America's National Heritage Areas Robert Manning, 2022-06-15 There are fifty five National Heritage Areas scattered across the US and they continue to grow in number and diversity Though they're not officially national parks their conservation education and recreation related objectives echo those of the national parks to conserve nationally significant natural and cultural landscapes and to make them available to the public for purposes of education recreation and sustainable tourism related economic development But the methods of achieving these objectives are different very different than those used in the national parks While both national parks and NHAs are established by Congress national parks are conventionally large areas of public land that are owned and managed by the National Park Service NPS NHAs take a more inclusive partnership based approach to their work they offer local citizens government at all levels non profit organizations and private sector enterprises the opportunity to define celebrate and conserve the natural historic cultural scenic and recreational resources that have been vital in shaping their identity and destiny NHAs are composed primarily of private lands they're living landscapes where participants reside work and play Each chapter in this guidebook describes the remarkable natural and cultural resources that define NHAs and highlights nearby visitor attractions enticing readers to visit NHAs and to enjoy and appreciate the attractions offered
