The Power of Protocols Joseph P. McDonald,Nancy Mohr,Alan Dichter,Elizabeth C. McDonald,2015-04-26 The use of protocols has spread from conferences and workshops to everyday school and university settings Featuring seven protocols this teaching and professional development tool is useful for those working with collaborative groups of teachers on everything from school improvement to curriculum development to teacher education at all levels

Authentic Assessment in Action Linda Darling-Hammond,Beverly F. Falk,Jacqueline Ancess,2017-10-05 This book examines through case studies of elementary and secondary schools how five schools have developed authentic performance based assessments of students learning and how this work has interacted with and influenced the teaching and learning experiences students encounter in school This important and timely book reveals the changing dynamics of classroom life as it moves from more traditional pedagogy to one that asks students to master intellectual and practical skills that are eminently transferable to real life social settings and workplaces The issue of assessment comes first but we see in the following case studies how it becomes powerfully enveloped in the processes of learning and teaching of informing students teachers parents and others of how the children are doing The portraits explicitly and implicitly suggest a deep fair and defensible way to answer the question How m I doing in a manner that helps this child and eventually every child From the Foreword by Theodore RSizer Informative and thought provoking American Journal of Education

Organizing Schools for Productive Learning Shlomo Sharan,Ivy Geok Chin Tan,2008-06-27 A major problem confronting schools is that many students are turned off from learning and are bored Boredom is destructive of learning The No Child Left Behind NCLB initiative of the US government 2001 stemmed from the claim accompanied by sharp debates pro and con that many schools in the United States fail to achieve basic educational objectives and that many schools are doing a poor job for a wide variety of reasons and surely not just because of student boredom Brigham Gustashaw Wiley Essex 2006 Goodman Shannon Goodman Sunderman Tracey Jr Kim Orfield 2004 The model of school organization and instruction presented here seeks to provide an effective plan for significant improvement in secondary school education one of whose central aims is to make students genuinely engaged in what they are learning The NCLB legislation emphasizes inter alia the need for school improvement Without it one cannot reasonably anticipate improvement over current levels in student engagement in learning and in academic achievement The NCLB literature frequently employs the term school improvement to refer to the quality of the teachers such as their academic credentials instructional competence and their knowledge of subject matter Similarly school restructuring is said to include steps such as transforming the school into a charter school replacing the teaching staff or inviting a private company to administer the school The use of those terms in this work is distinctly different

School Jeff Gregg, 2021-02-10 This book encourages readers to think about and discuss the purpose of education It provides an opportunity to consider how the way in which purposes are framed has consequences for student teacher relationships and teacher administrator relationships The author introduces a moral ethical dimension into the consideration of purposes Why would anyone do that to kids This book suggests that failure to reflect on the purpose of education underlies the lack of impact of many education reform efforts The author presents a fictional roundtable discussion of educational issues The participants include teachers school administrators state politicians and bureaucrats parents community members and business people

Failing at School Camille A. Farrington, 2014-02-14 About half of all incoming ninth graders in urban districts will fail classes and drop out of school without a diploma Failing at School starts with the premise that urban American high schools generate such widespread student failure not because of some fault of the students who attend them but because high schools were designed to stratify achievement and let only the top performers advance to higher levels of education This is particularly true for low income racial ethnic minority students To get different results Farrington proposes fundamental changes based on what we now know about how students learn what motivates them to engage in learning and what kinds of educational systems and structures would best support their learning Resources in Education, 1999 International Handbook of Teachers and Teaching Bruce J. Biddle, T.L. Good, I. Goodson, 2013-11-11 Recent years have generated a huge increase in the number of research and scholarly works concerned with teachers and teaching and this effort has generated new and important insights that are crucial for understanding education today This handbook provides a host of chapters written by leading authorities that review both the major traditions of work and the newest perspectives concepts insights and research based knowledge concerned with teachers and teaching Many of the chapters discuss developments that are international in scope but coverage is also provided for education in a number of specific countries Many chapters also review contemporary problems faced by educators and the dangers posed by recent politically inspired attempts to reform schools and school systems The Handbook provides an invaluable resource for scholars teacher educators graduate students and all thoughtful persons concerned with the best thinking about teachers and teaching current problems and the future of education The Skeptical Visionary Seymour Bernard Sarason, 2003 Seymour Sarason in the words of Carl Glickman is one of America's seminal thinkers about public education For over four decades his has been a voice of much needed skepticism about our plans for school reform teacher training and educational psychology Now for the first time Sarason's essential writings on these and other issues are collected together offering student and researcher alike with the range depth and originality of Sarason's contributions to American thinking on schooling As we go from debate to debate on issues such as school choice charter schools inclusive education national standards and other problems that seem to drag on without solution Sarason's critical stance on the folly of many of our attempts to fix schools has always had at the center a concern for the main players in our educational institutions the students the teachers and the parents Any plans that cannot account for their well being are doomed to failure And in the face of such failure the clarity of Sarason's vision for real educational success is a much needed antidote to much of the rhetoric that currently passes for substantial debate A wide ranging and comprehensive selection of Sarason's most significant writings The Skeptical Visionary should find a prized space on any student's or teacher's bookshelf Author note Robert Friedis Associate Professor in the School of Education at Northeastern University and is the author of The Passionate Teacher A Practical Guide and The Passionate Learner How Teachers and Parents Can Help Children Reclaim the Joy of Discovery Seymour Sarason is Professor Emeritus in the Department of Psychology at Yale University He is the author of over forty books and is considered to be one of the most significant researchers in education and educational psychology in the country Schools Making A Difference Thrupp, Martin, 1999-05-01 Does an effective school really come about through the actions of teachers and school leaders or does it also require an advantaged student intake This question reflects a longstanding research debate about whether or not the social class mix of a school's student intake has much effect on individual achievement Schools Making a Difference Let's Be Realistic presents new evidence which suggests that school mix is likely to be important because of the way many school processes are deeply influenced by student intake characteristics Low socioeconomic schools face numerous intake related constraints which make them highly resistant to improvement efforts By suggesting that failing schools are often overwhelmed rather than ineffective this book provides a sympathetic reappraisal of the performance of teachers and school leaders in such schools It also offers a critical response to the often unrealistic claims of the school effectiveness and school improvement movement and a fresh critique of market reforms in education Leadership for Educational Renewal Wilma F. Smith, Gary D. Fenstermacher, 1999-03-22 From the Agenda for Education in a Democracy Series Sponsored by the National Network for Educational Renewal Introduction by John I Goodlad This volume from the Agenda for Education in a Democracy series introduces the four part mission that guides the National Network for Educational Renewal's agenda Enculturate the young in a democracy Ensure access to knowledge for all students Provide caring and effective pedagogy Exercise responsible stewardship of schools Using real life case

examples from an innovative national leadership program and its local and regional affiliates the authors demonstrate why effective leadership is essential to advancing this vital agenda and how leadership capacity and commitment can be cultivated From curriculum to evaluation this important guide outlines the core concepts and winning strategies for building leadership skills in school administrators teachers teacher educators and other university faculty
