Pavane For Another Time:

The Formalesque Bernard Smith, 2007 In this well illustrated book Professor Bernard Smith who is often referred to as the father of art history in Australia condenses the arguments presented in an earlier publication Modernisms History 1998 into a very accessible and helpful text will prove useful for students and arts interested readers He begins by listing and carefully explaining those terms which frequently occur in arts literature dealing with the modern period and then goes on to show that modernism has become an historical period with its art forms both institutionalised and globalised Now an historical entity art history's basic tools can be employed to explain and describe it They include an investigation of the period's style use of form and attitudes to meaning In his defence of art history's traditions and methodologies he argues that the period that encompasses modernism in the arts might now be known as The Formalesque Murujuga José Antonio González Zarandona, 2020-01-17 A fascinating case study of the archaeological site at Murujuga Australia Located in the Dampier Archipelago of Western Australia Murujuga is the single largest archaeological site in the world It contains an estimated one million petroglyphs or rock art motifs produced by the Indigenous Australians who have historically inhabited the archipelago To date there has been no comprehensive survey of the site's petroglyphs or those who created them Since the 1960s regional mining interests have caused significant damage to this site destroying an estimated 5 to 25 percent of the petroglyphs in Murujuga Today Murujuga holds the unenviable status of being one of the most endangered archaeological sites in the world Jos Antonio Gonz lez Zarandona provides a full postcolonial analysis of Murujuga as well as a geographic and archaeological overview of the site its ethnohistory and its considerable significance to Indigenous groups before examining the colonial mistreatment of Murujuga from the seventeenth century to the present Drawing on a range of postcolonial perspectives Zarandona reads the assaults on the rock art of Murujuga as instances of what he terms landscape iconoclasm the destruction of art and landscapes central to group identity in pursuit of ideological political and economic dominance Viewed through the lens of landscape iconoclasm the destruction of Murujuga can be understood as not only the result of economic pressures but also as a means of reinforcing through neglect abandonment fragmentation and even certain practices of heritage preservation the colonial legacy in Western Australia Murujuga provides a case study through which to examine and begin to reject archaeology's global entanglement with colonial intervention and the politics of heritage preservation The Art of Grahame King Sasha Grishin, Libby Bright, Caroline Field, 2005 Grahame King's life as an artist began with his mastery of the new art of colour reproduction as a photolithographic colour etcher in Melbourne in the 1930s At the same time study at the National Gallery Art School with George Bell assisted his development as a painter After war service and travels abroad King returned to Melbourne with his wife the sculptor Inge King The two held a number of joint exhibitions of paintings and sculptures in Australia throughout the 1950s and then from c 1962 Grahame King turned his attention increasingly towards the art of lithography becoming a master in this field of printmaking He has also devoted himself to promoting the art of lithography and printmaking generally through the Print Council of Australia He is often called Australia's patron saint of printmaking The book examines his seven decades working as an artist in Melbourne and is lavishly illustrated with colour reproductions throughout

The Slow Evolution of Foster Care in Australia Nell Musgrove, Deidre Michell, 2018-08-10 This book draws on archival oral history and public policy sources to tell a history of foster care in Australia from the nineteenth century to the present day It is primarily a social history which places the voices of people directly touched by foster care at the centre of the story but also within the wider social and political debates which have shaped foster care across more than a century The book confronts foster care's difficult past death and abuse of foster children family separation and a general public apathy towards these issues but it also acknowledges the resilience of people who have survived a childhood in foster care and the challenges faced by those who have worked hard to provide good foster homes and to make child welfare systems better These are themes which the book examines from an Australian perspective but which often resonate with foster care globally

The Last Tour Ann Curthoys, 2025-07-16 Paul Robeson was once the most famous African American in the world Not only was he a renowned singer and actor with a stunning bass baritone voice revered throughout the world he was also a former professional athlete lawyer and civil rights activist To the delight of his many fans he and his wife Eslanda a notable civil rights activist author United Nations journalist and anthropologist were finally able to tour Australia and New Zealand First mooted in the 1930s it had been delayed by war and then the Cold War when Paul's outspoken support for the Soviet Union and against his country's race relations had led the US government to deny him a passport until 1958 Now in 1960 the tour occurred at a time when the world was at the tipping point between the Cold War 1950s and the turbulent 1960s The Robesons' tour encompassed concerts the first one ever at the Sydney Opera House which was still under construction talks to unionists fans women's organisations communists and peace activists It involved active engagement with Indigenous peoples and their struggles in both countries Through their engagement with a wide range of people we see life on the far Left the emergence of new forms of Aboriginal and Maori protest and the reception and influence of African American entertainers in Australia and New Zealand By bringing Eslanda's work as a writer and journalist to the fore historian Ann Curthoys sheds light on the intersections of race gender and women's political activism Based on extensive new documentary and oral history research The Last Tour explores why Paul and Eslanda Robeson's trip was such a success and how it exerted a profound influence both at the time and over future generations No man I've ever met has so impressed me with his personal greatness He's so simple and unaffected in his manner so dignified it's the man himself I think who demonstrates the greatness of the human spirit Katharine Susannah Prichard on Paul Robeson

Texts and Contexts Doug Munro, Brij V. Lal, 2005-11-30

Texts and Contexts is concerned with the development of Pacific Islands history as a specialization in its own right

Specifically this volume examines the foundational texts that pioneered and consolidated the new subdiscipline and served as the building blocks and stepping stone for further developments in the field Thirty five texts all of which represent defining points in the development of Pacific Islands historiography are examined Much more than retrospective appraisals of the foundational texts the individual chapters consider a text or complimentary texts within the context of the time of writing and gauge what ongoing influence they exerted In some cases they suggest how a particular text has been superseded by subsequent work that breaks new conceptual ground in the ongoing process of revisionism Contributors Chris Ballard on Gavin Souter Ivan Brady on Greg Denning I C Campbell on Norma McArthur Bronwen Douglas and Doug Munro on H E Maude and Dorothy Shineberg Michael Goldsmith on Marshall Sahlins David Hanlon on Francis X Hezel K R Howe on Andrew Sharp and David Lewis Brij V Lal on K L Gillion and Peter Corris Hugh Laracy on Niel Gunson and Ta unga Lamont Lindstrom on Peter Worsley and Peter Lawrence Doug Munro on Douglas L Oliver R P Gilson J W Davidson and K R Howe Vincent O Malley on Keith Sinclair and Alan Ward Jon Osorio on Ralph Kuykendall and Gavan Daws Tom Ryan on Bernard Smith Jane Samson on W P Morrell and Deryck Scarr Francis West on Francis West and Gavan Daws Glyndwr Williams on O H K Spate
