Risking Truth Scott A. Ellington, 2008-09-01 Ours is a world characterized by change Often the most fundamental changes in our lives result from experiences of profound suffering and loss as we are wrenched from our familiar world and driven into one that is alien In the midst of such loss we are compelled to choose between trying to cling to the remnants of a reality that is passing away and trying to make a home in a strange new world Biblical prayers of lament wait for us at this crossroad of loss and newness Prayers of lament are marked both by loss and by the inexplicable silence of God Everything we believe about God's justice and goodness is placed in doubt by his hiddenness The cry of lament is an act of tremendous risk To lament is to abandon the sinking ship of religious certainty and strike out in a small dingy amidst stormy seas in search of a hidden God Faced with God's silence the biblical writers are willing to place at risk their most fundamental beliefs and to lament The Psalm writers risk the loss of the Exodus story by crying out to a God who has failed to save demanding that he once more part the chaotic waters and make a way in the desert Job risks the loss of a moral God by confronting God with his injustice Jeremiah risks the loss of the covenant by calling out for God to return yet again to a faithless partner and a failed marriage Matthew and John the Revelator recognize that the coming of Messiah is impelled by the cries of innocent sufferers Throughout the Bible lament risks the possible loss of relationship with God and presses for a new though uncertain experience of God's presence

Fuller,2012-02-14 This study identifies and explores texts of restoration in a wide selection of Early Jewish Literature in order to assess the variety of ways in which Jews envisioned Israel's future restoration. Particular attention is given to the expression of restoration in what is identified in the present study as the exilic model of restoration. In this model Israel's restoration is characterized by the features of a future re-gathering, b) the fate of the nations, and c) the establishment of a new Temple. The present work focuses primarily on the first two features. Through this framework Jews in the Greco-Roman period could draw on Israel's history and legacy but re-appropriate exile and return in new and creative ways. Finally, the writing of Luke-Acts is investigated for its ideas of restoration and its indebtedness to Early Jewish traditions.
