Reversing The Tide Priorities For Hiv Aids Prevention In Central Asia:

Reversing the Tide ,2005 Reversing the Tide ,2005 Reversing the Tide Joana Godinho,2005 Although the number of reported cases of HIV in Central Asia is very low the growth rate of the epidemic about 500 cases in 2000 to over 12 000 in 2004 is a cause for serious concern This study identifies critical gaps and makes recommendations for further action that will ensure effective early prevention of HIV AIDS in Central Asia Public Health Aspects of HIV/AIDS in Low and Middle Income Countries David Celentano,Chris Beyrer,2008-09-11 It has now been 25 years since the apocryphal report in the CDC Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report dated June 5 1981 entitled Pneumocystis Pneumonia Los Angeles which announced what was to become HIV AIDS HIV has now affected virtually all countries that have looked for it and has had a devastating impact on the public health and medical care infrastructure around the world HIV AIDS has also disproportionately affected nations with the least capacity to confront it especially the developing world nations in Sub Saharan Africa South and Southeast Asia and the emerging republics of Eastern and Central Asia The pandemic unlike any other disease of our time has had profound impacts on the practice of public health itself bringing affected communities into decision making demanding North South partnerships and collaborations and changing the basic conduct of clinical and prevention trials research While much has been written in scholarly publications for medical epidemiologic and disease control specialists there is no comprehensive review of the public health impact and response to HIV AIDS in the developing world This edited volume seeks to systematically describe the emergence and form of the epidemics epidemiology the social community and political response and the various measures to confront and control the epidemic with varying levels of success Of particular importance are strategies that appear to have been useful in ameliorating the epidemic while contrasting the situation in a neighboring country or region where contrasting prevention or care initiatives have had a deleterious outcome Common to all responses has been the international multi sectoral response represented by the Global Fund for HIV AIDS Malaria and Tuberculosis the President s Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief and the Gates Foundation among others to promote HIV pharmacologic therapy in resource poor settings The chapter authors will explore the political challenges in meeting HIV AIDS prevention and care in concert with the public health realities in specific country and regional context HIV/AIDS in Europe World Health Organization. Regional Office for Europe,2006 Tells the story of HIV AIDS in Europe from a broad variety of perspectives bio medical social cultural economic and political The authors are leading experts from across the region and include both the infected and the affected be they doctors or former drug users United Nations employees or gay men public health researchers or community activists They describe how from the first documented cases in 1981 to the present era of antiretroviral management controlling the human immunodeficiency virus in Europe has provided elusive HIV/Aids in the Western Balkans ,2005-01-01 In recent years Europe and Central Asia has experienced the world s fastest growing HIV AIDS epidemic Yet in the Western Balkan countries the HIV prevalence rate is under 0.1 percent which ranks among the lowest. This may be due to a low level of infection among the population or partly due to inadequate surveillance systems. All major contributing factors for the breakout of an HIV/AIDS epidemic are present in the Western Balkans. HIV/AIDS disproportionately affects youth; 80 percent of HIV-infected people are 30 years old or younger. Most of the Western Balkan countries have very young populations.

Drugs and Public Health in Post-Soviet Central Asia Muiyassar Turaeva, 2022-08-27. The book outlines post-Soviet style of health management in Central Asia. Regional studies on Central Asia to date have focused on states, politics, religion, and inter-ethnic relations but not on the health system within the region. Soviet-style policies have also covered only other aspects relevant for the region. This book highlights the public health situation of the region with a focus on drug abuse, HIV/AIDS in the context of increased mobility and drug trafficking routes which became even more porous after the break-up of the Soviet Union. Based on a qualitative study, the empirical data in the book was collected during long-term fieldwork conducted in Uzbekistan and Turkmenistan in 2010-2011 as well as shorter stays in Uzbekistan between 2012-2016. The analysis of the empirical material largely draws on the works of Foucault, particularly his concept of biopolitics when analyzing Soviet-style health management that is still practiced in the region. Applying the Foucauldian genealogical method, this study has been structured to trace the genealogy of epidemics to understand the historical path of drug abuse in the region as well as the discursive genealogy of drug politics and drug abuse. Applying the same genealogical method of Foucault, the formative and discursive trajectory of the institution of Uchyot was traced to contextualize the health governance methods that have historical legacy of Soviet-style governance and control of the total population. Drugs and Public Health in Post-Soviet Central Asia: Soviet Style Health Management is a unique resource for academic specialists, practitioners, professionals, and advanced undergraduate and graduate students in public health as well as a range of scholars and professionals in sociology, political science, anthropology, and anyone with an interest in the Central Asia region, drug addiction, or HIV. The book also could appeal to international donors in the field of HIV drug addiction who are working in the region.

Humanitarian Aid in Post-Soviet Countries Laetitia Atlani-Duault, 2008-01-07. An anthropologist among aid workers. Her objective is to study that exotic tribe: humanitarian and development workers along with their state and non-state partners as they export democracy to post-Soviet countries of Central Asia and the Caucasus. Her method: to join the tribe for ten years. From New York to Alma Ata by way of Geneva and Baku. Laetitia Atlani-Duault provides both an understanding of the individuals working in the field and a critical analysis of the sweeping political implications of NGO activities. A focus on supposedly depoliticized policy areas, notably the prevention of HIV/AIDS epidemic, provides wider insights into the objectives and practices of international aid workers in countries beset by rising poverty, drug trafficking, prostitution, and decaying education and health services. The author also provides a rich canvas of human stories from the workshops in which diametrically opposed political approaches often clash to the occasional small triumphs in which effective public health interventions are worked out. This timely book will be of great interest not only to scholars of post soviet countries but also to those interested in humanitarian and development aid worldwide It will also be relevant for the study of the anthropology of development as well as medical and political anthropology Health Systems And The Challenge Of Communicable Diseases: Experiences From Europe And Latin America Coker, Richard, Atun, Rifat, McKee, Martin, 2008-05-01 This fascinating book looks at two regions where rapid economic changes means that many health systems must undergo organisational transition and find ways of adapting to an ever changing context AIDS Epidemic Update, December 2006 Joint United Nations Programme on HIV/AIDS., World Health Organization, 2006 This annual update reports on developments in the global HIV AIDS epidemic and draws on the most recent data available to give global and regional estimates of its scope and human toll Despite promising developments in global efforts to address the AIDS epidemic including increased access to effective treatment and prevention programmes the number of people living with HIV continues to grow as does the number of deaths due to AIDS Findings for 2006 include the total number of people living with HIV is estimated at 39.5 million 4.3 million new cases during the year and an estimated 2.9 million deaths Sub Saharan Africa continues to bear the brunt of the global epidemic with 63 per cent of all adults and children with HIV globally and with its epicentre in southern Africa In the past two years the number of people living with HIV increased in every region in the world with the most striking increases in East Asia Eastern Europe and Central Asia where the number of people living with HIV in 2006 was over 21 per cent higher than in 2004
