Monarchs, Missionaries and African Intellectuals Bhekizizwe Peterson, 2021-08-01 Much of the work in the field of African studies still relies on rigid distinctions of tradition and modernity collaboration and resistance indigenous and foreign This book moves well beyond these frameworks to probe the complex entanglements of different intellectual traditions in the South African context by examining two case studies The case studies constitute the core around which is woven this intriguing story of the development of black theatre in South Africa in the early years of the century It also highlights the dialogue between African and African American intellectuals and the intellectual formation of the early African elite in relation to colonial authority and how each affected the other in complicated ways The first case study centres on Mariannhill Mission in KwaZulu Natal Here the evangelical and pedagogical drama pioneered by the Rev Bernard Huss is considered alongside the work of one of the mission s most eminent alumni the poet and scholar B W Vilakazi The second moves to Johannesburg and gives a detailed insight into the working of the Bantu Dramatic Society and the drama of H I E Dhlomo in relation to the British Drama League and other white liberal cultural activities A History of Theatre in Africa Martin Banham, 2004-05-13 This book aims to offer a broad history of theatre in Africa The roots of African theatre are ancient and complex and lie in areas of community festival seasonal rhythm and religious ritual as well as in the work of popular entertainers and storytellers Since the 1950s in a movement that has paralleled the political emancipation of so much of the continent there has also grown a theatre that comments back from the colonized world to the world of the colonists and explores its own cultural political and linguistic identity A History of Theatre in Africa offers a comprehensive yet accessible account of this long and varied chronicle written by a team of scholars in the field Chapters include an examination of the concepts of history and theatre North Africa Francophone theatre Anglophone West Africa East Africa Southern Africa Lusophone African theatre Mauritius and Reunion and the African diaspora Post-Imperial Brecht Loren Kruger, 2004-08-19 Post Imperial Brecht challenges prevailing views of Brecht s theatre and politics Kruger focuses much of her analysis in regions where Brecht has had special resonance including East Germany and South Africa where Brechtian philosophy has been vigorously employed in the anti apartheid movement Kruger also analyses political interpretations of Brecht in light of other key dramatists including Heiner M ller and Athol Fugard The book also examines Brechtian influence on writers and philosophers such as Adorno Benjamin and Barthes Mapping Movie Magazines Daniel Biltereyst, Lies Van de Vijver, 2020-03-30 Movie magazines are crucial but widely underused sources for writing the history of films and cinema This volume brings together for the first time a wide variety of historic research of movie magazines and film trade journals reflecting on the issue of using these sources for film cinema historiography and on the impact of digitization processes Mapping Movie Magazines explores this debate from different disciplinary perspectives enlightened by case studies from the use of early film trade press to pedagogical uses of digitized periodicals The volume explores Hollywood s grip on movie

The Man of Heaven and the Beautiful Ones of God Elizabeth Gunner, 2021-11-08 The role of Africans in the growth and process of Christianity in South Africa in the late nineteenth and early twentieth century In particular the book provides an insight into the role of writing and literacy in the church founded by the South African prophet Isaiah Shembe in 1910 The book provides a substantial contextualising introduction which includes discussion of the church's history and its position in contemporary South Africa and weaves in discussion of the topics of literacy and modernity The book then moves to the three documents presented in their language of composition Zulu and in an English translation The three books each from Shembe's Nazareth Baptist Church provide the reader with a fascinating insight into the growth and organisation of one of southern Africa's most influential African Churches and into the use and interpretation of the Bible by the church's founder Isaiah Shembe and by church members Central to the writings is the complex presence of Shembe present both through his own words in the first book and in the second book through the memory of Meshack Hadebe a member of the church in the 1920s and 1930s The extracts in the third book provide a glimpse of the church's hymnal and the unique religious poetry of the hymns authored by Shembe

