Recent Publications on Governmental Problems, 1984 Individual Choice and Economic Growth George Bush, 1990 Preparing Today's Students for Tomorrow's Jobs in Metropolitan America Laura W. Perna, 2012-10-29 Education long the key to opportunity in the United States has become simply essential to earning a decent living. By 2018, 63 percent of all jobs will require at least some postsecondary education or training. Teachers and civic leaders stress the value of study through high school and beyond, but to an alarmingly large segment of America's population, including a disproportionate number of ethnic and racial minorities, higher education seems neither obtainable nor relevant. Preparing Today's Students for Tomorrow's Jobs in Metropolitan America, edited by Laura W. Perna, offers useful insights into how to bridge these gaps and provide urban workers with the educational qualifications and skills they need for real-world jobs. Preparing Today's Students for Tomorrow's Jobs in Metropolitan America probes more deeply than recent reports on the misalignment between workers' training and employers' requirements. Written by researchers in education and urban policy, this volume takes a comprehensive approach. It informs our understanding of the measurement and definition of the learning required by employers. It examines the roles that different educational sectors and providers play in workforce readiness. It analyzes the institutional practices and public policies that promote the educational preparation of today's students for tomorrow's jobs. The volume also sheds light on several recurring questions, such as what is the right amount of education and what should be the relative emphasis on general versus specific or occupational education and training. Ensuring that today's students have the education and training to meet future career demands is critical to the economic and social well-being of individuals, cities, and the nation as a whole. With recommendations for institutional leaders and public policymakers, as well as future research, this volume takes important steps toward realizing this goal.

True Self, True Wealth Peter Cole, Daisy Reese, 2007-10-02 True wealth requires more than just a healthy bank account. True Self, True Wealth takes a holistic approach to working with money by offering an inspirational and practical guide to developing self-knowledge and spiritual maturity along with material wealth and financial security. The emerging field of neuroeconomics confirms that our emotions are a primary influence on our economic choices. Authors Peter Cole and Daisy Reese offer a revolutionary approach to improving your economic status by identifying your own Money Script, a distinctive approach to understanding and working with personal money issues. The ten money scripts teach how to reconstruct a healthy prosperous relationship to finances that ensures an abundant secure future for yourself and your family Inspiring quotes from spiritual teachers and financial gurus entertaining exercises and illustrative examples a helpful outline of a financial journey toward security and happiness as well as practical and comprehensive financial planning for a lifetime provide the tools necessary for traveling the path to true wealth

Land Economics ,1948 14-18 - A New Vision for Secondary Education Kenneth Baker,2013-01-24 Former Secretary of State for Education Kenneth Baker claims that secondary education has become a five year programme with a single narrow aim to prepare pupils for high stakes GCSE exams at 16 From 2015 all young people will be legally required to stay in education or training until they are 18 Kenneth Baker sees this as a historic opportunity to re think the aims and structure of English education He argues that the National Curriculum should extend only to the age of 14 and that there should be four distinct pathways from 14 18 to take account of young people s emerging interests talents and ambitions Liberal Arts Technical Sports and Creative Arts and Career All pathways will provide a broad education but each will have a distinctive character matched to the talents and ambitions of individual students In 14 18 A New Vision for Secondary Education Kenneth Baker builds a compelling case for reform with contributions from a range of educationalists who draw on the history of English education practice elsewhere in the world and their experiences An essential read for anyone interested in the future of secondary education Leadership in Independent Africa, Six Decades On Kofi Anani,2024-02-22 In this open access book Kofi Anani finds ways forward through the Blended Representation Principle BRP which stipulates that power be shared between leaders selected on the basis of Western democratic ideals and leaders chosen on the basis of traditional African norms and conventions Drawing on his research and professional experience Anani shows how incorporating the BRP into African leadership and governance thinking would encourage more voluntary public participation in politics guarantee transparency and accountability in decision making particularly when it comes to the use of public resources and ultimately encourage more public confidence in leaders Anani also provides concrete suggestions for how to achieve all this not through quick fixes but rather through educational campaigns directed at public officials and through new communities of learning and practice designed to champion the BRP in villages schools workplaces places of worship and other social organizations This book is a must read for all scholars and students of postcolonial governance and leadership and it is of keen interest to anyone concerned with how Western style state making might ultimately find a balance with other indigenous modes of social organization The ebook editions of this book are available open access under a CC BY NC ND 4 0 licence on bloomsburycollections.com Open access was funded by the Bloomsbury Open Collections Library Collective The 8 Pathways to Financial Success Robert Buechner,2004 Making College Work Harry J. Holzer,Sandy Baum,2017-08-15 Practical solutions for improving higher education opportunities for disadvantaged students Too many disadvantaged college students in America do not complete their coursework or receive any college credential while others earn degrees or certificates with little labor market value Large numbers of these students also struggle to pay for college and some incur debts that they have difficulty repaying The authors provide a new review of the causes of these problems and offer promising policy solutions The circumstances affecting disadvantaged students stem both from issues on the individual side such as weak academic preparation and financial pressures and from institutional failures Low income students disproportionately attend schools that are underfunded and have weak performance incentives contributing to unsatisfactory outcomes for many students Some solutions including better financial aid or academic supports target individual students Other solutions such as stronger linkages between coursework and the labor market and more structured paths through the curriculum are aimed at institutional reforms All students and particularly those from disadvantaged backgrounds also need better and varied pathways both to college and directly to the job market beginning in high school We can improve college outcomes but must also acknowledge that we must make hard choices and face difficult tradeoffs in the process While no single policy is guaranteed to greatly improve college and career outcomes implementing a number of evidence based policies and programs together has the potential to improve these outcomes substantially
