Beyond the Threshold Hein Viljoen, C. N. Van der Merwe, 2007 What happens when we cross a significant boundary We step into an unsettling in between zone where we have to abandon accepted structures and truths Yet this liminal zone can also open up possibilities for inner transformation leading to the birth of a new sense of fellowship Since 1994 South Africans have been experiencing the anxieties of old structures breaking down and of new ones being built a process that South African authors have been powerfully representing and questioning Beyond the Threshold analyzes the transformative powers of liminal states and hybridizing processes in literature Its authors discuss a wide range of intriguing liminal characters dangerous liminal situations and unique transformations in recent books mainly from South Africa These books tell the compelling stories of marginal characters giving their stories moral authority while exploring their transformative possibilities From publisher

Something We Have That They Don't Steve & Mark Clark & Ford, Steven H. Clark, 2004-04 There is some connexion I like the way the English spell it They're so clever about some things Probably smarter generally than we are Although there is supposed to be something We have that they don't don't ask me What it is John Ashbery Tenth Symphony Something We Have That They Don't presents a variety of essays on the relationship between British and American poetry since 1925 The essays collected here all explore some aspect of the rich and complex history of Anglo American poetic relations of the last seventy years Since the dawn of Modernism poets either side of the Atlantic have frequently inspired each other's developments from Frost's galvanizing advice to Edward Thomas to rearrange his prose as verse to Eliot's and Auden's enormous influence on the poetry of their adopted nations whichever Auden is Eliot once replied when asked if he were a British or an American poet I suppose I must be the other from the impact of Charles Olson and other Black Mountain poets on J H Prynne and the Cambridge School to the widespread influence of Frank O'Hara and Robert Lowell on a diverse range of contemporary British poets Clark and Ford's study aims to chart some of the currents of these ever shifting relations. Poets discussed in these essays include John Ashbery, W. H. Auden, Elizabeth Bishop, T. S. Eliot, Mark Ford, Robert Graves, Thom Gunn, Lee Harwood, Geoffrey Hill, Michael Hofmann, Susan Howe, Robert Lowell, and W. B. Yeats. Poetry and sovereignty: Philip Larkin remarked in an interview of 1982, 'are very primitive things these essays consider the ways in which even seemingly very unprimitive poetries can be seen as reflecting and engaging with issues of national sovereignty and self interest and in the process they pose a series of fascinating questions about the national narratives that currently dominate definitions of the British and American poetic traditions. This innovative and exciting new collection will be of great interest to students and scholars of British and American poetry and comparative literature.

Cruelty or Humanity Stuart Rees, 2020-09-23 Cruelty has long been a feature of states domestic and foreign policies but is seldom acknowledged. Governments mouth respect for human rights yet promote discrimination, violence and suppression of critics. Documenting case studies from around the world, distinguished academic and human rights activist Stuart Rees exposes politicians' cruel motives and the resulting outcomes. Using his first hand observations and insights from international poets, he argues for courageous action to support non violence in every aspect of public and private life for the survival of people, animals and the planet.

The Facts on File Companion to World Poetry R. Victoria Arana, 2008 The Facts On File Companion to World Poetry 1900 to the Present is a comprehensive introduction to 20th and 21st century world poets and their most famous, most distinctive and most influential poems.

J.M. Coetzee and the Paradox of Postcolonial Authorship Jane Poyner, 2016-05-06 In her analysis of the South African novelist J. M. Coetzee's literary and intellectual career, Jane Poyner illuminates the author's abiding preoccupation with what Poyner calls the paradox of postcolonial authorship: Writers of conscience or conscience stricken writers of the kind Coetzee portrays whilst striving symbolically to bring the stories of the marginal and the oppressed to light, always risk reimposing the very authority they seek to challenge. From Dusklands to Diary of a Bad Year, Poyner traces how Coetzee rehearses and revises his understanding of the ethics of intellectualism in parallel with the emergence of the new South Africa. She contends that Coetzee's modernist aesthetics facilitate a more exacting critique of the problems that encumber postcolonial authorship, including the authority it necessarily engenders. Poyner is attentive to the ways Coetzee's writing addresses the writer's proper role with respect to the changing ethical demands of contemporary political life. Theoretically sophisticated and accessible, her book is a major contribution to our understanding of the Nobel Laureate and to postcolonial studies.

The Red Flag David Priestland, 2016-05-03 The best and the most accessible one volume history of communism now available. A far reaching, vividly written account. Foreign Affairs. In The Red Flag, Oxford professor David Priestland tells the epic story of a movement that has taken root in dozens of countries across two hundred years, from its birth after the French Revolution to its ideological maturity in nineteenth century Germany, to its rise to dominance and subsequent fall in the twentieth century. Beginning with the first modern Communists in the age of

Robespierre Priestland examines the motives of thinkers and leaders including Marx Engels Lenin Stalin Castro Che Guevara Mao Ho Chi Minh Gorbachev and many others Priestland also shows how Communism in all its varieties appealed to different societies for different reasons in some as a response to inequalities and in others more out of a desire to catch up with the West But paradoxically while destroying one web of inequality Communist leaders were simultaneously weaving another It was this dynamic together with widespread economic failure and an escalating loss of faith in the system that ultimately destroyed Soviet Communism itself At a time when global capitalism is in crisis and powerful new political forces have arisen to confront Western democracy The Red Flag is essential reading if we are to apply the lessons of the past to navigating the future Detailed and scholarly but written in lively prose this is a rich satisfying account of the most successful utopian political movement in history Publishers Weekly starred review