Applied Theatre and Sexual Health Communication Katharine E. Low, 2020-11-05 This book analyses the partnership between applied theatre and sexual health communication in a theatre making project in Nyanga a township in South Africa By examining the bridges and schisms between the two fields as they come together in the project an alternative way of approaching sexual health communication is advocated This alternative considers what it is that applied theatre does and could become in this context Moments of value which lie around the margins of the practice emerge as opportunities that can be overlooked These somewhat ephemeral intangible moments which appear on the edges are described as apertures of possibility and occur when one takes a step back and realises something unnoticed in the moment This book offers an invitation to pause and notice the seemingly insignificant moments that often occurs tangentially to the practice The book also calls for more outcry about sexual health and sexual violence arguing for theatre making as a route to multitudes of voices nuanced understandings and diverse spaces in which discussions of sexuality and sexual health are shared felt and experienced

British Royal Visits and Black Loyalism in Twentieth-century Southern Africa Hilary Sapire, 2024-10-31 Exploring the entwined histories of British royal visits to Southern Africa in the twentieth century this book analyses the clashing voices of dissent and cheering crowds that accompanied royal tours providing insight into the shifting nature of Black loyalism Originating in the Indigenous empire loyalism of eighteenth century Canada Black loyalism encompassed loyalty to the British crown and a shared ideology of rights and entitlements which positioned the crown as a source of protection against white settler rapacity colonial violence and racial oppression However expressions of monarchical devotion were often double edged and addressed the fundamental contradiction of a crown that was both the source of rights and complicit in colonial conquest appropriation and misrule It was on royal occasions such as jubilees coronation celebrations and especially royal visits when the sovereign was literally amongst their more distant subjects that loyalist sentiment was rekindled reinvented and made directly relevant to the concerns of the day By analysing change and continuity in Black perspectives towards both the British and Indigenous African monarchy during these visits this book offers a fruitful way into examining an array of Black Southern African discourses on governance political values and cultural identities across the region It argues that the refashioning of British imperial monarchy in the twentieth century was profoundly shaped by African initiatives and re imaginings and provides valuable reading for those researching imperialism popular attitudes to the British monarchy in the twentieth century and the diverse politics and identities of southern Africa

Theatre and Global Development Bobby Smith, 2024-05-11 How do theatre and development partnerships operate What issues impede collaborations between various institutions and individuals Why do relations between global North and South partners often fail to reflect important values such as equality reciprocity and mutual benefit This is the first book to examine theatre and global development partnerships It focusses on the UK and East African countries of Kenya Rwanda and Uganda presenting the author s own experiences case study analyses and perspectives from practitioners and scholars involved in theatre and development It argues that simplistic binaries pervade partnerships whereby the global North is regarded as modern and developed versus the under developed global South This results in unequal power relations between collaborators less effective projects with communities and a lack of reciprocity and mutual benefit Consequently this book revitalises how we conceptualise partnerships Issues such as widening inequalities conflict health and the climate crisis impact all countries How then can we work across borders to support interconnected learning and action on these challenges In this regard principles of solidarity and mutual responsibility as well as critical openness enable us to reflect honestly about the failures of the partnerships we participate in and move beyond simplistic binaries of global North and South The book is of importance to applied and socially engaged performance scholars and practitioners and to development workers interested in arts and social change

Whose History Counts June Bam, Lungisile Ntsebeza, Allan Zinn, 2018-11-29 Originally planned as a fact based book on the pre colonial history of the Eastern Cape in the true tradition of history this ground breaking book focuses on epistemological and foundational questions about the writing of history and whose history counts Whose History Counts challenges the very concept of pre colonial and explores methodologies on researching and writing history The reason for this dramatic change of focus is attributed in the introduction of the book to the student led rebellion that erupted following the RhodesMustFall campaign which started at the University of Cape Town on 9 March 2015 Key to the rebellion was the students opposition to what they dubbed colonial education and a clamour for among others a decolonised curriculum This book is a direct response to this clarion call

