houses and walk its homely lanes and the unpicturesque prolixity of its main street It may be however oh transporting and triumphant thought that the great grandchildren of the present race may sometimes think kindly of the scribbler of bygone days In the mid 1800s when Nathaniel Hawthorne wrote these words in the Custom House preface to The Scarlet Letter he could not have imagined the millions of readers a century later who would think kindly of the scribbler of bygone days and continue to make his novel a best seller The Scarlet Letter A Romance is a novel in a historical setting written by American author Nathaniel Hawthorne It tells the story of Hester Prynne who conceives a daughter through an affair and struggles to create a new life of repentance and dignity Throughout the book Hawthorne explores themes of legalism sin and guilt argues that the central literary experience in nineteenth century America is the puritanical desire for the time before the loss of innocence that endless chance of coming into experience anew Lost in the Customhouse begins with a discussion of Irving Hawthorne Melville Poe Thoreau and Emerson and finds these seminal Renaissance writers waking up primarily to psychological facts which blossomed into the fiction of a self begotten out of the nothingness of experience In part 2 Loving shifts his attention to the urbanization of the American imagination and discusses Whitman Twain Dickinson James Chopin and Dreiser Here the dream driven impulse is more clearly influenced by social history abolition women s suffrage industrialization and the growth of professionalism Loving focuses upon the role of the woman who finds herself on the same frontier as her male precursors with nothing but a carpetbag that is to say the American ego Throughout the study Loving challenges the notion that American literature is preponderately cultural work In the epilogue he packs up his own carpetbag and passes through the European customhouse to find that American writers are more readily perceived as literary geniuses outside of their culture than within it The scarlet letter and The Blithedale romance Nathaniel Hawthorne,1883 The scarlet letter, with illustr. by F.O.C.
