When Courts Do Politics Joseph Oloka-Onyango, 2017-06-23 Using the phenomenon of public interest litigation PIL as the primary focus of analysis this book explores the manner in which the judicial branch of government in the three East African states of Kenya Tanzania and Uganda has engaged with questions traditionally off limits to adjudication and court based resolution It is rooted in an incisive investigation of the history of politics and governance in the sub region accompanied by an extensive repertoire of judicial decisions It also provides a critical and informative account of the manner in which courts of law have engaged with State power in a bid to alternatively deliver or subvert justice to the socially marginalized and the politically victimized The focus of the book is on judicial struggles over sexual and gender based discrimination social justice and poverty and the adjudication of presidential elections Employing the device of case deconstruction and analysis the study uncovers the conceptual and structural factors which have witnessed public interest litigation emerge as a critical factor in the struggle for more inclusive and equitable structures of governance and social order Needless to say as judges battle with time honoured legal precedents received dogmas and contending and often antagonistic societal forces the struggle in the courts is neither straightforward nor necessarily always transformative
