The Artist's Garden Jackie Bennett, 2019-10-29 The Artist's Garden will feature up to 20 gardens that have inspired and been home to some of the greatest painters of history These gardens not only supplied the inspiration for creative works but also illuminate the professional motivation and private life of the artists themselves from Cezanne's house in the south of France to Childe Hassam at Celia Thaxter's garden off the coast of Maine Flowers and gardens have often been the first choice for artists looking for a subject A garden close to the artist's studio is not only convenient for daily material and ideas but also has the advantage of changing through the seasons and over time Claude Monet's Giverny was the catalyst for hundreds of great paintings by Monet and other artists each one different from the one before Sometimes a whole village becomes the focus for a colony of artists as at Gerberoy in Picardy and Skagen on the northernmost tip of Denmark This book is about the real homes and gardens that inspired these great artists gardens that can still be visited today The relationship between artist and garden is a complex one A few artists including Pierre Bonnard and his neighbour Monet were keen gardeners as much in love with their plants as their work while for others like Sorolla in Madrid his courtyard home was both a sanctuary and a source of ideas      Monet Benno Tempel, Marianne Matthieu, Frouke van Dijke, 2019-10-10

Majestic tribute to one of the most important artists of all time Who doesn't know Claude Monet's 1840-1926 famous Water Lilies His explosions of color on canvas immerse everyone in a sea of reflections until it is impossible to know where water starts and sky ends The garden paintings of which three hundred works depict the lily pond are regarded as Claude Monet's chef d'oeuvre The artist commenced these works in the 1890s but produced the majority of the paintings during the final two decades of his life His early paintings of the lily pond embraced the conventional spatial boundaries of water surrounding land and horizon Yet the longer Monet worked the more the boundaries began to blur until the pond became the universe its scope immeasurable and defined exclusively by light Monet's influence was tremendous His unique color palette vision and approach changed the course of Western art Many artists have been influenced by Monet whose techniques inspired both the Impressionists and Post Impressionists including Vincent van Gogh In terms of form and scale the artist's work directly influenced Abstract Expressionists such as Jackson Pollock and Mark Rothko Andy Warhol once attested to the fact that his multiple renditions of a single subject were inspired by the French painter It is also true to say that Monet laid the groundwork for the Minimalist movement that emerged in the 1960s Still extremely popular in his own right Monet continues to define both the public's appreciation of art and the perception of beauty in its purest form The last major Monet exhibitions in the Netherlands were staged at the Gemeentemuseum in 1952 and the Van Gogh Museum in 1986 The majority of his famous garden paintings which had a profound influence on Rothko and Pollock for example have never been exhibited in the country High time therefore for a majestic tribute at the Gemeentemuseum Den Haag 12 October 2019 until 2 February 2020 and a new accompanying catalogue
