Monne Outrages Et Defis:

Monné, outrages et défis Ahmadou Kourouma, 1990 Nadat Franse koloniale troepen een Westafrikaanse stad hebben veroverd blijven de negertovenaars de koning van die stad eer bewijzen hoewel hij collaboreert met de vijand Monne, Outrages et Defis Ahmadou Kourouma, 1992-01-01 The African Imagination Abiola Irele, 2001 F Abiola Irele is an expert on the anglophone and francophone traditions in post colonial African literature This collection of his essays examines African literary traditions in the broad sense and places the work of individual authors in context Monné, outrages et défis Ahmadou Kourouma, 1992 Le phénomène de l'appropriation linguistique et esthétique en littérature

africaine de langue française Germain Kouassi, 2007 Monné, outrages et défis, texte de Ahmadou Kourouma, 2007

De l'épopée au roman Laure-Adrienne Rochat, 2011 Le second roman de l'écrivain ivoirien Ahmadou Kourouma Monne outrages et défis 1990 a été associé à sa parution aussi bien par la critique que par l'auteur une catégorie littéraire bien connue celle de l'épopée Cette notion s'est avérée particulièrement pertinente pour en cerner les enjeux D'une part l'imaginaire pique africain est un matériau essentiel de l'écriture de Kourouma D'autre part le concept d'épopée permet d'articuler la question de l'intertextualité et la réflexion sur l'histoire africaine rendue possible par le récit en tant que tel Le roman lui-même peut en effet être lu comme une épopée Et la manière dont il actualise certains procédés littéraires propres à l'épopée mondiale permet d'accorder aux références parodiques à l'épopée africaine leur véritable place au sein du projet qui fonde toute l'œuvre de Kourouma penser l'évolution des structures politiques en Afrique noire Cette double lecture permet de rejoindre un cadre général de réflexion sur le littéraire Elle imite considérer la production africaine non en fonction de la provenance de son auteur mais selon l'activité créatrice qui met en mots un imaginaire nourri de traditions orales et d'une culture qui appartiennent de fait à la francophonie littéraire

