Identification of Internal Customer Requirements and Meeting Those Requirements Through Business Process Improvement Within a Quality Management System at an Australian Electrical Manufacturer Astrid Rotarius,2001-05-03 Inhaltsangabe Abstract Increasing competition deregulation globalisation and technological advancement continuously create new business realities for organisations in the marketplace In order to cope with these structural changes many organisations aim at improving and innovating their business processes within the implementation of a quality management System In today s competitive environment however it is not sufficient to implement internally oriented business process improvements Instead companies have to concentrate an externally focused process improvements which add value to customers and thus enhance customer relationships Such customer value driven process improvements help to integrate marketing and operations strategies and thereby provide a significant competitive advantage A quality management system enables organisations to achieve a competitive edge through customer satisfaction in today s highly competitive domestic and global markets Customer satisfaction forms an integral part of a quality management system which focuses organisations an meeting or exceeding customer expectations through outstanding product and service performance The integrative approach of a quality management system motivates everyone in an organisation to serve the customer Customers include the end user external customers as well as all employees within an organisation internal customers As a result external and internal customer expectations and requirements drive business processes Moreover quality and customer satisfaction are defined by customers and not by internal specifications Therefore an organisation has to focus an adding value to products and Services from the customers perspective Achieving customer satisfaction by exceeding customer requirements is a growing concern to organisations throughout the entire business world Australian companies thus have to meet increasing international competition by providing customers with better quality products and services at lower prices than competitors In this system Total Quality Management represents the Overall organisational philosophy of the quality drive Kaizen is the instrument to achieve a quality culture in an organisation and Lean Management concentrates an the optimisation of time and cost in business processes especially in production A quality management System therefore aims at coordinating organisational improvement programs This paper aims at identifying Managing Health Promotion Programs Donald J. Breckon,2005 This text introduces students to the issues involved in managing health promotion services in a variety of settings voluntary health agencies health departments school systems correctional systems corporate wellness programs hospitals HMOs and nonprofit agencies Filled with case studies and practical exercises this text is an excellent tool covering management aspects of careers in health promotion Managing Expectations Naomi Karten,2013-07-15 This is the digital version of the printed book Copyright 1994 People have expectations Your clients for example Sometimes their expectations of you seem unreasonable But sometimes your expectations of them seem just as unreasonable in their eyes The problem is that these mismatched expectations can lead to misunderstandings frayed nerves and ruffled feathers More seriously they often lead to flawed systems failed projects and a drain on resources Managing Expectations shows how to identify expectations and suggests ways to gain more control of them In today s turbulent business world understanding and meeting your customers expectations is indeed a challenge and it s not hard to understand why Expectations affect a range of interactions including service responsiveness service capability product functionality and project success Expectations are difficult to control and impossible to turn off However by learning to identify and influence what your customers expect you can dramatically improve the quality impact and effectiveness of your services Contents include sections on communication skills information gathering policies and practices building win win relationships as well as a concluding chapter on how to formulate an action plan A Step by Step Guide to Managing Expectations Guard Against Conflicting Messages Use Jargon with Care Identify Communication Preferences Listen Persuasively Help Customers Describe Their Needs Become an Information Gathering Skeptic Understand Your Customers Context Try the Solution On for Size Clarify Perceptions Set Uncertainty Managing Service Standards When Appropriate Just Say Whoa Build Win Win Relationships Formulate an Action Plan Service Within Karl Albrecht,1990 If you re not serving the customer new management thinking for the service age organisation the enemy of service middle management moving toward an internal service culture special issues for internal service departments understanding the internal customer defining the internal service mission orienting people for internal service aligning systems for internal service closing the loop with reinforcers

Global Business Management Abel Adekola,Bruno S. Sergi,2016-04-22 This book interweaves the concepts of the guidance on globalization international management and the intricacies of international business that many books on the market treat independently It clarifies and explains culture cultural misunderstandings and cross cultural interactions Adekola and Sergi s text is unique in that it offers both the management perspective and the cultural perspective It is for managers seeking to thrive in the global economy This book focuses on managing global organizations providing a basis for understanding the influence of culture on international management and the key roles that international managers play It clearly shows how to develop the cross cultural expertise essential to succeed in a world of rapid and profound economic political and cultural changes Action Learning Wojciech W. Gasparski,2017-11-30 Praxiology is the study of working and doing from the point of view of effectiveness It has three components analysis of concepts involving purposive actions critique of modes of action from the viewpoint of efficiency and normative advisory aspects in recommendations for increasing human efficacy This sixth volume of the Praxiology series focuses on action learning Learning from distinguishable action is surprisingly different than learning from a subject expert in human or book form For those who have worked with and in action learning the latest form is always distinguishably different from a former experience Action learning programs are not in general intended to tackle puzzles namely questions to which an answer may be said to exist even if that answer is difficult to find action learning is intended to help to develop the ability to tackle problems or opportunities of which different persons all experienced intelligent and motivated might well advocate different courses of action all reasonable The essentials of action learning according to this volume are there can be no learning unless the participant receives feedback about his/her performance participants learn only of their own volition and never at the will of others the volition to learn is most readily engendered by the lure of success or by the fear of calamity Building upon these essentials the authors view action learning as a process of inquiry beginning with the experience of not knowing what to do next and finding that an answer is not available from current expertise All chapters in this volume are sound contributions to the continuing debate on the processes of learning from distinguishable action Action Learning is intriguing reading for sociologists philosophers managers and researchers of all disciplines
