Setting The Agenda:

Setting the Agenda Maxwell McCombs, 2013-04-24 Setting the Agenda describes the mass media's significant and sometimes controversial role in determining which topics are at the centre of public attention and action. Although Walter Lippman captured the essence of the media's powerful influence early in the last century with his phrase 'the world outside and the pictures in our heads', a detailed empirical elaboration of this agenda-setting role of the mass media did not begin until the final quarter of the 20th century. In this comprehensive book, Maxwell McCombs, one of the founding fathers of agenda-setting tradition of research, synthesizes the hundreds of scientific studies carried out on this central role of the mass media in the shaping of public opinion. Across the world, the mass media strongly influences what the pictures of public affairs in our heads are about. The mass media also influences the very details of those pictures. In addition to describing this media influence on what we think about and how we think about it, Setting the Agenda also discusses the sources of these media agendas, the psychological explanation for their impact on the public agenda, and the subsequent consequences for attitudes, opinions, and behaviour.

Agenda-Setting James W. Dearing, Everett M. Rogers, 1996-08-28 What is the major social problem in the news today? Who made it so important? Social issues that are widely recognized on the media agenda often demand attention on the public agenda and in turn move quickly up the policy agenda, creating policy changes. Based on research of contemporary social issues that have hit the headlines, including the war on drugs, drink driving, the Exxon Valdez oil spillage, AIDS, and the Ethiopian famine, this book provides important theoretical and practical insights into the agenda-setting process and its role in effecting social change.

Setting the Agenda Maxwell McCombs, Sebastian Valenzuela, 2020-11-18 News media strongly influence how we picture public affairs across the world, playing a significant and sometimes controversial role in determining which topics are at the centre of public attention and action. Setting the Agenda, first published in 2004, has become the go-to textbook on this crucial topic. In this timely third edition, Maxwell McCombs, a pioneer of agenda-setting research, and Sebastian Valenzuela, a senior scholar of agenda-setting in Latin America, have expanded and updated the book for a new generation of students. In describing the media's influence on what we think about and how we think about it, Setting the Agenda also examines the sources of media agendas, the psychological explanation for their impact on the public agenda, and their consequences for attitudes, opinions, and behaviours. New to this edition is a discussion of agenda-setting in the widened media landscape, including a full chapter on network agenda-setting and a lengthened presentation on agenda-melding. The book also contains expanded material on social media and the role of agenda-setting beyond the realm of public affairs, as well as a foreword from Donald L. Shaw and David H. Weaver, the co-founders of agenda-setting theory. This exciting new edition is an invaluable source for students of media communications and politics, as well as those interested in the role of news in shaping and directing public opinion.
