Late medieval Christians lived in a world of visions but they knew that not all visions came from God angels demons illness nature or passion could also inspire an apparent divine visitation During the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries the involvement of visionaries in everything from reform movements to military campaigns to papal schisms raised the political and spiritual stakes of determining whether or not a vision was truly from God In response a diverse group of medieval thinkers including men and women clergy and laity visionaries and theologians gradually began to transform the loose patristic readings of Pauline discretio spirituum into a system with the potential to distinguish between true and false visions and between genuine and delusional visionaries Wendy Love Anderson chronicles the historical political and spiritual struggles behind the flowering of late medieval mysticism and what came to be seen as the Christian doctrine of discernment of spirits Getting to Know the Church Fathers Bryan M. ## Propheten und Prophezeiungen

Matthias Riedl, Tilo Schabert, 2005

Israel, the Church, and Millenarianism Steven D. Aguzzi, 2017-07-28 Since the calls of the Second Vatican Council Roman Catholic theologians have sought to overcome an overarching problem facing Jewish Christian relations the concept of supersessionism the idea that God has revoked the spiritual and historical promises made to the Jewish people in favour of granting those same privileges to a predominantly Gentile Church Israel the Church and Millenarianism breaks new ground by applying an ancient principle to the problem of Israel's replacement the early Church's promotion of millennialism Utilizing the best in Patristic research Aguzzi argues that these earliest Christian traditions made room for the future of Israel because Christ's reign in the Church was viewed as provisional to his historical reign on earth Israel's role in salvation history was and is not yet complete Aguzzi's research also opens the door for a greater Catholic understanding of the millennial principle not shying away from its validity and relevance for understanding the importance of safeguarding Jewish particularity while concluding that the Synagogue and the Church are indeed on a diversely corresponding to the diversity among Christian groups of which some later came to be perceived as heretical. Remains of art, architecture and texts from these contexts were discussed in two conferences gathering scholars who are excellent within their respective fields: text studies, studies of rites, archaeology, architecture, history of art and cultural anthropology.
