Scholars Daughter:

Why Jephthah's Daughter Weeps Margaret Murray Talbot, 2022-02-28 Why does Jephthah's daughter weep? Readers have creatively imagined the causes of her tears as she weeps upon her betulim usually translated virginity or maidenhood. But her menstrual cycle's relation to these terms is rarely mentioned. A child-oriented theoretical and methodological foundation and research with post-menarcheal girls provide new answers to oft-raised questions about Bat Yiphtach's weeping and her agency. Through an in-depth philological review and a focus on the excluded middle of the child-adult binary, this translation and interpretation of the story contribute to the field of childhood studies and shows that menarche and menstruation play a larger role in the narrative than readers have realized.

Ein Yaakov Jacob ben Solomon Ibn Ḥabib, 1999-10 This is the only complete English translation of the classic Jewish text known as Ein Yaakov. Ein Yaakov is a collection of all the aggadah, the non-legal material of the Talmud compiled by Rabbi Yaakov ibn Chaviv, the fifteenth-century talmudist. Scattered among the more than 2,700 pages of the Talmud, aggadah focuses on the ethical and inspirational aspects of the Torah way of life. Through a wealth of homilies, anecdotes, allegories, pithy sayings, and interpretations of biblical verses, it has been said that the aggadah brings you closer to God and his Torah.

Mothers and Their Adult Daughters Karen L. Fingerman, Ph.D., 2009-12-02 The mother-daughter tie takes on unique characteristics as daughters enter midlife and mothers enter old age. Incorporating vivid descriptions by mothers and daughters about their relationships, this book addresses both the rewards and the difficulties mothers and daughters experience in maintaining their relationships into old age. Based on interviews with 48 mothers over age 70 and their adult daughters, Dr. Fingerman begins with an overview of this relationship, which she points out can be distinguished from other social ties by the strength of the mother-daughter bond. Next, she discusses the positive features of this bond and various theories about its social and psychological nature. This discussion is followed by an examination of problems encountered between mothers and daughters. The last section looks at reactions of mothers and daughters to tensions, conflicts, communication problems, and other difficulties. This excellent study will be of interest not only to researchers in women's and family studies but to any mother and daughter.

Contesting Justice Ahmed E. Souaiaia, 2010-03-10 Contesting Justice examines the development of the laws and practices governing the status of women in Muslim society, particularly in terms of marriage, polygamy, inheritance, and property rights. Ahmed E. Souaiaia argues that such laws were not methodically derived from legal sources but rather are the preserved understanding and practices of the early ruling elite. Based on his quantitative linguistic and normative analyses of Quranic texts and contrary to the established practice, the author shows that these texts sanction only monogamous marriages, guarantee only female heirs shares, and do not prescribe an inheritance principle that awards males twice the shares of females. He critically explores the way religion is developed and then is transformed into a social control mechanism that transcends legal reform gender sensitive education or radical modernization To ameliorate the legal political and economic status of women in the Islamic world Souaiaia recommends the strengthening of civil society institutions that will challenge wealth engendered majoritism curtail society manufactured conformity and bridle the absolute power of the state The Gift of Light Anita Brockway Ferris, 1917 Aging Mothers and Their Adult Daughters Karen L.
