others emerge from Narayan's absorbing tales about food and the solemn and quirky customs that surround it Diasporic Tastescapes Paula Torreiro Pazo, 2016 Diasporic Tastescapes seeks to explore the culinary metaphors present in a selection of Asian American narratives written by a variety of contemporary authors. The intricate web of culinary motifs featured in these texts offers a fertile ground for the study of the real and imaginary histories of the Asian American community, an ethnic minority that has been persistently racialized through its eating habits. Thus, this book examines those literary contexts in which the presence of food images becomes especially meaningful as an indicator of the nostalgia of the immigrant, the sense of community of the diasporic family, the clash between generations and the shocks of arrival and return. The reading of Asian American edible metaphors from these perspectives will prove particularly revealing in relation to the notions of home, identity and belonging, all of them mainstays of the diasporic consciousness. Series: Contributions to Asian American Literary Studies Vol. 8 Subject: Asian American Literature Literary Criticism Salman Rushdie in the Cultural Marketplace Ana Cristina Mendes, 2016-03-23 Taking up the roles that Salman Rushdie himself has assumed as a cultural broker, gatekeeper and mediator in various spheres of public production, Ana Cristina Mendes situates his work in terms of the contemporary production, circulation and consumption of postcolonial texts within the workings of the cultural industries. Mendes pays particular attention to Rushdie as a public performer across various creative platforms, not only as a novelist and short story writer but also as a public intellectual, reviewer and film critic. Mendes argues that how a postcolonial author becomes personally and professionally enmeshed in the dealings of the cultural industries is of particular relevance at a time when the market is strictly regulated by a few multinational corporations. She contends that marginality should not be construed exclusively as a basis for understanding Rushdie's work, since a critical grounding in marginality will predictably involve a reproduction of the traditional postcolonial binaries of oppressor/oppressed and colonizer/colonized, that the writer subverts. Rather, she seeks to expand existing interpretations of Rushdie's work, itineraries and frameworks in order to take into account the actual conditions of postcolonial cultural production and circulation within a marketplace that is global in both orientation and effects Will Write for Food Dianne Jacob, 2015-07-14 The go-to soup-to-nuts guide on how to really make money from food writing, both in print and online.
