International Encyclopedia of Social Policy Tony Fitzpatrick, Huck-ju Kwon, Nick Manning, James Midgley, Gillian Pascall, 2013-07-04 Available in paperback for the first time this milestone work offers an in depth treatment of all aspects of the discipline and practice of social policy globally Supported by a distinguished international advisory board the editors have compiled almost 900 000 words across 734 entries written by 284 leading specialists to provide authoritative coverage of concepts policy actors welfare institutions and services along a series of national regional and transnational dimensions Also included are biographical entries on major policy makers and shapers The editors have particularly striven to provide strong coverage of differing geographical and cultural traditions so that the variety of social policy as both an academic discipline and a domain of governance is reflected Contributors draw in and make the necessary connections with social policy's associated disciplines to provide a rich picture of this vast and highly diverse field Comprehensive and authoritative the Encyclopedia has sought to open up rather than to foreclose the numerous areas in which there is on going research debate and sometimes serious disagreement and divergence in theory and practice To this end entries attempt to introduce a core or common ground of understanding before moving on to a wider discussion of debates regarding different conceptual and geographical approaches The whole is integrated by cross referencing and each entry includes a bibliography for further reading There is a full index The International Encyclopedia of Social Policy provides the most substantial mapping of the international study and practice of social policy to date and will stand as a vital storehouse of knowledge for many years to come

Social Policy and Privatisation Mark Drakeford, 2018-10-08 Privatisation and Social Policy follows this format while addressing one of the key issues of recent years namely the covert but undeniable impact of growing privatisation on the development and implementation of social policy As the text demonstrates there is no area of policy which privatisation has not affected resulting in the gradual transfer of responsibility from the public to the private sphere in areas such as education housing health social security and social services Social Policy in Britain Pete Alcock, Lee

Partnerships, New Labour and the Governance of Welfare Glendinning, Caroline, Powell, Martin, Kirstein Rummery, 2002-07-03 Current policy encourages partnerships between statutory organisations and professionals public and private sectors with voluntary organisations and local communities But is this collaborative discourse really as distinctive as the Labour Government claims How far do contemporary partnerships exemplify an approach to governing which is based on networks as distinct from hierarchies and markets Partnerships New Labour and the governance of welfare provides an up to date critical analysis of partnerships addresses the highly topical theme of partnerships as the means of achieving joined up government presents empirical evidence from a wide range of welfare partnerships examines the relationships between local welfare partnerships and the management of those partnerships by central government reveals the imbalance of power which characterises many contemporary partnerships It is essential reading for academics and students of contemporary social and public policy and for those with an interest in networks and other theories of welfare governance

Co-production Victor Pestoff,Taco Brandsen,2013-09-13 Public management research has in recent years paid increasing attention to the third sector especially to its role in the provision of public services Evidence of this is the rising number of publications on the topic as well as a growing number of sessions and papers on the topic in academic conferences of the EGPA and IRSPM However much of the discussion on its role is motivated at least as much by ideology as by fact We still lack a proper empirical understanding of what happens when the third sector is drawn into public service provision In this thematic presentation of Co Production The Third Sector and the Delivery of Public Services we will try to enhance this understanding by presenting several new studies on the subject We also introduce the concepts of co production co management and co governance as a conceptual framework that enables us to better understand such developments

Intellectual Disability: Social Approaches Race, David,2007-09-01 Based on the author s own experience from over 30 years in the field this thought provoking book offers a comparative study of services for people with intellectual disabilities in 7 countries
