Severe Mental Retardation Diane D. Bricker, John Filler, 1985-01-01
Severe Behavior Disorders in the Mentally Retarded Rowland P. Barrett, 2013-11-22 It is well known that behavior problems are a salient characteristic of children and adults with mental retardation That is not to say that all persons with mental retardation experience behavior disorders however most studies indicate that the incidence of emotional disturbance in this population is four to six times greater than that observed in similar intellectually nonhandicapped children and adults It is equally well known that the principal form of treatment accorded clients with mental retardation and behavior disorders is pharmacotherapy or the prescription of behavior modifying drugs Recent studies show that 6 out of every 10 individuals with mental retardation have been prescribed drugs as treatment for disorders of emotion or behavior Unfortunately further studies indicate that only one or 2 out of every 10 clients receiving medication are determined to be responders such that some therapeutic benefit is derived from their drug treatment As noted by the title the single major thrust of this volume is to review approaches to the treatment of behavior disorders in persons with mental retardation from a nondrug perspective This requires the presentation of a wide range of material on treatment basic behavior modification programming cognitive behavioral strategies habilitative approaches counseling and psychotherapy designing therapeutic living environments managing medical factors bearing relevance to emotional illness intervening with families training special education teachers and direct care staff and supplying information on the client's rights to obtain treatment in the least restrictive and least intrusive manner

Handbook of Special Education James M. Kauffman, Daniel P. Hallahan, Paige Cullen Pullen, 2017-05-25 The purpose of the Handbook of Special Education is to help profile and bring greater clarity to the already sprawling and continuously expanding field of special education To ensure consistency across the volume chapter authors review and integrate existing research identify strengths and weaknesses note gaps in the literature and discuss implications for practice and future research The second edition has been fully updated throughout to take into account recent changes to federal laws as well as the most current academic research and an entirely new section has been added on research methods in special education

Handbook of Behavior Modification with the Mentally Retarded Johnny L. Matson, 2013-11-22 The development of behavior modification principles and procedures and the ensuing research have had a dramatic impact on services for mentally retarded persons This book is the second edition of a volume that is designed to update readers on some of these many developments Although many of the chapter titles and authors from the first edition remain unchanged we have added additional chapters to reflect new areas of research The book is thus a critical review of this literature and as such provides essential and important notions about what we know and what can be done to expand our current knowledge The authors of the chapters are all recognized experts who have been active in publishing in the research areas they critique As a result they have a good understanding of what are the major issues in the field And because they are also active in service provision to persons with identified handicaps their material will be especially useful to practitioners and it is hoped to those professionals who are working in the field in establishing data based treatments One important change in the field has concerned the terminology used to We are aware that persons with mental retardation describe handicapped persons are no longer referred to as the mentally retarded and although no disrespect is intended for the sake of continuity the original title has been retained on the advice of the publisher

Special Education for All Teachers Ron

Colarusso, Colleen M. O'Rourke, 2003-08 Education and Training in Mental Retardation, 1993 Integrated Lifecycle Services for Persons with Disabilities David L. Lovett, Kathryn A. Haring, 2012-12-06 The field of education is under pressure both external and internal to improve the services provided to all students In American society and elsewhere there is a concern that current educational practices fail to adequately prepare many students to be productive citizens There has been a call for educational services that are more responsive to the needs of students that use effective educational practices that involve parents and the local community and that adequately prepare teachers to assume more professional roles Over the last several decades special educators have addressed these and other critical issues as they relate to students with disabilities The knowledge gained from these endeavors can be useful in the reshaping of schools for all students those with disabilities and those without Indeed this information may be useful for services beyond school whether for young children or adults This volume has been written to address how people with disabilities can be effectively served in settings with their nondisabled peers Because many of the students who are not well served by current educational practices have similar needs as students with disabilities it is anticipated that some of this information may be useful in the discussion regarding the reshaping of educational systems It is also anticipated that the material presented will help in the design of more effective coordinated systems that serve people with disabilities throughout their lives

Community Rehabilitation Services for People with Disabilities Orv C. Karan, Stephen Greenspan, 2014-05-16 Community Rehabilitation Services for People with Disabilities delves into the changes happening in the disability services in the United States The book focuses on how these changes are affecting the way professionals and agencies relate to people with disabilities and their families The text aims to provide an introductory view of the community revolution in disability services The book is divided into three parts Part 1 breaks down the underlying principles of the community revolution in disability services Part 2 discusses the problems and issues in the implementation of these principles Part 3 accounts for the changes in practices and value orientations of professionals involved in providing services for people with disabilities The book will provide a rich source of insight for healthcare professionals social workers nurses caregivers teachers counselors psychiatrists therapists and community planners

Resources in Education, 1998 Early Intervention Studies for Young Children with Special Needs David R. Mitchell, Roy Irwin Brown, 2013-12-14 This is the fourth volume in the Rehabilitation Education Series It is the first volume to be co edited and follows a volume on quality of life The first few years of a child's life sets the pattern for many issues associated with quality of life Although intervention may at later stages enhance quality of life it is in these first years that the attitudes and systems of society can have long lasting effects The early years are increasingly seen as the province of the educator and in children with disabilities special education They are already recognized as the province of the health professional Here we attempt to take a different line reinforcing the idea that child and family are the interacting system we serve The needs are often multidisciplinary but we need to recognize context as the critical marker Thus assessment needs to be linked to programmes and therefore programmes themselves have to be evaluated and environmental issues underlined In particular the contribution from those with sociological interests are noted Intervention whether it be psychological or educational is frequently and ideally placed in the hands of parents or the nearest caregiver The professional becomes the processor ever mindful of the context in which needs and goals are experienced These issues are basic to the issues of quality of life D R M R I B
