Answering the Contemplative Call Carl McColman, 2021-11-16. The mystical path is not some sort of static experience for the select few, says Carl McColman; rather, it is a living tradition, a rich and many-layered dimension of spirituality that is in large measure a quest to find the mysteries at the heart of the universe, paradoxically nestled within the heart of your own soul. McColman first introduced readers to Christianity's lost mystical roots in his popular book The Big Book of Christian Mysticism. Now McColman is back with Answering the Contemplative Call to show readers how to apply the riches of the mystical tradition to daily living. McColman quotes from the great mystics of the Christian tradition who have also traveled this path, including Teresa of Avila, Thomas Merton, Evelyn Underhill, and more. In Answering the Contemplative Call, McColman offers a practice that will help readers come to a place of meaning and purpose in their lives.

The Image of the Soldier in German Culture, 1871-1933 Paul Fox,2017-12-14 This study examines the force of tradition in conservative German visual culture exploring thematic continuities in the post conflict representation of battlefield identities from the Franco Prussian War in 1870 71 to the demise of the Weimar Republic in 1933 Using over 40 representative images sampled from both high and popular culture Paul Fox discusses complex and interdependent visual responses to a wide spectrum of historical events spanning world war regional conflict internal security operations and border skirmishes The book demonstrates how all the artists illustrators and photographers whose work is addressed here were motivated to affirm German moral superiority on the battlefield They produced images that advanced dominant notions of how the ideal German man should behave when at war even when the outcome was defeat Their construction of an imagined martial masculinity based on aggressive moral superiority became so deeply rooted in German culture that it eventually provided the basis for a programmatic imagining of how Germany might again recover its standing as a great military power in Central Europe in the wake of defeat in 1918
