Monasterios Iberoamericanos:

La imagen religiosa en la monarquía hispánica María Cruz de Carlos, 2008 La imagen religiosa es el terreno común en el que convergen los estudios reunidos en este volumen Lejos de verse como exclusivo patrimonio de los historiadores del arte el estudio de las imágenes sagradas en el mundo hispánico se plantea aquí en la intersección de dos campos el artístico y el religioso Así sin eludir la dimensión plástica y eventualmente artística de las representaciones se incorporan también otros puntos de vista otras metodologías de trabajo sumadas a las tradicionales del historiador del arte que devolviendo las obras a su contexto ritual permiten comprender su función estética como una dimensión esencial de su significado histórico

Monasterios iberoamericanos Antonio Bonet Correa, 2001 The Golden Empire Hugh Thomas, 2011-08-23 From a master chronicler of Spanish history comes a magnificent work about the pivotal years from 1522 to 1566 when Spain was the greatest European power Hugh Thomas has written a rich and riveting narrative of exploration progress and plunder At its center is the unforgettable ruler who fought the French and expanded the Spanish empire and the bold conquistadors who were his agents Thomas brings to life King Charles V first as a gangly and easygoing youth then as a liberal statesman who exceeded all his predecessors in his ambitions for conquest while making sure to maintain the humanity of his new subjects in the Americas and finally as a besieged Catholic leader obsessed with Protestant heresy and interested only in profiting from those he presided over The Golden Empire also presents the legendary men whom King Charles V sent on perilous and unprecedented expeditions Hernán Cortés who ruled the New Spain of Mexico as an absolute monarch and whose rebuilding of its capital Tenochtitlan was Spain's greatest achievement in the sixteenth century Francisco Pizarro who set out with fewer than two hundred men for Peru infamously executed the last independent Inca ruler Atahualpa and was finally murdered amid intrigue and Hernando de Soto whose glittering journey to settle land between Rio de la Palmas in Mexico and the southernmost keys of Florida ended in disappointment and death Hugh Thomas reveals as never before their torturous journeys through jungles their brutal sea voyages amid appalling storms and pirate attacks and how a cash hungry Charles backed them with loans and bribes obtained from his German banking friends A sweeping compulsively readable saga of kings and conquests armies and armadas dominance and power The Golden Empire is a crowning achievement of the Spanish world's foremost historian The Iberian World Fernando Bouza, Pedro Cardim, Antonio Feros, 2019-09-09 The Iberian World 1450-1820 brings together for the first time in English the latest research in Iberian studies providing in depth analysis of fifteenth to early nineteenth century Portugal and Spain their European possessions and the African Asian and American peoples that were under their rule Featuring innovative work from leading historians of the Iberian world the book adopts a strong transnational and comparative approach and offers the reader an interdisciplinary lens through which to view the interactions entanglements and conflicts between the many peoples that were part of it The volume also analyses the relationships and mutual influences between the wide range of actors polities and centres of power within the Iberian monarchies and draws on recent advances in the field to examine key aspects such as Iberian expansion imperial ideologies and the constitution of colonial societies Divided into four parts and combining a chronological approach with a set of in depth thematic studies The Iberian World brings together previously disparate scholarly traditions surrounding the history of European empires and raises awareness of the global dimensions of Iberian history It is essential reading for students and academics of early modern Spain and Portugal *A la luz de Roma. El Monte Carmelo Mexicano. Pintura de una alegoría en El Carmen de San Angel Eduardo Báez Macías, 2016-01-18 Este es un libro más sobre montañas aunque en él no se pretende un acercamiento bajo la óptica de la ciencia o la orografía que estudian su composición altura y desniveles como dicen los montañistas sino pensando en ellas como representaciones o símbolos de un principio que es el impulso ascendente para acercarse a la perfección a la paz interior o a Dios La montaña es un símbolo universal en autores como Jean Paul Roux y Mircea Eliade se encuentra abundante información sobre los significados atributos y cultos inspirados en las montañas sean las más altas del planeta o las más pequeñas moradas de los dioses soporte del paraíso ombligo del mundo eje que une la tierra con el cielo vía de penitencia o camino de perfección En este contexto conviene incluir el Monte Carmelo como símbolo de las virtudes y avatares de una de las órdenes religiosas más carismáticas en las que se ha sustentado el mundo católico Y hablando más concretamente la idea de un Monte Carmelo mexicano esbozado en la crónica del religioso fray Agustín de la Madre de Dios siglo XVII y años después pintada en una alegoría 1723 que actualmente se conserva en el Museo del Carmen de San Angel El camino recorrido para descubrir el Monte Carmelo en este contexto de montañas simbólicas me lleva a reflexionar sobre el poder in illo tempore que tienen las imágenes surgidas en tiempos y lugares distintos para relacionarse hasta formar amplias redes de símbolos que al ser diferentes se atraen y relacionan porque todas ellas nacieron de un mismo principio dinámico y significativo que en el caso de las montañas fue el impulso de ascender de romper niveles y superarse hasta la sublimación Eduardo Báez Macías

Modernidad iberoamericana Francisco Colom González, 2009 Durante largo tiempo la modernidad se ha entendido como un proceso unitario y acumulativo irradiado desde Europa Este volumen parte del supuesto de que la modernidad no es la etapa final de un proceso gradual y cronológicamente ordenado en realidad no hay una modernidad canónica sino múltiples modernidades Así pues su propósito es actualizar la autopercepción cultural de las sociedades iberoamericanas y ubicar su evolución en los par

metros que delimitaron la modernidad occidental

Francesca Capano, Maria Ines Pascariello, Massimo Visone, 2018-10 This volume proposes a rich corpus of papers about the Other City a subject only few times dealt with but worthy of all our attention it imposes itself on the scene of international modern and contemporary historiography for its undeniable topicality Throughout history the city has always had to deal with social otherness i e with class privileges and consequently with discrimination and marginalization of minorities of the less well off of foreigners in short with the differences in status culture religion So that the urban fabric has ended up structuring itself also in function of those inequalities as well as of the strategic places for the exercise of power of the political military or social control of the spaces for imprisonment for the sanitary isolation or for the temporary remedy to the catastrophes From the first portraits of cities made and diffused at the beginning of the fifteenth century for political exaltation purposes or for religious propaganda and for devotional purposes which often through increasingly refined graphic techniques distort or even deny the true urban image we reach at the dawn of contemporary history the new meaning given by scientific topography and new methods of representation these latter aimed at revealing the structure and the urban landscape in their objectivity often unexpected for who had known the city through the filter of regime iconography The representation of the urban image still shows the contradictions of a community that sometimes includes and even exalts the diversities other times rejects them showing the unease of a difficult integration