Humanitarian Fictions Megan Cole Paustian, 2024-01-02 Humanitarianism has a narrative problem Far too often aid to Africa is envisioned through a tale of Western heroes saving African sufferers While labeling white savior narratives has become a familiar gesture it doesn't tell us much about the story as story Humanitarian Fictions aims to understand the workings of humanitarian literature as they engage with and critique narratives of Africa Overlapping with but distinct from human rights humanitarianism centers on a relationship of assistance focusing less on rights than on needs less on legal frameworks than moral ones less on the problem than on the nonstate solution Tracing the white savior narrative back to religious missionaries of the nineteenth century Humanitarian Fictions reveals the influence of religious thought on seemingly secular institutions and uncovers a spiritual collectivist streak in the discourse of humanity Because the humanitarian model of care transcends the boundaries of the state and its networks touch much of the globe Humanitarian Fictions redraws the boundaries of literary classification based on a shared problem space rather than a shared national space The book maps a transnational vein of Anglophone literature about Africa that features missionaries humanitarians and their so called beneficiaries Putting humanitarian thought in conversation with postcolonial critique this book brings together African British and U S writers typically read within separate traditions Paustian shows how the novel with its profound sensitivity to narrative can enrich the critique of white saviorism while also imagining alternatives that give African agency its due

Theatre from Rhodesia to Zimbabwe Samuel Ravengai,Owen Seda,2021-07-06 The voices that are represented in this collection come from various parts of the world and express the views of practitioners and scholars who have all had first hand experience working in Zimbabwean theatre from the last days of Rhodesia to Zimbabwe The collection views the long continuum of developments in local theatre history as a case of the intrusive hegemonies that came with colonial Rhodesia as a conquest society and localised identities in the form of the persistence of indigenous and syncretic popular forms With time all these came together to constitute the makings of a contested post colony in contemporary theatre practice in Zimbabwe The primary interest of scholars who are represented here is located at the intersection of political cultural and performative discourses and the flow of Zimbabwean history The focus moreover is not only on the history of performance cultures in postcolonial Zimbabwe it extends its critical gaze to include the history of political ideas that gave rise to cultural contestation in the field of theatre and performance

Critical Terms for the Study of Africa Gaurav Desai,Adeline Masquelier,2018-12-07 For far too long the Western world viewed Africa as unmappable terrain a repository for outsiders wildest imaginings This problematic notion has had lingering effects not only on popular impressions of the region but also on the development of the academic study of Africa Critical Terms for the Study of Africa considers the legacies that have shaped our understanding of the continent and its place within the conceptual grammar of contemporary world affairs Written by a distinguished group of scholars the essays compiled in this volume take stock of African studies today and look toward a future beyond its fraught intellectual and political past Each essay discusses one of our most critical terms for talking about Africa exploring the trajectory of its development while pushing its boundaries Editors Gaurav Desai and Adeline Masquelier balance the choice of twenty five terms between the expected and the unexpected calling for nothing short of a new mapping of the scholarly field The result is an essential reference that will challenge assumptions stimulate lively debate and make the past present and future of African Studies accessible to students and teachers alike

Africans and the Politics of Popular Culture Toyin Falola,Augustine Agwuele,2009 Explores the instrumentalization of various aspects of popular culture in Africa This anthology provides insightful data on and discussions of a wide array of popular cultural manifestations and theoretical perspectives covering such issues as kinship religion conflict resolution music cinema drama and literary texts. The issues cohere around the understanding that culture is situational and political. Going beyond merely challenging popular stereotypes and representations of Africans and African related practices in various outlets, the book reveals how popular cultural practices are instruments that have been manipulated for personal and collective survival. The book is distinctive in its codification and explication of aspects of popular practices that are based on data from countries in Africa, Europe and the Americas that showcase cultural negotiations either with reference to how notions, values, norms and images of Africans have been packaged and exploited over the years or how popular cultures are used as tools of resistance and agitation by the various focal groups that are discussed. The topics are presented and illustrated in ways easily accessible to readers of all backgrounds.
