Rape Donna Iven Qureshi,1979 Shelley's Process Jerrold E. Hogle,1989-01-12 In this set of thorough and revisionary readings of Percy Bysshe Shelley's best known writings in verse and prose Hogle argues that the logic and style in all these works are governed by a movement in every thought memory image or word pattern whereby each is seen and sees itself in terms of a radically different form For any specified entity or figure to be known for what it is it must be reconfigured by and in terms of another one at another level which must then be dislocated itself In so delineating Shelley's process Hogle reveals the revisionary procedure in the poet's various texts and demonstrates the powerful effects of radical transference in Shelley's visions of human possibility The American and English Annotated Cases ,1909 Law

Ethical Issues in Journalism and the Media Andrew Belsey,Ruth Chadwick,2002-09-11 This book examines the ethical concepts which lie at the heart of journalism including freedom democracy truth objectivity honesty and privacy The common concern of the authors is to promote ethical conduct in the practice of journalism as well as the quality of the information that readers and audience receive from the media America the Fearful Benjamin Radford,2022-05-05 National panics about crime immigrants police and societal degradation have been pervasive in the United States of the 21st century Many of these fears begin as mere phantom fears but are systematically amplified by social media news media bad actors and even well intentioned activists There are numerous challenges facing the U S but Americans must sort through which fears are legitimate threats and which are amplified exaggerations This book examines the role of fear in national panics and addresses why many Americans believe the country is in horrible shape and will continue to deteriorate despite contradictory evidence Political polarization racism sexism economic inequality and other social issues are examined Combining media literacy folklore investigative journalism psychology neuroscience and critical thinking approaches this book reveals the powerful role that fear plays in clouding perceptions about the U S It not only records the repercussions of this toxic phenomenon but also offers evidence based solutions The Library of Literary Criticism of English and American Authors: 1730-1784 Charles Wells Moulton,1902 The Production of English Renaissance Culture David Lee Miller,Sharon O'Dair,Harold Weber,2019-05-15 What is the relationship between the cultural artifacts of Renaissance England and the processes of production exchange and accumulation through which they were brought into being Pursuing this question a group of distinguished scholars from both sides of the Atlantic exemplifies a number of different approaches to the writing of cultural history On Violence in History Philip Dwyer,Mark S. Micale,2020-01-10 Is global violence on the decline Scholars argue that Harvard psychologist Steven Pinker s proposal that violence has declined dramatically over time is flawed This highly publicized argument that human violence across the world has been dramatically abating continues to influence discourse among academics and the general public alike In this provocative volume a cast of eminent historians interrogate Pinker s thesis by exposing the realities of violence throughout human history In doing so they reveal the history of human violence to be richer more thought provoking and considerably more complicated than Pinker claims From the introduction Not all of the scholars included in this volume agree on everything but the overall verdict is that Pinker s thesis for all the stimulus it may have given to discussions around violence is seriously if not fatally flawed The problems that come up time and again are the failure to genuinely engage with historical methodologies the unquestioning use of dubious sources the tendency to exaggerate the violence of the past in order to contrast it with the supposed peacefulness of the modern era the creation of a number of straw men which Pinker then goes on to debunk and its extraordinarily Western centric not to say Whiggish view of the world Complex historical questions as the essays in this volume clearly demonstrate cannot be answered with any degree of certainty and certainly not in a simplistic way Our goal here is not to offer a final definitive verdict on Pinker s work it is rather to initiate an ongoing process of assessment that in the future will incorporate as much of the history profession as possible Black Women in America Kim Marie Vaz,1994-11-02 This stimulating volume challenges the tendency to represent African American women s experiences as a monolithic whole The interdisciplinary approach organized around the theme of activism enables an unusual and inventive selection of topics to be presented The history culture sociology and psychology of black women are richly represented History and Memory in African-American Culture Genevieve Fabre Professor of American Literature University of Paris,Robert O'Meally Professor of English and African-American Studies Columbia University,1994-10-29 As Nathan Huggins once stated altering American history to account fully for the nation s black voices would change the tone and meaning the frame and the substance of the entire story Rather than a sort of Pilgrim s Progress tale of bold ascent and triumph American history with the black parts told in full would be transmuted into an existential tragedy closer Huggins said to Sartre s No Exit than to the vision of life in Bunyan The relation between memory and history has received increasing attention both from historians and from literary critics In this volume a group of leading scholars has come together to examine the role of historical consciousness and imagination in African American culture The result is a complex picture of the dynamic ways in which African American historical identity constantly invents and transmits itself in literature art oral documents and performances Each of the scholars represented has chosen a different site of memory from a variety of historical and geographical points and from different ideological theoretical and artistic perspectives Yet the book is unified by a common concern with the construction of an emerging African American cultural memory The renowned group of contributors including Hazel Carby Werner Sollors Veve Clark Catherine Clinton and Nellie McKay among others consists of participants of the five year series of conferences at the DuBois Institute at Harvard University from which this collection originated Conducted under the leadership of Genevieve Fabre Melvin Dixon and the late Nathan Huggins the conferences and as a result this book represent something of a cultural moment themselves and scholars and students of American and African American literature and history will be richer as a result
