No Rapture Jack Wasson, 2009-03 Forty million copies of the Left Behind series have been sold. The authors state freely their series is a work of fiction. Fiction is not a sin nor even criminal. But should fiction evolve into theology? The first rule of authorship: Identify your audience. This book is not for everyone. It is only for those who have ever wondered about the scriptural basis for the Rapture. Jack Wasson has been a student of the Bible since he was a teenager. In 1972 he graduated from Southwestern Assemblies of God College Waxahachie Texas. In 1979 he graduated summa cum laude from the University of Texas Arlington with multiple bachelor's degrees that included modern European history, international political science and psychology. He served in the Army as an officer in military intelligence. As an independent businessman he has worked in real estate, oil development, construction and finance. He has been actively involved in evangelistic and mission's work since 1972. He travels frequently to the Middle East. This is his first book.

The Rapture Liz Jensen, 2009-08-11 That summer the summer all the rules began to change. June seemed to last for a thousand years. The temperature was merciless: ninety-eight, ninety-nine, then a hundred in the shade. It was heat to die in, to go nuts or to spawn in. Old folks collapsed, dogs were cooked alive in cars, lovers couldn't keep their hands off each other. The sky pressed down like a furnace lid, shrinking the subsoil, cracking concrete, killing shrubs from the roots up. In the parched suburbs, ice cream trucks plinked their baby tunes into streets that sweated tar. Down at the harbor, the sea reflected the sun in tiny barbaric mirrors. Asphyxiated, you longed for rain. It didn't come from The Rapture by Liz Jensen. It's a blazing hot summer in the not too distant future. Thirty-five year old psychologist Gabrielle Fox is painfully rebuilding her life after a terrible accident that has left her a paraplegic and her lover dead. The effects of incapacitating memories and guilt have led to Gabrielle's dismissal from her London job. Craving anonymity and a fresh start, she moves to the coastal town of Hadport and accepts the first post she is offered as an art therapist at a lackluster institution for dangerously psychopathic teens. Gabrielle's predecessor is on emergency leave thanks to an unhealthy obsession with Bethany Krall, now Gabrielle's patient. A punky and precocious wild child with matted hair and Kohl-rimmed eyes, Bethany's claim to fame is that she murdered her own mother with a screwdriver. Aside from a gift for rip roaring verbal obscenities and a knack for intuiting the inner torments of strangers Bethany has the uncanny ability to gleefully forecast the environmental catastrophes now befalling the earth at a terrifying rate Though skeptical at first Gabrielle finds herself preoccupied with Bethany her alarm and fascination swelling with every accurate prediction Seeking a rational explanation Gabrielle connects with the big hearted Scottish geophysicist Frazer Melville an expert on global weather patterns Though Frazer is not able to give Gabrielle the easy answer she hopes for she finds comfort in his presence and perhaps even attraction The two begin a tentative romance as Gabrielle realizes that the door to her sexual life may not be closed after all Meanwhile the enormous human cost of each global cataclysm is tallied in advance by a jubilant Bethany who likes to toss in a few snippets of scripture memorized at the knee of her father the charismatic fundamentalist preacher Leonard Krall Gabrielle suspects Krall of having more to do with his wife and child s ruin than he admits to but before she can fully investigate she and Frazer must put their reputations on the line and find a way to warn humanity of the looming apocalypse Raved about in The Times as an unputdownable eco thriller and already optioned for film by Warner Brothers Liz Jensen s The Rapture once again proves Jensen to be a master of page turning suspense Readers will be entertained by the pyrotechnics of this hugely intelligent and wholly original voice while unnerved by the high voltage ecological horror story that feels all too plausible in our time

Dark Rapture Michele Hauf,2008 PLEASURE BEYOND LIMITS When Sebastian DelaCourte first glimpses Scarlet Rose his desire for her is eclipsed only by the shock of recognition Sebastian believes in love at first sight he experienced it before centuries ago for a beautiful vampire who disappeared without a trace and left him cursed with an unending thirst Now a wildly successful musician with legions of adoring fans Sebastian can have any women he chooses but it is Scarlet s lifeblood that calls to him She is his mate and his destiny If she will only surrender to his kiss DANGER BEYOND IMAGINING Drawn to Sebastian by a compelling mysterious need Scarlet succumbs to her darkest desires following him into a midnight realm of ecstasy But when a twist of fate sweeps her back in time Scarlet is confronted with dangerous secrets an enemy consumer by revenge and a desperate choice to curse Sebastian to a vampire s unholy fate or spend eternity without him
