Magic Action Cut Outs:

Magic Action Cut-outs Jim Razzi, 1982 Foundations of the Mind Evgeniï Vasil'evich Subbotskiï, 1993 In the wake of Jean Piaget's work on children's understanding of reality it is generally accepted that by age two children assume that an object hidden in a box will remain there unchanged until someone tampers with it Eugene Subbotsky persuasively demonstrates that many children and some adults will often accept mysterious disappearances and creations perceiving them not as tricks or illusions but as actual occurrences His analysis clearly shows that alongside our everyday belief in object permanence we also have a set of quasi magical beliefs that can be activated by appropriate situations and behaviors The acceptability of these beliefs will vary from culture to culture and will be widespread among preliterate peoples but less obvious in advanced industrial countries The author a Russian psychologist draws on his own extensive research and examines other taken for granted concepts such as the distinction between animate and inanimate Foundations of the Mind amply illustrated with experimental material has enormous implications for the study of both child development and the psychology of human beliefs It attacks our complacent and often culturally biased faith in the nature of reality and as such will become required reading for all psychologists A World of Others' Words Richard Bauman, 2008-04-15 Drawing on his work in Iceland Ireland Scotland North America Ghana and Fiji linguistic anthropologist and folklorist Richard Bauman presents a series of ethnographic case studies that offer a sparkling look at intertextuality as communicative practice A fascinating perspective on intertextuality the idea that written and spoken texts speak to one another e g through genre or allusions Presents a series of ethnographic case studies to illustrate the topic Draws on a broad range of oral performances and literary records from across the world The author's introduction sets a framework for the analysis of genre perform and intertextuality Shows how performers blend genres e g telling stories about riddles or legends about magical verses or constructing sales pitches Home and Country, 1894 Rethinking Context Alessandro Duranti, 1992-05-21 The last decade has seen a fundamental rethinking of the concept of context Rather than functioning solely as a constraint on linguistic performance context is now also analysed as a product of language use In this new perspective language and context are seen as interactively achieved phenomena rather than predefined sets of forms and contents The essays in this collection written by many of the leading figures in the social sciences critically reexamine the concept of context from a variety of different angles and propose new ways of thinking about it with reference to specific human activities such as face to face interaction radio talk medical diagnosis political encounters and socialisation practices Each essay is prefaced by an introduction by the editors which provides relevant theoretical and methodological background and demonstrates its relation to other essays in the volume The editors general introduction provides a lucid overview of the issues currently debated Rethinking Context will be required reading for everyone working within the fields of linguistic anthropology sociolinguistics discourse analysis pragmatics conversation analysis and the sociology of language The Complete Book of Aquarian
