Seti Pioneers Scientists Talk About Their Search For Extraterrestrial Intelligence:

Seti Pioneers David W. Swift, 1993-09 Are there beings in some sense like you elsewhere in the universe or are we the only ones around It s one of the most basic questions there is Carl Sagan Carl Sagan when asked his assessment of the importance of the search for extraterrestrial intelligence SETI replied You find out who you are It s a basic question Are there beings in some sense like you elsewhere in the universe or are we the only ones around It touches deeply into myth folklore religion mythology and every human culture in some way or another has wondered about that kind of question It s one of the most basic questions there is Why did some scientists decide to conduct a search for extraterrestrial intelligence What factors in their personal development predisposed them to such a quest What obstacles did they encounter along the way To learn about their search to preserve historical information not otherwise available and to discover more about how scientific fields originate and develop sociologist David Swift interviewed the first scientists to be involved in this fascinating quest These SETI Pioneers reveal not only their involvement in the search but also the facets of their personal backgrounds that led them to participate family education intellectual growth and their speculations about the nature of extraterrestrial life Each interviewee is asked the same set of questions to facilitate comparison of how their careers developed Introductory text by Swift reviews the emergence of SETI and early attempts to detect extraterrestrial life a concluding interview with Paul Horowitz a leader in the new generation of SETI scientists reflects on the contributions of the pioneers While a host of books have considered the search for extraterrestrial intelligence none has considered the motivations of the individuals who initiated it nor have any books documented from the participant s perspective the emergence of a new field of science while it was actually evolving This collection of interviews thus sheds important light not only on the search for other life forms in our universe but also on the nature of scientific discovery The Search for Extraterrestrial Intelligence (SETI) in the Optical Spectrum, 1996

Dick, Roger D. Launius, 2007 Since the dawn of spaceflight advocates of a robust space effort have argued that human activity beyond Earth makes a significant difference in everyday life Assertions abound about the impact of spaceflight on society and its relationship to the larger contours of human existence Fifty years after the Space Age began it is time to examine the effects of spaceflight on society in a historically rigorous way Has the Space Age indeed had a significant effect on society If so what are those influences What do we mean by an impact on society And what parts of society Conversely has society had any effect on spaceflight What would be different had there been no Space Age The purpose of this volume is to examine these and related questions through scholarly research making use especially of the tools of the historian and the broader social sciences and humanities Herein a stellar array of scholars does just that and arrives at sometimes surprising conclusions

The Believing Brain Michael Shermer, 2011-05-24 A wonderfully lucid accessible and wide ranging account of the boundary between justified and unjustified belief Sam Harris New York Times bestselling author of The Moral Landscape and The End of Faith In this work synthesizing thirty years of research psychologist historian of science and the world's best known skeptic Michael Shermer upends the traditional thinking about how humans form beliefs about the world Simply put beliefs come first and explanations for beliefs follow The brain Shermer argues is a belief engine From sensory data flowing in through the senses the brain naturally begins to look for and find patterns and then infuses those patterns with meaning Our brains connect the dots of our world into meaningful patterns that explain why things happen and these patterns become beliefs Once beliefs are formed the brain begins to look for and find confirmatory evidence in support of those beliefs which accelerates the process of reinforcing them and round and round the process goes in a positive feedback loop of belief confirmation Shermer outlines the numerous cognitive tools our brains engage to reinforce our beliefs as truths Interlaced with his theory of belief Shermer provides countless real world examples of how this process operates from politics economics and religion to conspiracy theories the supernatural and the paranormal Ultimately he demonstrates why science is the best tool ever devised to determine whether or not a belief matches reality A must read for everyone who wonders why