Monné, outrages et défis Ahmadou Kourouma, 2003 D'abord Samory empereur de tout le pays mandingue le roi de Soba Djigui Keita n'a pas rasé sa ville à l'arrivée des troupes coloniales s'assurer que la magie des ancêtres la protection d'Allah et la muraille défensive la haute suffiraient repousser les Nazaréens Ceux-ci prennent donc Soba sans coup férir Mais tandis que les griots chantent la gloire de Djigui Keita et de ses cent vingt années de règne le roi déchus enfonce dans une collaboration de plus en plus meurtrière avec l'occupant Sous l'épopée tragique et d'histoire d'un peuple livrant la colonisation perce la satire des États africains modernes livrant leurs démons et un réquisitoire aussi drôle que violent contre ces conformismes qui mènent parfois aux pires compromissions The Francophone African Text Kwaku Addae Gyasi, 2006 Focusing on the African writer and the language of the former colonial power The Francophone African Text Translation and the Postcolonial Experience highlights the writer's reappropriation of the foreign language in the creative writing process It calls attention to the African writer's use of French a process of creative translation in which the writer's words form a hybrid code that compels the original French to refer to the indigenous African language for meaning Examining a group of works under the theme of translation this book reveals that a consideration of both ideological and linguistic elements enhances understanding of the subject from the broader perspective of postcolonial discourse      The Creative Circle African Literature Association. Meeting, African Literature Association, 2003 The theme of the 2001 African Literature Association conference translation encompasses more than the movement of expression from one language to another it not only includes the translation of one culture to another but also the translating of the particularities of historical and personal experience into the broader context of humanity Includes the four addresses given at the conference on this topic by Nadine Gordimer Assia Djebar Emmanuel Dongala and Nuruddin Farah      African Literatures in the Eighties, 2023-12-21 Matatu is a journal on African literatures and societies dedicated to interdisciplinary dialogue between literary and cultural studies historiography the social sciences and cultural anthropology Matatu is animated by a lively interest in African culture and literature including the Afro Caribbean that moves beyond worn out clichés of cultural authenticity and national liberation towards critical exploration of African modernities The East African public transport vehicle from which Matatu takes its name is both a component and a symbol of these modernities based on Western these days usually Japanese technology it is a vigorously African institution it is usually regarded with some anxiety by those travelling in it but is often enough the only means of transport available it creates temporary communicative communities and provides a transient site for the exchange of news storytelling and political debate Matatu is firmly committed to supporting democratic change in Africa to providing a forum for interchanges between African and European critical debates to overcoming notions of absolute cultural ethnic or religious alterity and to promoting transnational discussion on the future of African societies in a wider world Matatu will be published as journal as of 2016 All back volumes are still available in print      Indigenization of Language in the African Francophone Novel Peter W. Vakunta, 2011 Indigenization of Language in the African Francophone Novel A New Literary Canon discusses the question of indigenization in the African Francophone novel Analyzing the prose narratives of Nazi Boni Ahmadou Kourouma and Patrice Nganang this book contends that African literature written in European languages is primarily a creative translation process Recourse to European languages as a medium of expressing African imagination worldview and cultures in fictional writing poses problems of intelligibility Developed to express and reflect Western worldviews and sensibilities European languages are employed by African writers to convey messages that seem to be at variance with European imagination These writers find themselves writing in languages they wish to subvert through the technique of literary indigenization The significance of this study resides in its raising awareness to the hurdles that literary creativity in a polyglossic context may present to readers and translators This book provides answers to intriguing questions centering on the problematic of translation in contemporary African literature It is a contribution to current research aimed at unraveling the conundrum surrounding the language question in African Europhone fiction particularly the cultural functions of translation in literature Potential translation problems have to be addressed in order to make African literature written in European languages intelligible to global readership With the advent of globalization transcultural communication has become an activity of enormous importance to the international community It is a subject of great interest to translators linguists language instructors and literary theorists      Decolonizing Translation Kathryn Batchelor,2014-04-08 The linguistically innovative aspect of Francophone African literature has been recognized and studied from a variety of angles over recent decades yet little attention has been paid to what happens to such literature when it is translated into another language Taking as its corpus all sub Saharan Francophone African texts that have ever been published in English this book explores the ways in which translators approach innovative features such as African language borrowings neologisms and other deliberate manipulations of French depictions of sociolinguistic variation and a variety of types of wordplay The implications of their translation decisions are drawn out with reference to the broader significances that are often accorded to postcolonial literature and earlier critics calls for a decolonized translation practice are explored from both a practical and theoretical angle These findings are used to push towards a detailed investigation of the postcolonial turn in translation studies drawing on the work of key postcolonial theorists such as Homi K Bhabha and Gayatri Spivak This is a timely and incisive critical assessment of contemporary discourses on the ethics and politics of translation      Shaken Wisdom Gloria Nne Onyeoziri,2011-09-13 In her focus on irony and meaning in postcolonial African fiction Gloria Nne Onyeoziri refers to an internal subversion of the discourse of the wise and the powerful a practice that has played multiple roles in the circulation of knowledge authority and opinion within African communities in the interpretation of colonial and postcolonial experience and in the ongoing resistance to tyrannies in African societies But irony is always reversible and may be used to question the oppressed as well as the oppressor shaking all presumptions of wisdom Although the author cites numerous African writers she selects six works by Chinua Achebe Ahmadou Kourouma and Calixthe Beyala for her primary analysis Modern Language Initiative      The African Palimpsest Chantal Zabus,2007-01-01 Uniting a sense of the political dimensions of language appropriation with a serious yet accessible linguistic terminology The African Palimpsest examines the strategies of indigenization whereby West African writers have made their literary English or French distinctively African Through the apt metaphor of the palimpsest a surface that has been written on written over partially erased and written over again the book examines such well known West African writers as Achebe Armah Ekwensi Kourouma Okara Saro Wiwa Soyinka and Tutuola as well as lesser known writers from francophone and anglophone Africa Providing a great variety of case studies in Nigerian Pidgin Akan Igbo Maninka Yoruba Wolof and other African languages the book also clarifies the vital interface between Europhone African writing and the new outlets for African artistic expression in auto translation broadcast television radio and film      The Sequential Dynamics of Narrative Ken Ireland,2001 Building on critical theories of narrative this study analyses temporal and continuity relations in fiction      Subversive Traditions Jonathon Repinecz,2019-10-01 How can traditions be subversive The kinship between African traditions and novels has been under debate for the better part of a century but the conversation has stagnated because of a slowness to question the terms on which it is based orality vs writing tradition vs modernity epic vs novel These rigid binaries were in fact invented by colonialism and cemented by postcolonial identity politics Thanks to this entrenched paradigm far too much ink has been poured into the so called Great Divide between oral and writing societies and to the long lamented decline of the ways of old Given advances in social science and humanities research studies in folklore performance invented traditions colonial and postcolonial ethnography history and pop culture the moment is right to rewrite this calcified literary history This book is not another story of subverted traditions but of subversive ones West African epics like Sunjata Samori and Lat Dior offer a space from which to think about and criticize the issues of today just as novels in European languages do Through readings of documented performances and major writers like Yambo Ouologuem and Amadou Hamp t B of Mali Ahmadou Kourouma of Ivory Coast and Aminata Sow Fall and Boubacar Boris Diop of Senegal this book conducts an entirely new analysis of West African oral epic and its relevance to contemporary world literature

