Paula In Italian Translated By Gianni Guadalupi:

Drawing Relationships in Northern Italian Renaissance Art Giancarla Periti, 2017-07-05 Vasari's celebration of the art of the central Italian cities of Florence Rome and Venice has long left in shadow the art of northern Italy. The economic and historical decline of the region compounded this effect with the dispersal of the treasures of the Farnese to Naples the Este to Dresden and the Gonzaga to Madrid and Paris. Each chapter in this volume celebrates a stunning work from the region among them Correggio's famed Camera di San Paolo in Parma Parmigianino's Camerino in the Rocca Sanvitale near Parma the studiolo of Alberto Pio at Carpi and the Tomb of the Ancestors in the Tempio Malatestiano in Rimini. The volume as a whole offers fascinating insights into the tussle between the maniera moderna and the maniera devota in the first half of the sixteenth century when the unity between the elegance and beauty of art and its religious significance came under debate. Around the year 1550 when Michelangelo's Last Judgement came under attack for impiety and lasciviousness and the reformists called for an art that would invoke in the viewer a devotional response that identified manifestations of the divine with human feelings and emotions. In northern Italy it was on the foundation laid by Correggio with his tenderness and ability to evoke the softness of living flesh that the Carracci brothers built their reform of painting. In the Footsteps of Dante Teresa Bartolomei, Joao R. Figueiredo, 2023-01-30 Dante the pilgrim is the image of an author who stubbornly looks ahead seeking and building the Great Beyond. Manguel. Following in his footsteps is therefore not a return to the past going rebours but a commitment to the future to exploring the potential of humanity to transhumanise. This dynamic of self transcendence in Dante's humanism. Ossola which claims for European civilisation a vocation for universalism. Ferroni is analysed in the volume at three crucial moments. Firstly the establishment of an emancipatory relationship between author and reader. Ascoli in which authorship is authority and not power. Secondly the conception of vision as a learning process and horizon of eschatological overcoming. Mendonça. Finally the relationship with the past which is never purely monumental but ethically and intertextually dynamic in an original rewriting of the original scriptural medieval and classical culture. Nasti Bolzoni. Bartolomei. A second group of contributions is dedicated to the reconstruction of Dante's presence in Portuguese literature. Almeida Espirito Santo. Figueiredo. Marnoto. Vaz de Carvalho. They attest to the innovative impact of Dante's work even in literary traditions more distant from it. Italian Books and Periodicals, 1974 Translating Travel Loredana Polezzi, 2001 Translating Travel examines the relationship between travel writing and translation asking what happens when books travel beyond the narrow confines of one genre one literary system and one culture. The volume takes as its starting point the marginal position of contemporary Italian travel writing in the Italian literary system and proposes a comparative reading of originals and translations designed to highlight the varying reception of texts in different cultures. Two main themes in the book are the affinity between the representations produced by travel and the practices of translation and the complex links between travel writing and genres such as ethnography journalism autobiography and fiction. Individual chapters are devoted to Italian travellers accounts of Tibet and their English translations the hybridization of journalism and travel writing in the works of Oriana Fallaci Italo Calvino s sublimation of travel writing in the stylized fiction of Le città invisibili and the complex network of literary references which marked the reception of Claudio Magris s Danubio in different cultures BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved FMR ,2002
