Shifts of Power Zhitian Luo, 2017-10-17 In Shifts of Power Modern Chinese Thought and Society Luo Zhitian brings together nine essays to explore the causes and consequences of various shifts of power in modern Chinese society including the shift from scholars to intellectuals from the traditional state to the modern state and from the people to society Adopting a microhistorical approach Luo situates these shifts at the intersection of social change and intellectual evolution in the midst of modern China s culture wars with the West Those culture wars produced new problems for China but also provided some new intellectual resources as Chinese scholars and intellectuals grappled with the collisions and convergences of old and new in late Qing and early Republican China

Diplomacy and Deception Bruce Elleman, 2016-09-16 During the Soviet period the USSR conducted diplomatic relations with incumbent regimes while simultaneously cultivating and manipulating communist movements in those same countries The Chinese case offers a particularly interesting example of this dual policy for when the Chinese Communists came to power in 1949 their discovery of the nature of Moscow's imperial designs on Chinese territory sowed distrust between the two revolutionary powers and paved the way to the Sino Soviet split Drawing on newly available documents from archives in China Taiwan Russia and Japan this study examines secret agreements signed by Moscow and the Peking government in 1924 and confirmed by a Soviet Japanese convention in 1925 These agreements essentially allowed the Bolsheviks to reclaim most of tsarist Russia's concessions and privileges in China including not only Imperial properties but also Outer Mongolia the Chinese Eastern Railway the Boxer Indemnity and the right of extraterritoriality Each of these topics is analyzed in this volume and translations of the secret protocols themselves are included in a documentary appendix Additional chapters discuss Sino Soviet diplomacy and the parallel history of Soviet relations with the Chinese Communist Party as well as the origins and purpose of the United Front policy Diplomacy and Deception Bruce A. News under Fire China's Propaganda against Japan in the English Language Press 1928-1941 is the first comprehensive study of China's efforts to establish an effective international propaganda system during the Sino-Japanese crisis. It explores how the weak Nationalist government managed to use its limited resources to compete with Japan in the international press. By retrieving the long neglected history of English language papers published in the treaty ports, Shuge Wei reveals a multilayered and often chaotic English language media environment in China and demonstrates its vital importance in defending China's sovereignty. Chinese bilingual elites played an important role in linking the party-led propaganda system with the treaty port press. Yet the development of propaganda institutions did not foster the realization of individual ideals. As the Sino-Japanese crisis deepened, the war machine absorbed treaty port journalists into the militarized propaganda system and dashed their hopes of maintaining a liberal information order. A superbly researched and well-nuanced account of an overlooked topic: nationalist China's propaganda system and the multiple ways in which it intersected with the treaty port foreign language press of the time. Combining a wealth of archival and newspaper sources, it is destined to be on the must-read list of all who are interested in state propaganda and news dissemination in the Republican period. Julia C. Strauss, professor of Chinese politics, SOAS University of London. An absorbing and well-sourced study of KMT propaganda efforts to convince the United States to side with China rather than Japan in WWII. The study shows how the KMT, facing a massive power asymmetry compared to its Japanese opponent, managed to effectively use the soft power of foreign propaganda. Rudolf G. Wagner, senior professor of Chinese studies, Cluster of Excellence Asia and Europe, Heidelberg University, Germany.

Peacemakers
Margaret MacMillan, 2025-08-14. WITH A NEW FOREWORD BY MAX HASTINGS. WINNER OF THE DUFF COOPER PRIZE 2001. WINNER OF THE PEN HESSELL TILTMAN PRIZE 2002. WINNER OF THE SAMUEL JOHNSON PRIZE 2003. A ground-breaking book. The story of Europe's diplomatic meltdown has never been better told. Spectator. Enjoyable and illuminating. MacMillan is that wonderful combination: an academic and scholar who writes well with a marvellous clarity of thought. ANTONY BEEVOR, The Times. Between January and July 1919, after the war to end all wars, men and women from all over the world converged on Paris for the Peace Conference. At its heart were the leaders of the three great powers: Woodrow Wilson, Lloyd George, and Clemenceau, Kings, prime ministers, and foreign ministers, with their crowds of advisers, rubbed shoulders with journalists and lobbyists for a hundred causes, from Armenian independence to women's rights. Everyone had business in Paris that year. T. E. Lawrence, Queen Marie of Romania, Maynard Keynes, Ho Chi Minh. There had never been anything like it before, and there never has been since. For six extraordinary months, the city was effectively the centre of world government, as the peacemakers wound up bankrupt empires and created new countries. They pushed Russia to the sidelines, alienated China, and dismissed the Arabs, struggled with the problems of Kosovo, of the Kurds, and of a homeland for the Jews. The peacemakers, so it has been said, failed, dismally failed, above all to prevent another war. Margaret MacMillan argues that they have unfairly been made scapegoats for the mistakes of those who came later They tried to be evenhanded but their goals to make defeated countries pay without destroying them to satisfy impossible nationalist dreams to prevent the spread of Bolshevism and to establish a world order based on democracy and reason could not be achieved by diplomacy Peacemakers offers a prismatic view of the moment when much of the modern world was first sketched out

China and the End of Global Silver, 1873-1937 Austin Dean, 2020-11-15 In the late nineteenth century as much of the world adopted some variant of the gold standard China remained the most populous country still using silver Yet China had no unified national currency there was not one monetary standard but many Silver coins circulated alongside chunks of silver and every transaction became an encounter of wits China and the End of Global Silver 1873 1937 focuses on how officials policy makers bankers merchants academics and journalists in China and around the world answered a simple question how should China change its monetary system Far from a narrow technical issue Chinese monetary reform is a dramatic story full of political revolutions economic depressions chance and contingency As different governments in China attempted to create a unified monetary standard in the late nineteenth and early twentieth century the United States England and Japan tried to shape the direction of Chinese monetary reform for their own benefit Austin Dean argues convincingly that the Silver Era in world history ended owing to the interaction of imperial competition in East Asia and the state building projects of different governments in China When the Nationalist government of China went off the silver standard in 1935 it marked a key moment not just in Chinese history but in world history

The USA in the Making of the USSR Paul Dukes, 2004-09-16 The USA's contribution to the making of the USSR was accidental In the belief that the Russian Socialist Federative Soviet Republic could not survive American statesmen strove to keep the former Tsarist empire intact for a non communist successor regime in the face of attempts by other powers to carve out spheres of influence in both European and Asiatic Russia In this manner they unwittingly facilitated the formation of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics This book shows the importance of the Russian question at the Washington Conference and throws light on the emergence of the Versailles Washington system of international relations