State/Society Gilbert Shang Ndi,2017 In this remarkably meticulous work Gilbert Shang Ndi succeeds in bringing together the aesthetic and political dimensions of the texts and in broadening interpretative perspectives in very convincing analyses Each author is handled in his peculiarity and the theoretical ambitions of the project contribute to fruitful and innovative readings of major African literature texts by Ngugi wa Thiong o Ahmadou Kourouma Ayi Kwei Armah and Sony Labou Tansi Prof Xavier Garnier U de Paris Sorbonne III This title is based on a Dissertation Series Contributions in African Research Beitr ge zur Afrikaforschung Vol 77 Subject African Studies Literary Criticism

Bakhtinian Explorations of Indian Culture Lakshmi Bandlamudi,E. V. Ramakrishnan,2018-02-11 This volume an important contribution to dialogic and Bakhtin studies shows the natural fit between Bakhtin s ideas and the pluralistic culture of India to a global academic audience It is premised on the fact that long before principles of dialogism took shape in the Western world these ideas though not labelled as such were an integral part of intellectual histories in India Bakhtin s ideas and intellectual traditions of India stand under the same banner of plurality open endedness and diversity of languages and social speech types and therefore the affinity between the thinker and the culture seems natural Rather than being a mechanical import of Bakhtin s ideas it is an occasion to reclaim reactivate and reenergize inherent dialogicality in the Indian cultural historical and philosophical histories Bakhtin is not an incidental figure for he offers precise analytical tools to make sense of the incredibly complex differences at every level in the cultural life of India Indian heterodoxy lends well to a Bakhtinian reading and analysis and the papers herein attest to this The papers range from how ideas from Indo European philology reached Bakhtin through a circuitous route to responses to Bakhtin s thought on the carnival from the philosophical perspectives of Abhinavagupta to a Bakhtinian reading of literary texts from India The volume also includes an essay on translation as dialogue an issue central to multilingual cultures and on inherent dialogicality in the long intellectual traditions in India

Reading Communities Oana Panaïté,2016-08-17 This volume is the product of a long term collaboration between French and American scholars who share a common preoccupation with reading canonical and contemporary works of literature and cinema in a theoretical and pedagogical context. It offers a multipolar approach informed by different historical, thematic, aesthetic, philosophical and formal perspectives that allows for a more complete and nuanced understanding of the complex relations between artists and works commonly separated by disciplinary boundaries. The chapters cover a variety of literary genres and artistic forms such as the novel (Madame de Lafayette, Gustave Flaubert, André Weckmann, Ahmadou Kourouma, Calixthe Beyala) and Amélie Nothomb's poetry, Charles Baudelaire's theater, Aimé Césaire, Anne Hébert's aphorism, Blaise Pascal's essay, André Breton's manifesto, Émile Zola and film (François Truffaut, Ousmane Sembène) while also drawing parallels to works in other languages such as English and German in order to highlight the translingual and intercultural dimensions of the artistic process. Cet ouvrage fruit d'une collaboration entre universitaires français et américains comportant aussi une dimension pédagogique propose un nouveau cadre pour articuler, partir de perspectives diverses, un dialogue critique historique, thématique, philosophique et formel entre les œuvres classiques et contemporaines françaises et francophones. Consacré principalement à la production de langue française et reposant sur un corpus représentatif qui rassemble roman (Madame de Lafayette, Gustave Flaubert, André Weckmann, Ahmadou Kourouma, Calixthe Beyala) et Amélie Nothomb poésies, Charles Baudelaire théâtre, Aimé Césaire, Anne Hébert aphorisme, Blaise Pascal essai, André Breton manifeste, Émile Zola et cinéma (François Truffaut, Ousmane Sembène), le recueil inclut aussi des références aux classiques des autres littératures afin de mieux faire ressortir les dimensions translinguistiques et interculturelles des pratiques de création et de réception.
