Madeleine's World Brian Hall, 2004-06-29 The perceptive and beguiling tale of a young girl's development as only her father can see it Chosen as one of the 50 Best Nonfiction Books of the Past 25 Years by Slate Like most biographies Brian Hall's charming account of his daughter Madeleine begins at her birth But unlike most biographies it concludes with her third birthday Along the way it describes Madeleine's intriguing transition from infant solipsism through toddler self absorption to a small person's sociability Drawing on the same subtle humor and eye for detail that imbued I Should Be Extremely Happy in Your Company his acclaimed novel of the Lewis and Clark expedition Hall gives us a look at Madeleine's milestones her first laugh first words first tantrum and brings it all to life from the inside out By speculating on his daughter's perceptions and experience as she grows Hall gives us candid and informed insights into the evolution of language attachments and separations and a youngster's curiosity and fear What emerges is a portrait of growing consciousness in action a universal voyage whose every revelation and frustration is captured with stunning detail and intimacy      The Woman Who Pretended to Be Who She Was Wendy Doniger, 2005 Many cultures have myths about self imitation stories about people who pretend to be someone else pretending to be them in effect masquerading as themselves This great theme in literature and in life tells us that people put on masks to discover who they really are under the masks they usually wear so that the mask reveals rather than conceals the self beneath the self In this book noted scholar of Hinduism and mythology Wendy Doniger offers a cross cultural exploration of the theme of self impersonation whose widespread occurrence argues for both its literary power and its human value The stories she considers range from ancient Indian literature through medieval European courtly literature and Shakespeare to Hollywood and Bollywood They illuminate a basic human way of negotiating reality illusion identity and authenticity not to mention memory amnesia and the process of aging Many of them involve marriage and adultery for tales of sexual betrayal cut to the heart of the crisis of identity These stories are extreme examples of what we common folk do unconsciously every day Few of us actually put on masks that replicate our faces but it is not uncommon for us to become travesties of ourselves particularly as we age and change We often slip carelessly across the permeable boundary between the un self conscious self indulgence of our most idiosyncratic mannerisms and the conscious attempt to give the people who know us personally or publicly the version of ourselves that they expect Myths of self imitation open up for us the possibility of multiple selves and the infinite regress of self discovery Drawing on a dizzying array of tales some fact some fiction The Woman Who Pretended to Be Who She Was is a fascinating and learned trip through centuries of culture guided by a scholar of incomparable wit and erudition      The Young Master's New Wife Occasional Flattering, Through some arrangement she was married to a man with a crippled leg who wielded boundless influence I

Mason Yeich will not accept a woman who bears the child of another man In what was initially thought to be a loveless marriage she ended up accidentally giving her heart away After a series of pushing and pulling she eventually left him Many years later a child who shares Mason s face will be the one to land a slap on him Useless father watch who you re talking about

Sleeping Fires Gertrude Franklin Horn Atherton,1922 Social life in San Francisco in the 1860s and 1870s The Sunday scholar's companion ,1882 Anatole Litvak Michelangelo Capua,2015-02-13 During his 40 year career director producer Anatole Litvak 1902 1974 made films of all genres in Russia Germany England France and the United States His rootless background was cited by critics lamenting his lack of consistent style but it also added to his mystique as a chameleon like realisateur Litvak directed Hollywood greats like Edward G Robinson John Garfield Kirk Douglas Ingrid Bergman Vivien

Leigh Sophia Loren Anthony Perkins Olivia de Havilland Yul Brynner Burt Lancaster Barbara Stanwick and many others He was twice nominated for Best Director by the Academy of Motion Picture Art and Sciences for The Snake Pit 1948 and for Decision Before Dawn 1951 These films along with Mayerling 1936 Sorry Wrong Number 1946 and Anastasia 1956 are considered classics but his pictures don't offer many clues about Litvak the man Apart from passing references to his wartime service as combat documentarian he never discussed his life in print allowing only brief interviews relating exclusively to his work This biography fills that void providing the first detailed portrait of an artist described by film historian Richard Schickel as an adept adaptable and prolific man the kind of director that Hollywood likes best
