Matilde Mas, Robert Stehrer, 2012-01-01 This book analyses growth at the total economy and industry level from an international perspective providing unique cross country comparisons The authors focus on the EU 25 countries but also include the US Japan and Korea The chapters explore growth patterns from a long run perspective although greater attention is paid to the period of expansion from 1995-2007 and the post 2008 period of crisis Each contribution builds on a common methodology based on a detailed database providing a high degree of disaggregation with respect to the industries and factors accounting for growth The role played by ICT is expertly emphasized in particular the different paths followed in the US and the EU This topical book will prove to be an unrivalled source of comparative data for academics practitioners and policymakers alike

The European Territory Jacques Robert, 2014-05-09 Originally published in French as Le territoire européen des racines aux enjeux globaux this book reflects the enormous changes that Europe has seen in the past half century In a period of immense upheaval the continent has experienced increased integration largely through the development of the European Union heightened urbanization and a changing rural landscape while economic and commercial activities have impressed their stamp on the whole scene In this book Jacques Robert deploys the experience amassed throughout his 35 years experience as adviser to European institutions in the field of territorial and regional development The chapter on cities explains the emergence of the European urban hierarchy and the driving forces and inertia behind its evolution while a following chapter looks at the changing role of rural areas This material provides a historic overview of relevant policies and a discussion of future challenges The third chapter discusses evolving paradigms of regional economic development and their impact on European regions Next there is a chapter on the historical roots and current processes within territorial integration The book concludes with an examination of Europe s place in the world at large focussing particularly on globalization effects climate change and new energy paradigms which will present real challenges for decades to come The book is unique in its combination of in depth analysis of the evolution of European territorial policies and paradigms but also in its geographically comprehensive approach integrating the experience of both Western and Eastern Europe It will be of interest to academics and professionals within territorial development and spatial planning

Environmental Problems in East-Central Europe Frank Carter, David Turnock, 2002-09-26 In this new edition the progress made in the last decade to solve the environmental problems described in the first edition is assessed The attempts to bring environmental legislation into line with West European norms is also described Environmental Problems of East Central Europe looks at air and water pollution modern farming water supplies waste management and landscape protection These topics are placed within economic social and political profiles as spending on a clean environment must be reconciled with welfare spending and the safeguarding of jobs European Union assistance civil society and the work of environmental NGOs are also discussed All of these matters are considered within the context of the wider geographical area and then by each individual country including the previously communist states lying to the west of the Soviet Union now with the former federal states of Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia broken up into seven different entities and a review of the former Soviet Union with particular reference to the Baltic States Environmental Problems in East Central Europe provides a wealth of up to date reference material with a vast amount of supporting literature on environmental conditions and the functioning of civil society and a map of each country The environment is being taken seriously by them all such is the influence of the Rio sustainability agenda in general and the EU environmental acquis in particular The book reveals that Eastern Europe is not a blighted area but in some respects has a higher biodiversity than Western Europe Although there is enormous waste and inefficiency in energy use people actually consume relatively little and the East therefore has some lessons for the West in terms of managing on the bases of fair share of the earth s resources

The Changing Landscape in Eastern Europe Richard E. Quandt, 2002-06-20 This book shows how philanthropy can be a primary force in the transfer of technology in transitional societies It demonstrates the necessity of retraining of people and how this endeavor is as important as the technology itself It is essentially about Hungary Poland Czech Republic Slovakia Latvia Estonia with somewhat smaller emphases on Russia Romania and South Africa It chronicles explains and analyzes western assistance efforts in Eastern Europe between 1989 and 2000 in the context of the political and economic events of the period with particular emphasis on the activities of The Andrew W Mellon Foundation Factors that made transfers more or less successful and the role of social institutions and human factors will be highlighted Significant illustrations include the creation of a small enterprise sectors MBA programs economic programs and new markets and financial institutions The material provides the reader with a clear understanding of how institutions for economic education emerged in Central and Eastern Europe what role of US foundations and academic institutions played and what the interplay with local personalities involved

European Economic Integration and South-East Europe Klaus Liebscher, 2005-01-01 Offers a collection of contributions combining authoritative views of central bank officials and policymakers topical empirical evidence from academia and refreshing practical insights from companies doing business in the area This book will be useful to economists as well as those generally interested in the future of the EU
