Samier, Richard Bates, 2006-11-22 The question of aesthetics as a theoretical framework for thinking about modern leadership issues in educational settings is an emergent area of inquiry that is receiving considerable attention There is a growing sense that the mechanistic approach to leadership which has been widely encouraged over the last ten years is sterile and that a more philosophical approach is now required This approach is covered here taking into account the importance of aesthetics on all aspects of the administrative and leadership world the ways ideas and ideals are created how their expression is conveyed the impact they have on interpersonal relationships and the organisational environment that carries and reinforces them and the moral boundaries or limits that can be established or exceeded While presenting a significant departure from conventional studies in the field the international contributors reflect a continuity of thought on administrative and leadership authority from the writings of Plato through to current theory      Taghi Erani, a Polymath in Interwar Berlin Younes Jalali, 2018-08-28 A prominent civil servant scientist and intellectual Taghi Erani was a pivotal figure in interwar Iran Witness to two of the major political upheavals in the twentieth century the rise of Pahlavi and the collapse of the Weimar Republic he turned from fundamental science to leftwing activism and pacifism leading to his arrest and death in prison Younes Jalali traces his journey from Tehran to Berlin where in the 1920s he crossed paths with the greatest German scientists and scholars of his day including Max Planck Albert Einstein and Friedrich Rosen and published seminal works on psychology and political philosophy In the 1930s as Reza Shah pursued rapprochement with the Third Reich Taghi Erani was caught up in a crackdown on left wing and pro labor activists His life and death offer a unique lens through which to view modern Iranian intellectual and political history      The Kravchenko Case Gary Kern, 2013-10-18 Victor Kravchenko the most discussed Soviet defector at the height of the Cold War      Iran at War Kaveh Farrokh, 2011-12-20 Following on from his award winning book on the history of ancient Persia Kaveh Farrokh goes on to examine Iran's wartime history from the Safavid dynasty of the 16th and 17th century through to the 1979 Revolution and beyond He shows how the early military successes were followed by centuries of defeat as the external influences of nations like Russia and Britain began to shape the internal history of Iran before unraveling the complex violent 20th century military history of the country which encompasses two world wars regional movements foreign intervention anti government revolts conflicts on the Soviet border a revolution and an eight year war with Iraq Illustrated with contemporary illustrations and photographs this book provides an unparalleled investigation into the bloody martial history of Iran      Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals, 1991      The Counterintelligence Chronology

Edward Mickolus, 2015-08-13 Spying in the United States began during the Revolutionary War with George Washington as the first director of American intelligence and Benedict Arnold as the first turncoat. The history of American espionage is full of intrigue, failures and triumphs, and motives honorable and corrupt. Several notorious spies became household names: Aldrich Ames, Robert Hanssen, the Walkers, the Rosenbergs, and were the subjects of major motion pictures and television series. Many others have received less attention. This book summarizes hundreds of cases of espionage for and against U.S. interests and offers suggestions for further reading. Milestones in the history of American counterintelligence are noted. Charts describe the motivations of traitors, American targets of foreign intelligence services, and American traitors and their foreign handlers. A former member of the U.S. intelligence community, the author discusses trends in intelligence gathering and what the future may hold. An annotated bibliography is provided, written by Hayden Peake, curator of the Historical Intelligence Collection of the Central Intelligence Agency. Problems of Communism, 1990 Military Review, 1990
